Being a form advisor is no easy job, no matter from what angle the job is considered. Not only does the advisor have to unite the innumerable factions and cliques which arise during the traditionally disorganized Fourth Form year into a smoothly running team, but he must also be ready and willing to accept the great number of diversified responsibilities which will be thrown upon him during the three years in which he represents and guides the class.

Mr. Cameron took over the badly disorganized class of '45 at the beginning of their Fourth Form year. To say that the task which loomed before him was insurmountable would do a great injustice to Mr. Cameron's leadership ability, for he went right into the job and after a time conquered it. The war with its attendant psychological mixups greatly complicated the problems of moulding the class into a smoothly running unit, but gradually the difficulties were smoothed out, and by our final year the boys seemed ready to undertake the responsibilities of running the whole school as well as themselves. Again, when threatened breakdowns or minor crises interrupted the general order and routine, Mr. Cameron came to the rescue immediately, listening to both sides of the problem and passing judgment to the satisfaction of everyone concerned.

No matter how far any of us goes, no matter what any of us does after he has left St. Andrews there are some things which we will remember sooner than all others. The fine example of leadership and integrity which Mr. Cameron has given us in his years as our form advisor will remain with us for a very long time.

William H. Cameron
FIVE years ago, eighteen very nervous boys entered St. Andrew’s for the first time. Completely overwhelmed by the mad rush in the corridors, we made our way to the place that was to serve as our home for the coming year—the East Dorm. In the course of that year we spent most of our time trying to avoid upper classmen and get our seemingly impossible jobs done on time. The winter term saw Joe Marshall enter our ranks and in the spring Sam Cummings entered.

The next year the group changed very much. It met in the South Dorm, with Shober and Baker having left for other schools, while Bell and Buckle were again in the Second Form. King, VanDeventer, Dashiel, and Stoddart came to us from the Third Form of last year. New boys were Scheiling, Sage, Hobart, Parsons, Stewart, Shober, Luke, Hahn, McIver, and Perry. We elected Jim Rooney as president. The year was uneventful. We didn’t distinguish ourselves in the eyes of the disciplinary committee, but in scholastic standing we were better. In the field of athletic endeavor we placed boys on all the J.V. sports. As our Fourth Form year rolled around, we all gathered together in the gym. There were many new faces, Flood, Hays, Welling, MacDonald, McFall, and Beard. Old friends had disappeared or had dropped a form. In the gym we all felt really grown up and swaggered around feeling very smart. We elected Bill Hobart president, Marian Dashiell vice-president, and John Cook secretary-treasurer, and settled down to running the school. Mr. Cameron, as our newly appointed form advisor, tried to make us realize that we were not the bosses, but it took experience to make us really become aware of the fact. Although we placed no one on the I.A.C. championship football team, our form was almost entirely responsible for creating a fine school spirit at all times. Tommy King, Joe Marshall, and Lev Lynch were the first of our form to win varsity letters. King got his in basketball, and Lynch and Marshall in wrestling. The spring term saw Nalle and Rooney on the Stokesbury winning eight, and Lynch stroking the scholastic four. Scholastically we did well, some boys being in honor groups all year round. Our disciplinary record, however, was far from good. Certain laws just wouldn’t stop being broken, and the smoking rule was the worst.

When Fifth Form year started, again there were many changes in our form, and as we met for elections we noticed that Hahn, Perry, McIver, Hobart, Dashiel, and Marshall had left our ranks, while Bob Gardner, Cattie Jones, and Jack Rood had come into our midst. At our first meeting Jim Rooney was elected president, with Shober vice-president and King secretary-treasurer. Later on Rooney had the honor of being appointed the first Fifth Form prefect in the school’s history. Great praise must be given him for doing this hard job in such a fine manner.

The fall term passed with only minor difficulties, but still, when we were given our smoking privilege, all those in authority breathed a sigh of relief. Rooney, Stewart, Lynch, Shober, Parsons, and Flood all won football letters, while in the winter term Lev Lynch was elected captain of the wrestling team, with Nalle and Stewart lettermen. In basketball Tommy King was made captain after VanMeter’s departure, and Rooney and Alex Stoddart were both on the first team. In the spring term Rooney was elected crew captain, and rowed once more in the eight, along with Nalle, Stewart and Shober. Once more Lynch stroked the four, and John Cook and Charlie Welling rowed behind him. In baseball King, Dunlevie, Flood, and Stoddart were all on the first team, while Lovell won his tennis letter. We gave our dance on the second weekend of May. With Len Mayfair providing the music, it was judged among the best of all the Fifth Form dances.

