Come my friends,
'Tis not too late to seek a newer world.
Push off, and sitting well in order smite
The sounding furrows: for my purpose holds
To sail beyond the sunset, and the baths
Of all the western stars, until I die.
It may be that the gulfs will wash us down;
It may be we shall touch the Happy Isles.
And see the great Achilles, whom we knew.
Though much is taken much abides; and though
We are not now that strength which is old days
Moved earth and heaven, that which we are, we are:
One equal temper of heroic hearts.
Made weak by time and fate, but strong in will
To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield.
-Alfred, Lord Tennyson

To be nobody - but yourself in a world which is doing its best, night and day, to make you everybody else- means to fight the hardest battle which any human can fight, and never stop fighting.

"Let's frighten the dragons." I said to Pooh
"That's right," said Pooh to me.
"I'm not afraid," I said to Pooh, And I held his paw and I shouted "Shoo! silly old dragons!" and off they flew.
"I wasn't afraid," said Pooh, said he, "I'm never afraid with you."

That was a memorable day to me, for it made great changes in me. But it is the same with any life. Imagine one selected day struck out of it, and think how different its course would have been. Pause you who read this, and think for a moment of the long chain of iron or gold, of thorns or flowers, that would never have bound you, but for the formation of the first link on one memorable day.

Help me if you can, I've got to get back to the house at Pooh Corner by one
You'd be surprised, there's so much to be done

"Whenever I need to leave it all behind
Or feel the need to get away
I find a quiet place
Far from the human race
Out in the country
Before the breathing air is gone
Before the sun is just a bright spot in the nighttime
Out where the rivers like to run
I stand alone
And take back something worth remembering."

O waste of loss, in the hot mazes, lost, among bright stars on this most weary unbright cinder. Lost! Remembering speechlessly we seek the great forgotten language, the lost lane-end into heaven, a stone, a leaf, an unfound door. Where? When?

Melting Ice

Love is a pain with purest joy combined;
No bad comparison to love I'll find:
Boys when the heavens are frosty, in a trice
Will take a handful of hard- frozen ice;
And first it is all delight and wonder, then
The lump no more will be let go again.
Nor yet be pretty treasure to retain.
Even so with lovers, when their hearts require
To love and not- love by the same desire.

"It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of Light, it was the season of Darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair. we had everything before us, we had nothing before us. we were all going direct to Heaven, we were all going direct the other way — in short, the period was so far like the present period, that some of its noisiest authorities insisted on its being received, for good or for evil. . . ."

HALFWAY DOWN
Halfway down the stairs
Is a stair
Where I sit.
There isn't any
Other stair
Quite like
It.
I'm not at the bottom,
I'm not at the top;
So this is the stair
Where
I always
Stop.
Halfway up the stairs
isn't up,
And isn't down.
It isn't in the nursery.
It isn't in the town . . .
And all sorts of funny thoughts
Run round my head:
"It isn't really
Anywhere!
It's somewhere else
Instead!"
Letitia "Penny" Hickman
