St. Andrew's 1985
1985 Griffin
The task of putting together a yearbook is an extremely demanding and complicated one. Therefore, it is appropriate to give particular recognition to someone who devoted countless hours and enormous effort to create this book. Acting as Editor-in-Chief, Eliot Mason has not only produced a fine yearbook, but he has also been responsible for training underformers so that the process can be carried on smoothly from year to year. This has been an invaluable service - a gift from Eliot to future classes at St. Andrew's.

Special recognition should also go to: Kim Spire, who acted as Eliot's assistant; Rich Spry, who did an excellent job making money; Debbie Page, for her support; and, for their photographic talents, Ken Yu, Paul Erhardt, Maria Strauss, Jen Gustavson, Dawn Hillman, Clair Colburn and Ashley Tompkins.

Finally, on behalf of the Yearbook Staff, a special thanks to Richard Schrenker (Yearbook Representative) who came over on a Sunday and helped me finish the final pages so this book could arrive before Graduation.

In the mountains, in the cities, you can see the dream. Look around you. Has it found you? Is it what it seems?

Sometimes a thousand twangling instruments
Will hum about mine ears: and sometimes
Voices that, if I then had waked
After long sleep, will make me
Sleep again; and then, in dreaming,
The clouds I thought would open
And show riches ready to drop
Upon me, that, when I waked,
I cried to dream again.

The normal child is then not only interested in things for practical purposes, but genuinely curious and capable of wonder about things in themselves. He has a power of enjoying knowledge for its own sake, until this enjoyment is killed by what is known as education.

-F.M. Cornford

The practical conclusion is that, whereas the laws of Nature cannot be ecaded, the laws of society should be obeyed only when there is a risk of being found out and punished. Nature will always find you out; but, with lick or cunning on your side, society may not.

He looked across the sea and knew how alone he was now. But he could see the prisms in the deep dark water and the line stretching ahead and the strange undulation of the calm. The clouds were building up now for the trade wind and he looked ahead, and saw a flight of wild ducks etching themselves against the sky over the water, then blurring, then etching again and he knew no man was ever alone on the sea.

I was chopping down a palm tree when a friend dropped by to ask me if I would feel less lonely if he helped me swing the axe. I said, "No, it's not a case of being lonely we have here. I've been working on this palm tree for eighty-seven years." He said, "Go get lost." and walked towards his Cadillac. I chopped down the palm tree and it landed on his back.

For marnie:

... Under the influence of his own inner joy at life for a moment as it should be, as it was meant to be in his nature, Phineas recaptured that magic gift for existing primarily in space, one foot conceding briefly to space its rights before spinning him off again into the air. It was his wildest demonstration of himself in the kind of world he loved; it was his choreography of peace.

-John Knowles, A Separate Peace
Well, I left my happy home to see what I could find out. I left my folks and friends with the aim to clear my mind out. Well I hit the rowdy road, and many kinds I met there, many stories told me of the way to get there. So on and on I go, the seconds tick the time out. There's so much left to know and I'm on the road to find out.

Dejda Stancioff

life's not a paragraph
-e.e. cummings
It's the chance of a lifetime and a lifetime of chance. Young teacher, the subject of school girl fantasy... this girl is half his age. Everyone goes south every now and then. Nothing ever goes as planned, it's a hell of a notion. No one ever told me there'd be days like these. Little Henry was in her thoughts. I'd much rather be forever in blue jeans. Let's get together and do it again. Drinkin' on a fake I.D. We just came here to kick a little ass. You may be right, I may be crazy. Spillin' wine and sharin' good times.

And these children that you spit on as you try to change their world are immersed to your consultations. They're quite aware of what they're going thru. Sometimes you just want to go where everyone knows your name. There never seems to be enough time to do the things you wanna do once you find them. I don't know where I'm running now, I'm just running on. I think we're alone now, the beating out of our hearts is the only sound. The major four letter word has lost its impact and that's too bad. Scrammage vests! When you're down and out singing a song it'll make your day. Where there's life there's bud. There's nothing you can know that isn't known. Nothing you can see that isn't shown. Nowhere you can be that isn't where you're meant to be. It's easy.