This September, when we met for the first time in this our last year at S.A.S., we saw a number of changes. The war had claimed Jerry, Lynch, Stewart, Parsons, and Stoddart. Laws had left for college, while Flood and Thens were at other schools waiting to go into the services. The new boys were Bill Hartm and the Patch twins. By dint of hard work at summer school Jim Bacon, the popular president of the form below us and one of the greatest athletes in the school’s history, had come into our form. The officers of last year, Rooney, Shober, and King were elected by overwhelming majority. Beau Nalle and Jim Bacon were appointed the other prefects and we started out to do our best for the school. After a few weeks we were all pleasantly surprised to have Lev Lynch come back with a six months’ deferment to complete his education. He, with Cook, Rooney, and Nalle, were the only charter members of the form. After the St. Albans’ football game Johnnie Shober, our popular vice-president, left for the Navy and Beau Nalle was elected for the office John vacated. All but two of the regular players on the first team were Sixth Formers and Captain Bacon led us to second place in the I.A.C.

In the winter King and Nalle were basketball and wrestling captains respectively. Under King’s leadership the basketball team won the first I.A.C. basketball championship in the school’s history. The winter dance was a great success. Len Mayfair again providing the music.

And now, all we have to do is pass our final exams, and the year will have been a very good one.

Jim will never be forgotten here, because he has been immortalized by having had “one of the most spectacular athletic records of any boy ever to enter St. Andrew’s.” A three letter man for three straight years, captain of the football team this year, he has been one of the most reliable performers we have seen in every sport he took up.

“Padre,” who, by going to summer school, became a member of the class of ’45 only this year, was president of the class of ’46 for three straight years and this year has been an extremely able praefect.

As senior praefect this year, Jim has done a magnificent job of leading his form and the school in a very good year. He has set an unprecedented example by being a model senior praefect and leader. Jim's athletic accomplishments are many. He was captain of varsity crew this year and has been a three letter man in football, basketball and crew for two years. “The Boss” has led his Form almost undisputedly from its Second Form year, and he won the honor last year of being the only Fifth Form praefect in the history of S.A.S.

A capable actor, he has been in the Criss-Cross plays for years, and was president of the Criss-Cross Club this year.

“Booker” came from playing J.V. football in '42 to the first string varsity last fall, where he earned his letter playing a good tackle in the Red line. He has played squash in the winter and was on the varsity crew this spring.

“Bahoomph,” as he has been called, was alumni editor for the Cardinal this year. He has also been a member of the Acolyte Guild, Library Club and Council.

John, a charter member of the form, has done very well for himself both athletically and scholastically, for he has more than once led the school as an honor student.

“Moldy” started football on the six-man teams and worked up until this fall he played guard on the first varsity team. This winter, instead of playing basketball as usual, he managed the varsity and this spring rowed with the varsity for his second year.

“The Bishop” has also been on publications for years and has been both in the Acolyte Guild and in the choir, besides being an officer of his form in his Fourth Form year.

“Kooch” was a coach of one of the six-man football teams last fall and did a fine job. He went out for squash this year, switching from J.V. basketball, and he is a crew man in the spring.

Phil has also been a great help to the library while he has been here, being on both the Library Staff and Club. Phil has also been in the choir, and we wish him luck at the University of North Carolina.

Turt has played the trumpet in the band for a long time and has also been on publications, altar guild, and was senior store boy this year. We feel sure that Dick’s quiet, likeable personality will help him wherever he goes.

He also played varsity football for two years and was a squash player this year.

But Moses will be long remembered for his wonderful job in the playing of Myra, a sultry gun moll, in the Criss Cross play this year and keeping the audience thoroughly captivated. His fine voice has long been heard in the choir and sometimes even in other places.

Because of his size he was not able to go out for football this fall, so turned to tennis instead. Having gone out for J.V. basketball last year, he did well in squash this winter and went out for tennis in the spring.

But "Baby Face" will best be remembered for his acting in the Criss Cross Club's plays. Last year he played the female lead in "The Canterville Ghost" and this year proved his versatility by doing a fine job playing a tough gangster.

On the second team last year, this year he moved up to first string center and played a very able and aggressive game.

“Fierp’s” tennis in the fall has shown that he is on his way to a probable place on the tennis team this spring, while during the winter he worked hard on the varsity wrestling squad and showed that he had lots of ability in that sport.

During the year Bill sang a good tenor in the choir and was a member of the Acolyte Guild.

“Pillar” played a good guard on the varsity football team last fall, directed the riding squad in the winter and rowed in the spring.

“The Hewl” was student librarian this year and has always done a truly fine job for the library. He also erected an excellent stage set for the Criss Cross Club’s winter play, and is a member of the Yacht Club, Choir, Criss Cross Club, and was crucifer this year.

Hampered for a time by an injury, he has now proved himself to be an excellent athlete, for he was captain of the I.A.C. baseball team this year and made a record number of points. He was a fine end in football and a very good infielder in baseball.

Among Tommy's other accomplishments are the facts that he was secretary-treasurer of the class for two years, member of the Criss Cross Club, Library Staff and Vestry.

Everyone received a pleasant surprise last fall when Lev, who had left S.A.S. supposedly for good last year, came back with a six-month deferment, which enabled him to play football. He was a very good back, and played almost the whole of every game of the season. Always a good wrestler, being captain of last year's team, he could only stay for two of the matches before leaving again in February.

He was also a member of the Yacht Club; and played the trumpet in the band and dance band.

Beau, a fine athlete and one of the most popular boys in the school, was the first boy ever to win the Malcolm Ford Scholarship. Captain of the wrestling team this year, a three letterman, and a very powerful lineman on the football team, he also was in the varsity eight for three years.

He is an old trouper, whose marvelous performances on the stage for the Criss Cross Club will long be remembered, and is also commodore of the Yacht Club this year.

Beau has also made a very excellent praefect this year.

Because Danny came to S.A.S. as a Sixth Former, he has not had the time to distinguish himself greatly here, but he has done well. He was on the squash ladder last winter, and was manager of the varsity crew this spring, doing a fine job.

Last winter he had the job of being prompter for the Criss Cross play and did it very well, becoming a member of the Criss Cross Club. His services to the publications were also valuable, for he was the secretary of that organization and worked very hard.

He and his twin brother, Dick, have been extremely popular here at St. Andrew's, and we feel that they will be received heartily at Yale next year.

Dick's late entry into the Class of '45 has prevented him from establishing an outstanding record in the school's activities. But he has worked hard here, and has been very well liked by all. Also, his service as advertising manager of the publications has been very commendable.

Last fall he was out for tennis and during the winter played squash, while in the spring he is going out for crew and ought to do very well.

A member of one of the only pairs of twins to come here. Dick will be remembered for his likeable disposition and winning nature.

Although Jack, who came here only last year as a Fifth Former, has not had time to build up a large record, he nevertheless has become very well liked and will long be remembered as being one of the best cartoonists that we have ever had here at S.A.S. The whole school has at one time or another laughed over “Cheest's” truly wonderful cartoons, which he can whip off at a moment’s notice.

“Cheestie” started out on J.V. football last year, and this winter and last he was on the varsity wrestling squad, while in the spring he has always been a tennis man. Jack was also a member of the Library Council this year.

Bob, being one of the lighter members of the form, has not been outstanding in athletics, but he has been very valuable in more than one activity, especially to publications. He was photographer for the yearbook last year and a great many of his pictures appear in the book. He has also been a member of the Library Club and an old member of the Photography Club.

“Diz” started out in J.V. football and has been on both J.V. basketball and baseball squads, while for the last winter he was a squash man and was out for crew this spring.

We wish Bob lots of luck at Princeton next fall.

“Bedford” will be remembered as being a good athlete, and although the lightest man in the varsity eight last year, made the position in his first year out. He also played first string end in football for two years, and did a fine job.

Johnny was also secretary-treasurer for the Criss Cross Club last year; student librarian; and vice-president of the class in his Fifth Form year.

“Zoom,” a tennis player in the fall, has been number one on the squash ladder all winter, while this spring he will move up from his last year’s position in the four, to the varsity eight.
Charlie was vice-commodore of the Yacht Club, and one of its outstanding members this year. A good rifleman, he has been the vice-president of the Rifle Club, and was a member of the stage crew of the Criss Cross Club’s winter play, becoming a club member this spring.

To look at Davie one would never guess that such a small boy could have such a capable brain. Davie is one of the youngest boys ever to graduate from S.A.S. He came in the Second Form and since then has made an enviable scholastic record.
Being of too slight stature to participate in any major sports, he has nevertheless been a member of all the light football teams, and of the squash and crew squad. In his Fifth Form year, he was captain of a victorious six man team, and this year, he coached a six man team with great ability.
He also played the trumpet in both the march band and the dance band, and was for a time in the choir.

Class Prophecy

The other day, while unpacking my World War Two uniform to show to my son, I ran across a yellowed edition of the “Middletown Banquo-American.” Upon seeing that the publisher was my good friend Jimmy Rooney, I took the paper downstairs to have a closer look.

On the front page was Scoop Schelling’s somewhat blurred picture of Bill Hays, the successful revenue agent who had single-handedly cleaned up a group of Kentucky moonshiners. Bill had accidentally arrested the famous scientist, John Cook, who later proved that his experiments on fermentation were only concerned with penicillin and other types of mold. Glancing over the headlines, I saw where Beaufort Nalle, owner of a large fleet of tugboats, had prevented a major catastrophe one stormy night by substituting for a foghorn on one of his boats. Although Beaufort’s ship had narrowly missed Admiral McFall’s private yacht, the only damage inflicted was by the shrapnel of exploding beer bottles. Further down the page was an article on “The Preservation of the Reservation.” On studying it more closely, I found it to be an appeal by Gattie Jones on behalf of the Seminole Indian movement. Doug Lovell, famed bee-keeper, has since solved the problem by magnanimously offering Gattie a part of the valley to be devoted exclusively to our red-skinned brethren.