Here I am saying goodbye to people I love, there is no feeling quite the same, but there will be new friends, new loves, I'll have to say goodbye again. Shots paths cross in the future I shall rejoice, if not I'll just remember. Even the most practical and successful of men, triumphant millionaire or powerful statesman looks back into his own past with amazement at the hazards he escaped and the failures he survived. Living on tiptoe waiting for the next step. I don't know where life will lead me but I know where I’ve been. I can't say what life will show me but I know what I’ve seen. Tried my hand at love and friendship, both all that is passed and gone, this little boy is moving on. We might be laughing bit too loud but that never hurt no one. But then if you’re so smart, tell me why are you still so afraid? Goodbye to all my friends at home. Goodbye to people I've trusted, I've got to go out and make my way. You know I might get rich yet you know I might get busted. And all this taking things as they come tends to make you forget to put anything in. There's so much left to know and I'm on the road to find out. Remember the days of the old school yard.
Lord,
a friend come to me today,
She had a problem
and wanted to talk,
So I listened
But all the while
I was thinking of a problem of my own.
And when my friend
went away,
I knew I hadn’t really
heard her
As you once said of your disciples
I have ears but hear not
Oh Lord,
Help me always to keep
my ears and my heart
Open,
And put myself aside
So that you can use me
to help your other children when they are in need.

Then the boy saw the buck. It was coming down the ridge, as if it were coming out of the very sound of the horn which related its death. It was not running; it was walking, tremendous, unhurried, slanting and tilting its head ...

Then it saw them. And still it did not begin to run. It just stopped for an instance, taller than any man, looking at them; then its muscles suppled, gathered ... not fleeing, not even running, just moving with that winged and effortless ease with which deer move, ... its head high and the eye not proud and not haughty but just full and wild and unafraid, ... Fall '84
Football is an amazing sport. These guys go out on the field, hit each other as hard as possible without malice and have a good time. This ethic applies especially to our Football team.

This year, led by the four regular coaches plus volunteer Coach Branner, the Saints set out to turn around the team’s record and to establish a new standard; and did a good job of it. We forged a 3-6 record, improving over last year’s "two minutes from a winning season" except for bad luck in two games.

The Saints were the only conference team to score against State champs Friends, Tatnall had the hardest battle in yea
Frustration is perhaps the best word to describe the 1984 Varsity Hockey season. The tough competition which is continually apparent within the Independent Conference managed to destroy the Saint’s dream of competing in the State Tournament. However, although our disappointment in the season is obvious, many positive aspects did occur: Friendship, Enthusiasm and Leadership became the words and actually the themes we lived by. As a result the season was in fact productive, for many lessons in life were both taught and learned.

A. Sawyer '85
Usually, when one thinks of St. Andrew's field hockey, they think of the varsity team; but this year's Junior Varsity team is not one to be disregarded. With twelve wins and six ties, and no losses, the S.A.S. J.V. field hockey team made its mark with a second consecutive undefeated season.

Lead to victory, by Coach Becky "Cano" Kinney and Captains Jenni Frost and Laura Loessner, J.V. hockey remained tough throughout the season; and with only two goals scored upon them, the team was intimidated by no one.

This year's Junior Varsity team, from Ursuline to Tower Hill, ice cream to pizza parties, and practices to games, was consistent in everything it did- a rare quality not easily found in such a small school as St. Andrew's.

-L. Loessner '86
The 1984 volleyball season was a definite success; although there were only two returning varsity players, the team took off from the start with a 15-1 first game win against Friends. The momentum that this solid victory generated, carried us to many more wins, and we finished the season with an 8-5 record. The disappointment of the season undoubtedly was losing to Tower Hill twice—both in tie breaking games. It was largely because of these defeats that we were unable to win the Conference Championship and go on to the state tournament.