Turning the page, I was confronted by the headline “Girls Mob Mayor and Pull His Hair.” Somewhat startled by this, I read the account of the story and learned that a swarm of hobby-sockers, who had been listening to swooner-crooner Dwight Dunlevie, had jumped up in the middle of the show to fondle the flowing beard of Mayor Bacon of Laurel. When asked for a statement, Jim mumbled something about how he wished girls would let him alone and hurried off. His beard, incidentally, had been trimmed in one of the Patch twins’ nationwide beauty parlors.

A political cartoon at the bottom of the page caught my attention and imagine my delight in recognizing it to be one of Jack Rood’s. Jack had caricatured Minority Leader Beard of the House delivering an eloquent speech on the race problem. Beside this, below an advertisement for King’s Sun Tan Oil, was a short article on Phil Couch’s winning a jitterbug contest. Phil, it seems, has turned into quite a cat.

I was about to skip over the third page, which was devoted entirely to advertising, when I was stopped by a heavenly physique posing for an underwear ad. Naturally I wasn’t a bit surprised when closer observation proved the model to be Lev Lynch. Beside an advertisement for Gardner’s Baby Food was a picture of a can of Lush Tomato Juice together with a picture of the manufacturer. Something about the chin looked familiar, and sure enough, it was my old friend Ted Libby.

On the back page was a feature article on airplane manufacturer Charlie Welling’s new rocket-propelled flying belt. Charlie modestly said that he couldn’t have possibly done it if it had not been for engineer Bill Howlett’s efficient invention of the vacuum suction pump. A shorter article on the latest novelty, “Bob Gimler’s Singing Chickens”, caught my attention. Bob feeds them a secret formula of camphor, especially prepared for him by moth-ball magnate Bill Hearn.

In the movie column, I noticed a favorable write-up on leading man Dick Davis, who had successfully and realistically played in “The Voice of the Turtle”. Further down the column I noticed that Johnny Shober, star of “The Day After the Mardi Gras”, had played the hangover scene so well that he was immediately signed for “Southern Comfort”. After a look at Dave Witteford’s weather forecast, I put the paper down and toddled off to bed, assured that the Class of ’45 had in every way distinguished itself.
The Fifth Form

This year we of the Fifth Form feel that at last we have made a name for ourselves as a responsible class. We have in our earlier years gone through a transitory stage, gradually maturing into a form capable of assuming the leadership of the school which we must undertake next year. The form officers, President Dave Bellis, Vice-President Jim Perry, and Secretary-Treasurer Don Haynsworth, must receive great thanks for their efforts on behalf of the form, especially President Dave Bellis, who saw the form's need of a leader and did a superb job in filling that position.

Scholastically our form has made an excellent showing. Rare is the marking period when we have had no first grouper. Second and third groups have always claimed at least a quarter of the form. We feel proud of our achievements in this field and only hope we can maintain our record next year.

On the athletic fields the form has done equally as well, having Captain Jim Perry of the baseball team, three lettermen in football, four in baseball, four in basketball, two in wrestling, four in tennis, and as yet an undetermined number in crew. We all look forward to next year, confident that we can and will do our best in the demanding position of Sixth Formers. Though we have made mistakes, we possess the strong desire to surpass the excellent records that have been made by our predecessors.

Dick entered St. Andrew’s as a Second Former, and ever since then has had a very colorful career here. In former times he was the butt of a good many jokes, but he was always good natured about them, and through the boisterous good humor and sportsmanship for which he is noted, Dick has taken his place this year with the best of them. Always a hard worker, Dick was the printer of the “Cardinal News Letter” and, although never noted for his fine spelling, he did a very faithful job. He is also a member of the Library Club and Staff.

Jim has made an excellent athletic record for himself here at S.A.S. Few Fifth Formers have done so much. Jim was captain of the baseball team while still in his Fourth Form year, and was not only an “ace” shortstop, but pitched several games and did a swell job. He was a sixty minute man in the football backfield this year and his blocking and long end runs will be remembered for a long time.

“Melon” was also the vice-president of the Fifth Form this year and did an excellent job in leading the form. But some say that Jim will be even longer remembered for some of those hard-earned dentist week-ends.

Next year everyone will miss Norm very much, for, though he has not been able to make an athletically great record, he will be remembered as being one of the leaders of his form, and surely among the best liked by all. Vague references to Chestnut Hill parties will be going around for some time—and Norm's name with them.

"Skip's" drumming for the dance band will be missed too, for his hot solos were nothing short of jazz perfection.

Norm is a squash and tennis man from way back, and he is very good at both of these. He was on the upper rungs of the squash ladder all winter and last year, on the tennis team, he was undefeated in outside competition.

Everyone was very disappointed when Chuck had to leave school for the Navy at the beginning of the winter term. He was one of the best basketball players we have seen here in a long time, and was also one of the best first basemen the baseball team has had in years. In his Third Form year "Sleepy" won the Junior Batting Prize.

Chuck's likeable personality was always a source of pleasure to his formmates, and his slow, easy manner always made him one of the most popular boys in the form, and one whose absence was felt very much.
The Fourth Form

In the fall of 1942, the new Second Form, consisting of eighteen boys, entered St. Andrews School. All that year we dodged Sixth Formers, carried wood, and spent our Saturday afternoons working off marks. Francis Giammattei led the form, but, as we were very new, it was not a very successful year.

In our Third Form year we elected Mr. Schmilze as form advisor, who, with President Frank Giammattei, managed the form very well. We were handicapped exceedingly, however, due to a great number of new boys arriving, and we were never united until the form had been weeded out. The year's scholastic record had improved much over that of the previous year, but our conduct record was very bad. The form that year consisted of 42 boys, 30 of which were new.

This year, even though the class of 1947 has been divided between the gym and the main building, we are still more united as a form under our officers, who are William MacDowell, president, Timm Mann, vice-president, and Giammattei, secretary-treasurer. As our new form advisor, we have elected Mr. Holder, in whom we have great confidence. The conduct record is still very poor, and with a little effort it could be made much better. The scholastic record is, on the whole, rather good, for the class has often led the school. The new smoking rule has also cut down on the breaking of that rule.

However, we feel that next year, as the form will be together on the corridor, we can begin to undertake our duty of eventually leading the school.
THE Third Form, having been here only a year, has not really become fully adjusted to the ways of the school. Somehow they can't seem to get to meals on time, and somehow the lights in that South Dorm get broken a little more than would seem necessary.

But the form has also made a positive contribution to the school. Connerat has always been an honor student, while some of the others were outstanding in the junior sports. This year the officers were: Cornell, president; Gibson, vice-president; Adams, secretary-treasurer.

THE Second Form was put in the South Dorm with the Third Form this year, and as a consequence is a bit disorganized, but we feel that they have had the weight to pull together, so to speak. The form has some remarkably large members in its ranks this year, and the form has gotten away with being very saucy to the upper forms, much more than ever before. When a Second Former snaps back some lively remark to a poor prefector like Nalle, he can only growl and mutter that they never would have gotten away with it in "the old days." They wouldn't have, either. We feel that the form has almost more than held its own this year.
Athletics
THE 1944 football season was a successful and memorable one. Last September, with four lettermen returning and a fair amount of material on hand, a reasonably bright season was anticipated. The prospects were made even brighter with Lev Lynch's unexpected return, bringing the total up to five lettermen.

On October sixth, the Cardinals journeyed up to Wilmington for the opening game and, because of an inexperienced line, only tied Tower Hill 7-7. It was very unfortunate, but the team gained valuable experience.

Next week, on the 17th, S.A.S. played their first I.A.C. game, and with a lot more confidence and fight, easily smashed out a 34-7 victory over Baltimore Friends. Dave Bellis and Captain Jim Bacon each scored twice, while Jim Perry countered once. The game was marked by an effective passing attack and a smashing ground attack on the part of St. Andrew's, and showed some of the potential power which the team possessed.

On October 27, playing their second league game of the season, the S.A.S. eleven had little trouble in defeating a scrappy Wilmington Friends team here by a score of 7-0. In the last few minutes of the second period, Dave Bellis threw a twenty-five yard screen pass to Tom King, who, behind perfect downfield blocking, went over for the touchdown. Jim Rooney place-kicked the extra point concluding the scoring.

The St. Andrew's eleven succeeded in winning the third straight I.A.C. game by defeating Landon 12-6. The game was possibly the hardest fought of the season. Dave Bellis and Lev Lynch led the team in a very exciting last six minutes to smash over the two scores.

On November tenth S.A.S. suffered its only league defeat at the hands of a heavier St. Albans' team 13-0. Scoring in both the first and second periods, St. Albans jumped out in front and managed to keep its lead throughout the remaining half of the game. Although hard pressed by a driving Red team, which penetrated the St. Albans' ten-yard line three times.

At Hagerstown, Md., the varsity easily won its final game over St. James on November 18 by a score of 24-0. Jim Perry, Jim Bacon, and Jim Rooney were scorers in what was the highest scoring game of the year.