Front—Morgan, Williams, Stewart, McKee. Back—Mr. Walker, Katz, Hall, Viddy, Mason
However, with solid victories over Friends, Westtown, and Tatnall, and a win that broke Arhmere's twenty game winning streak, the St. Andrew's volleyball team compiled a strong winning record and a season to be proud of. Only three varsity starters will be leaving this year, the remaining three, Rachel Viddy, Laurence Stewart, and Nicola "tree" Katz, will surely prove to be a strong building block for the '85 team. Cori Cowgill and Rebecca Hall also had varsity experience this year, and along with the very able J.V. they form a group of talented players with much promise for the future.

The 1984 Women's Cross Country season had its ups and downs, but we pulled through with surprising success. Our accomplishments were very satisfying; we finished fourth in our division at the State Meet, and were ranked tenth in the state. The team of eight members had unsurpassable energy, until of course we heard that Messrs. Zeigler and Cameron had devised new and exciting practices. Our final record of 4-6, with two close races, definitely shows that Women's Cross Country is a rising strength at St. Andrew's. The combination of energy, hard work, and atomic palm proved that Jake's girls really did mean business.

“Gentlemen, we shall soon part. I shall be for some time with my two brothers, of whom one is going to Siberia and the other is lying at death’s door. But soon I shall leave this town, perhaps for a long time, so we shall part gentlemen. Let us make a compact, here, at Ilyusha’s stone that we will never forget first, Ilyushechka, and second, one another. And whatever happens to us later in life, if we don’t meet for twenty years afterwards, let us always remember . . . And even if we are occupied with most important things, if we attain to honor or fall into great misfortune — still let us always remember how good it was once here, when we were all together, united by a good and kind feeling which made us, for the time we were loving, better perhaps than we are.

You are all dear to me, boys, from this day forth, I have a place in my heart for you all, and I beg you to keep a place in your hearts for me!”

The fall play this year was a court room drama. The verdict was dependant on the jury which was chosen from the audience. Alex Thrower and Heather Patzman played the two lawyers and Brooke Bassin played the defendant, charged with first degree murder. All who took part in the performance added to the plot and the decision of the jury.

Presentations

This fall St. Andrews School hosted two presentations. The first was an evening exploring space: past, present, and future. Dr. Brian O'Leary, a scientist for NASA showed slides and discussed the plans for the use of space in the future. The ideas ranged from permanent residences on space stations to growing food on special stations. The evening was an interesting and educationally stimulating one.

The second presentation was a new cultural experience for many who attended it. It consisted of two professional opera singers; a baritone, William Swain, and a tenor, Richard Leech. They performed arias from many different operas. They were accompanied by the master pianist Stephen Zank. The whole evening was a surprising and enjoyable experience.
Despite what you may think, Bill McTear is really a third former. This is a letter which Bill sent to his parents early in the Fall.

Most everyone has seen Julie Andrews star in The Sound of Music. This simple fact made our production of the same a little more difficult. Once all of the preconceptions of what it should be like were dispelled and forgotten, the cast went to work on producing one of the better musicals in recent SAS history. Ann Mathers played the lead role of Maria in an elegant display of both acting and singing ability. Pier Kooistra assumed the role of Captain VonTrapp, father to seven children (six were SAS students, while Gretel, the youngest, was played by nine year old Abigail McBride). Other important roles were played by Tim Abbot (Max Detweiler), Kristen Schutjer (Frau Schraeder) and Jen Cogswell (Mother Abbess). Along with a formidable nun's choir that could rival any abbey and a police force that danced and sang, the musical proved to be a major success. Three nights running, the SAS production of The Sound of Music captured the interest of the audience as well as the cast.

Inconsistency plagued the Men’s Varsity Basketball Team from day one of the 1984-1985 season. We never seemed capable of putting together four solid quarters of basketball fundamentals. More than one game was lost to deficits built up in the first period, despite outscoring our opponent in the remaining three. Our record was a somewhat disappointing 6 wins and 10 losses, only winning one game in the conference. Pure stats, however, really do not represent the great improvement of the team during the season. This was evidenced by our at-the-buzzer win over a Friends Team who had earlier beaten us by twenty points. It was after this game that we knew we were capable of playing with nearly everyone in the conference.