Although St. Andrew's did not win the I.A.C. championship as was hoped, the impressive string of victories stands as evidence to the fact that the season was a good one. Again, full credit should be given to Mr. Hagerty in his excellent job of converting a group of young, inexperienced boys into a smoothly running team.

Outstanding performers of the 1944 season were veteran Captain Jim Bacon and Captain-elect Dave Bellis.
The 1945 Basketball Team is unique in that it is the first St. Andrew's basketball team to win the I.A.C. Championship. It also succeeded in winning ten out of its fourteen games, a fact which made it the best basketball club ever to be seen at S.A.S.

On the 16th of January, the Saints started the season by defeating a weaker Smyrna team 31-20, but dropped the next 36-43 to Fort Du Pont, whose men were naturally a lot older and more experienced. On the 19th of January, the Big Red lost its next game to Tower Hill due to a tight zone defense on the small court at that school. The following week the team nosed out Landon 24-20 in the first I.A.C. game. This was followed up by our victory over Baltimore Friends 29-24. However, on the sixth of February the courtmen were defeated by Wilmington Friends 34-36 in a very close and exciting game. But after this game the team really hit its stride, winning seven straight, St. James being the first, 45-26. The boys next traveled to Boy's Latin on the 14th of February and succeeded in defeating this team 27-26 in a very tight game, making the 4th I.A.C. victory. On February 16 Sanford fell before the Red team with a score of 37-30. This was followed by our defeat of Wilmington Friends 39-26, a game which clinched the championship for St. Andrew's. In the next three games S.A.S. triumphed over Tower Hill (44-29); Smyrna (28-24); and William Penn (34-24). Unfortunately, the courtmen dropped the last contest (25-16) in a very close and hard-fought game to St. Paul's, Baltimore City champions.

The team was well captained by King and Bacon. King was high scorer and broke the school's scoring record with a total of 140 points for the season. The team was a well co-ordinated and spirited organization, whose members were King, Bellis, Bacon, Rooney, Keep, Perry, Keyes, and Hughes.
The Wrestling Team this year won one of its four matches. With five letter-men returning, Captain Nalle, Lynch, Beach, Williams, and A. Humphries, the team started off the season by losing to a far superior Lawrenceville team, 36-6. The Red Team next travelled up to Penn Charter and was nosed out, 24-16. The grapplers then defeated Baltimore Friends, 14-3; and two weeks later finished up the season with a 34-0 shut-out from George School.

In the heavyweight class, Pete McCagg, in his first year out, showed himself to be a very promising prospect for next year, though he lost both of his matches. Captain Beau Nalle at 175, through hard luck, lost both of his matches; however, much credit should be given him in doing a swell job as Captain. Frank Stoner, another green man, showed a lot of fight in the 165-pound class, though he lost both his matches. In the 155-pound class, Levin Lynch, one of the mainstays of the team, unfortunately, due to his departure for the Army, could only wrestle two matches. Alvin Humphries, though he was a letterman last year, only managed to win one out of four matches in the 145-pound class. Bobby Beach, who was probably the best wrestler the Saints had this year, was able to win two out of four matches at 138; while Williams, in the 133-pound class, turned in the best average by winning two out of his three matches. Eddie Wright, a first-year man, showed much promise for next year at 128, but managed to win only one of his four matches, and Joe Mamo, another one of the better wrestlers on the team, due to very stiff competition in the 121-pound class, won only one out of three. Though Mike Humphries lost all of his matches at 112, he is very encouraging for next year’s team. In the 103 and 95-pound classes, Connerat and Herndon, respectively, because of age and inexperience, were defeated in every match; however, these two boys will both be on hand next year and will prove useful.

Crew ’44

In 1944 St. Andrew’s crews met some of their stiffest competition. As a result, out of 6 races, we got but one first and 5 seconds.

In the last few weeks of the winter term, when Coach Holder started rowing on the machines, seven lettermen reported for action. These lettermen elected Fifth Former, James Rooney, captain.

After the spring vacation, we all settled down to real hard work, in preparation for the first race. After a few weeks of much tentative boating, the following won seats in the eight: Bacon—bow, Stewart—2, Shober—3, Nalle—4, Crump—5, Brownlee—6, Rooney (Capt.)—7, Parker—stroke. The boat averaged about 168-70 pounds. The four had Davis—bow, Welling—2, Cook—3, Lynch—stroke. This group averaged about 155.

The first race, in eights, against Roman Catholic, saw our 1st and 2nd fours combined together as a “pickle boat.” Rowing a 3/4 mile race, the Saints won easily by about 3 lengths, coming within 1/2 a second of the 3/4 mile record set against the Penn 50’s the year before. After several more weeks’ intensive work, the eight journeyed down to Annapolis to take on the Plebe crew. Although outweighed about 10 pounds, the Andreans turned in one of the best, if not the best, race of the year. Rowing above a 36 the whole way, compared to Navy’s 32, we managed to stick within a length of the first boat and beat by several lengths the second and third boats.

In Philadelphia for the annual Stotesbury and King Cup regatta, on May 27, the Saints were completely blanked. The eight suffered a severe blow when the shell they had borrowed developed a bad check. The actual race was fairly close, and while excuses always seem in bad taste, it is entirely within the range of the imagination that the Saints might have won if they had been fresh and less tired. The King’s Cup four ran against one of the finest fours that has appeared on the river in some years. The West Catholic boys were a sight to watch. In perfect time the whole way, they had the race pretty much as they wished, except the last quarter mile, when Lynch put up the stroke and closed in a few lengths. Northeast was a poor third.

In the ensuing week, the Saints traveled to Philadelphia for the Interscholastics. The four, with Cook—bow, Welling—2, McGagg—3, and Lynch—stroke, rowed against a fine four from Wyandotte High, Detroit, and came in a very close second, with Northeast third and Grosse Pointe fourth. The eight rowed against Grosse Poine High from Detroit, LaFayette High, Buffalo, Roman Catholic, and Northeast Catholic. After getting off to a poor third on the start, the Saints closed in on the Buffalo boys, passed them in the last quarter mile and almost caught the Grosse Pointers.
Because the 1944 St. Andrews Tennis Team played only three of the scheduled eight matches, the season was not a particularly impressive one. Match after match was called off due to conditions of weather and other factors.

On May 6th the Saints journeyed up to George School and entered a tournament with seven other schools. The boys managed to win second place, a fact which made it the best showing a St. Andrews team has ever put in. Gillet, number one on the squad, lost out in his opener; Beach, number two, reached the semi-finals; Haynsworth, number three, got to the finals; Elmes, number four, went all the way, beating every opponent in his ranking.

On the tenth of May the team bowed to Valley Forge Military Academy, 4-3, losing three singles and one doubles match. Gillet, Beach, and Haynsworth lost their singles, while Elmes and Lovell won. In the doubles, Gillet and Beach again suffered defeat, while Haynsworth and Elmes found themselves in the winning column.

Against St. James, the only I.A.C. encounter, on May 13th, the Cardinals tasted victory for the first time, white-washing the visitors, 6-0.

In the annual Turner Cup Tournament, played on a torrid June day, Don Haynsworth won a close victory over runner-up Bob Beach.

The team, being composed entirely of Fourth Formers, with the exception of Doug Lovell, was, on the whole, a good one, and it is expected that they will do well in the 1945 season coming up, as the entire team is returning. Due to Mr. Sherwood's illness, Dr. Potts will take over the coaching spot.
The 1944 baseball season was remarkable in that its coach was the first "outsider" ever to lead an S.A.S. team. This man, Mr. Lou Mandes, of Odessa, was confronted with little opportunity for a successful season. Returning from 1943's team were only two lettermen, Perry and King. Even more tragic was the fact that there was no pitcher with varsity experience. Thus the team won only two of its first seven games, both of them against a weak Sanford team. The team began to form soon after this. Perry was brought from shortstop and put on the mound. Dunlevie, a former pitcher, was put on third base and Claghorn, another pitcher, was put in center field. With this line-up the Saints took their last three games, playing their best ball of the year against Wilmington Friends.

This year the outlook for the baseball team looks much brighter. Mr. Hagerty will be back coaching the team and in the place of only two lettermen there will be five. Those returning from last year's nine are Bellis, Perry, King, Giammattei and Dunlevie. The line-up for this year will probably be Bellis catching, Perry pitching, Dunlevie at third, King at short, and Giammattei in left field. Those fighting for the remaining positions are Keep, McFall, Gimler, Gas-kill and Mamo.

Though this may not represent a championship team, it is surely one which will take a good many of its games and will at all times be hard to beat.
This year’s Junior Varsity Football Team proved to be one of the best that has been seen around St. Andrews in recent years. Unfortunately, the team was able to play only one game, which was with Sanford Prep, and which they won with a 28-0 score. However, the J.V. had numerous games with the second string varsity, against whom they did surprisingly well. The boys were captained by Joe Gaskill and coached, as usual, by Mr. Holder and Mr. Pell.

During football season the smaller boys, as in previous years, were divided into six-man teams and played an intra-mural schedule. The “Hell Cats,” captained by D. Humphries and coached by Mr. Cameron, defeated the “Crushers” to win the light six-man championship, while the “Turtles,” coached by Dick Davis, won the heavy title.

The squash ladder flourished again this winter. Daily matches were held in which the boys could ascend or descend the three ladders. Welling, Elmes, Reeve, and Giammattei dominated the season’s play, being numbers one to four, respectively.