Barry Ohlson ’85
This year's Women's Varsity Basketball Team was superb. With few returning from last year's conference champion squad, only Stacey, Kathy, Babs, Liz and Laurence, the Saints still put together a solid record of 12 wins and 5 losses, defeating enemies such as Tatnall (twice), Tower Hill, Westtown and the infamous Caravel! But even more, along with newcomers Erica, Shana, Bear, Lynley and Mary, we learned how to work together as a team, winning or losing. Overall, as captain, I was proud to be a part of such a great group of people, and I see a lot of potential for next year's team.

If one were to look at this year's wrestling season objectively, i.e. wins and losses in dual meets, it would not appear to have been terribly successful (3 wins and 7 losses). This is due, for the most part, to certain key letterman not returning from last year's team and to a great deal of illness and injury throughout the season. However, if one were to look at the accomplishments of individuals, the picture turns much brighter. At the Middletown Christmas Tournament, we had five men place in their respective weight classes. Phil Najera won at 112, Ian Montgomery took second at 185, John Gordy and Graham

Houghton placed third at heavyweight and 167, while Keith Keelins took fourth at 145. Phil also went on to win the SAS Tournament at 112, and along with John, Ian, Graham and 98-pounder John Moore, qualified to wrestle in this year's state tournament.

Dear Mom and Dad,

Winter is here!
But strange things are happening!

I think it is caused by the food →
[Note Mr. Green's expression]

It seems to affect the mind in various ways...

People are regressing!
(see baby pictures)
It even affects hair!
And people are so exciting in these months!

Even jolly old Bob Wilson is mad!

Well, that's all. I'll come home in March.

Now Is The Time To Learn To Fly

SPRING IS A GREAT TIME TO FLY... DO IT NOW!

With the beginning of longer days and warmer weather, there's no time like the present to sign up for a Cessna Pilot Center flight training course. And the best way to get started is with our special Discovery Flight.

For only $20.00, you can actually fly a modern Cessna with the guidance of a certified flight instructor.

It's a great way to celebrate spring! Remember, $20.00 pays for everything in our special Discovery Flight offer.

Men's Tennis: State Champions

The 1985 Varsity Men's Tennis Team captured the Delaware State Championship for the second consecutive year. Not only that, this team completed its season with an undefeated record of 15-0. Paul Keeley, Chris Tetzeli, and the doubles team of Steve Gewirz and John Oechsle raced through the season without losing a match-Keeley finished his dynamic career with a state title at number two singles. And Michael Meers clinched the title for the team with an astonishing victory over an arch-rival from Tower Hill. Seniors Keeley, Gewirz, and Barry Ohlson will be missed, but returning players Meers, Tetzeli, Rob O'Connor, Oechsle, and Alex Varga already are preparing for a third straight victory celebration in Newark.
Women’s Varsity Tennis

This year’s Varsity Women’s Tennis had a fine season. With Anne Montesano, Eliza Manegold, and Lynley Digitale playing first, second and third singles, and the doubles teams of Ashley Tompkins and Polly Dolan, and Aimee Herring

...and Kathy Dunton, the team was hard to beat. The players’ talents plus the superb coaching of Mrs. Roach led the team on throughout the season to the final battle at the States. Although the team played hard matches they were unable to bring home the State Championship. Next year’s team will miss Eliza, Polly, Ashley, Aimee, and Kathy but the returning players should form a strong building block for a great team.

Women’s Varsity Lacrosse

This year's Varsity Lacrosse team had a successful season despite the small number of players the team had. The old saying “it's the quality not the quantity” proved true with this team. Early in the season it was evident that the talent of players like Kathy Hart, Babs Breneman and Jenni Frost was going to be important to the team's success. In all the games every girl put her all into playing her best. Next year's team will miss the seniors it lost but is optimistic about future success.