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team was a comparatively successful one. They won two of their six games, while the Varsity Subs won all of their four games.

Once again the junior crew was divided into two clubs, the Vikings and the Achaecans. The Vikings, stroked by D. Berg, succeeded in winning the pennant from the Achaecans, who were stroked by F. Stoner.

The Junior Varsity Baseball Team played a full schedule again this year. In spite of the fact that they lost a number of their men to the varsity they managed to win five out of ten games.
The praefects have done an exceptionally fine job this year, especially in view of the fact that John Shober had to leave them in the fall term. The year started out with Jim Rooney as senior praefect, and president of the class. John Shober was vice-president and Tom King was secretary-treasurer, while Beau Nalle and Jim Bacon were the other two praefects. When Shober had to leave Beau Nalle was elected to his place as vice-president of the class and the four remaining praefects carried on. They have done a truly fine job in leading the school through a hard year, which turned out to be a good one largely through their own efforts, and should be highly commended for their great service to the school.

The vestry, which is one of the most important organizations of the school, meets every three weeks to discuss any problems that may arise concerning the general well-being of the school. However, its most important regular duties consist of allotting the money that is collected from chapel donations to any cause, especially of a religious nature, that the organization finds to be worthy. This year it has handled, as usual, the distribution of chapel pledges, but it has not been faced with any important decisions concerning any changes about the school.

The president of the vestry was Jim Rooney and the secretary-treasurer was Tom King. All the praefects and officers of each form attend the meetings, along with the chaplain and Sixth Form advisor.
The Criss Cross Club has had a remarkably successful season this year. The loss of Mr. Wilson's valuable services left the club at a loss to begin with, but Mrs. Sherwood soon replaced him more than capably and later Mr. Culleney took over the position of faculty advisor.

At the winter dance the club presented what has been called by some the best production ever to be seen here at S.A.S. It was George M. Cohan's melodramatic farce, "Seven Keys to Baldpate." The leading roles were taken by Clark Potter and Timmy Mann.

The club, with Jim Rooney as president and Clark Potter as secretary-treasurer, deserves much credit for its own success this year, but even more should go to Mrs. Sherwood who took over a difficult position and worked extremely hard for the club.
Publications

The publications have operated in their fourth wartime year under greater difficulties than they have ever before had to face. But they have been able to provide as good material as ever.

Handicapped by high prices, lack of good printers, and war-time restrictions, the Cardinal could not be published in the form that the school has seen in former times. But under Editor-in-Chief Gattie Jones a new Cardinal News Letter was published. Mimeographed here at school, it came out once a week, which was more frequently than the old Cardinal had ever been seen. It provided much more up-to-date news coverage and gave the school more news, although the form was not as impressive as of old. Great credit is due to the editors and staff of this publication for the fine job they have done despite many obstacles.

Dance Band

This year's dance band is probably as good, from an orchestral standpoint, as any the school has ever seen in previous years. The band started the year with many handicaps, but it has worked hard and long to become the only "professional" organization here at S.A.S. It plans to play for dances at Dover during the spring term.

Under the very capable direction of Mr. Barron, the band has improved all along, and by taking in new members and by long practice, has become one of the most popular organizations in the school.
The Library Club this year has been composed mainly of lower formers, and has done a fine job of helping Miss Welton in the general running of the library. Its duties consist of almost everything that has to be done to run the library. The boys take charge of the library at night and keep the books in order.

The president of the club this year was Charlie Culver, and it was under the direction of Miss Welton, as before.

The club has done a fine job this year and should be commended for the work it has done.

This year, as in previous years, the band has given the school the excellent martial music that it has been accustomed to in the past. It played whenever the weather permitted at the football games this fall and did very well, adding greatly to school spirit. Mr. Barron has done a truly fine job, making the music that the organization has given the school better than ever.

At the annual football banquet the band gave its first concert, and the music was so good that more concerts are scheduled for the spring term.
Acolyte and Altar Guilds

Although this is the only activity in school which does not give its members weekend credits, the Guild has a great many members under the direction of Mr. Pell and Mr. Culleney. Many new boys have joined the Acolyte and Altar Guild giving it one of the largest number of members that it has had for several years.

Some of the duties of the Guild include serving as acolytes for every chapel service, and taking care of the chapel and the altar.

Choir

With the return of Miss Miller from the Armed Forces to give it very capable guidance, the choir has had a very successful year. It has received a large number of new members into its ranks while the Clee Club is composed largely of boys who are also in the choir. This year was again climaxed by the Christmas Candlelight Service and the Easter Service, both of which were a great success, and for which the choir should be given a great deal of credit. The crucifer this year was Bill Howlett, while Tom King and Bill Hays were both flag bearers.
