Panic! It’s the end of May; you have to register for next year’s courses, and you just can’t decide what to take. Who do you turn to? Mrs. Ryan. As the Director of Studies, Mrs. Ryan seems to know everything about everything: the courses offered, what you have taken in the past, what your grades are like, and what you can handle. Over the years she has calmed hundreds of frantic students with her quiet, soft-spoken manner and perceptive advice. Her many titles include Director of Studies, French teacher, and Chairperson of the Modern Languages Department; she also organizes student registration for all standardized tests. “The school subconsciously depends on Mrs. Ryan,” said a fourth former, “because she influences so many different aspects of school life.”

Over the years, Mrs. Ryan has also been advisor to the French club, led student trips abroad, taught French cooking, and acted as a student advisor (known for her wonderful, home-cooked advisee meals). In recognition of her extraordinary devotion to St. Andrew’s, the class of 1987 dedicates this yearbook to Mrs. Alice Ryan.
FALL
Alas, that the longest hill
Must end in a vale; but still,
Who climbs with toil,
wheresoe’er
Shall find wings waiting there.

H.C. Beeching
Going Down Hill on a Bicycle

On behalf of the Varsity Soccer Team, we would like to thank coaches Tad “Bug” Roach and Will “Speero” Speers for their excellence and the time and effort they put forth this year. Special thanks go to managers Jill Willock and Kibbey Perry for their tremendous job this year; their support throughout the season was inspiring. Good luck to next year’s team, and once again, thanks Bug and Wilbur.

“If you learn anything at all this fall, learn the importance of working hard in pursuit of excellence, in pursuit of achieving a common goal.” The 1986 Football Team had its ups and downs. The disappointing losses to St. James and George School did not stifle the team’s spirits. The team continued to work hard in practice and the rewards were victories over Friends School and Tatnall. The team would like to thank coaches Colburn, Branner and especially Coach Lyons for their constant enthusiasm and support. We also hope that we made Mr. Lyons first season a memorable one.

P.S. A special thanks to manager Kellie Mitra and her assistant Squig Gubb.

All Set For The Perfect Shot

The 1986 Varsity Volleyball team came together with one returning varsity player and eight new recruits. Through teamwork and ambition they drove themselves to reach their best. Led by co-captains Elizabeth Baker and Kate Gamble they proved to be a better team than any of them thought. With no returning seniors, next year's team should be most promising.

Running Strong

Stretching out ("Lick your knee!"), running hard ("Hurry back!"), eating ice cream ("Excuse me sir. Could you tell me how to get to the ice cream store?")—through soaking rain, parching sun, shin splints, and twisted ankles, the 1986 women's varsity cross-country team worked as one. Each individual ran her best in practice and in races, and to achieve her own personal goals. Led by Marina and our beloved Klutzy Captain Annette the team developed into a strong force within the conference. Jenn, Leeanna, Rhonda, Alix, Cristy, Lainie, and Ari provided depth to make the wins possible. As our devoted manager, Fran provided cookies to give us energy before the race. As individuals and as a team we improved dramatically through the season "WIN, enter!"
Fall Play

This year’s fall play was Agatha Christie’s Ten Little Indians. Eight guests receive and respond to a mysterious invitation to come for the weekend to a guest house on Indian Island off the coast of Devon, England; this house is where the plot unfolds. The guests and two servants (Betsy Woody and John VanderMyde) are each accused of murder and are murdered one-by-one according to the “10 Little Indians” rhyme above the mantelpiece. The unknown killer (Dan Hermes) eliminates everyone except the romantic leads, Vera Claythorne and Phillip Lombard (Julia Elliott and Oliver Witcox.)

Towards the end, each thinking that the other is really the killer, Vera manages to get the revolver from Phillip and shoot him; she, however, misses and he falls pretending to be dead. That is when Dan makes his deranged killer speech and is about to hang Vera and fulfill his little rhyme. Before he can do so, however, Phil steps in, saves the day and receives his reward.

Except for Todd Perry, Keary Jenkins, and John Vandermyde, we were all new to the theater program. Jared Ravich is to be commended for his “wizard” performance while old Em Brent (Catherine Soles) proved to be the “Bible-totin’ mama” we figured she really was; and, of course, who could forget our cute and cuddly (as well as senile) grandpa who would never shut up (Chris Fahlen as General Mackenzie).

St. Andrew's

Remembered . . .
Mrs. Di: Nurse

Mr. Sutton: College Counseling

Mrs. Odden: School Store

Mrs. Matthers: Asst. Nurse
In the three years that Ms. DyAnn Miller has been at SAS, she has managed to involve herself in almost every aspect of school life; she has been a teacher, counselor, dorm master, and (most importantly) the senior class advisor. To the senior class she has given much of her time, and all her boundless enthusiasm and energy, backing us up in fund raising projects (from raffles to munchie boxes), and organizing form parties (a dangerous line of duty, as we discovered last year when Ms. Miller suffered an injury during a form softball game that left her limping for months! Even her apartment wasn’t safe from the klutzy class; at another party we broke a window.) Most importantly she has been a warm and sympathetic friend to all who have gone to her for counseling, advice, or friendly chats. For everything she has done the senior class says THANK YOU MS. MILLER!!!
For twenty years Donald and Mary Dunn have devoted their lives to Andrew's School. They came in late 1960s-Mr. Dunn to teach Math and Mrs. Dunn to take the job of assistant librarian. Both have been important influences within the school community; both will be missed next year when they retire.

Over the years, Mrs. Dunn has assisted in the Biology department as well as in the library; she was appointed head librarian in 1983. She has done a wonderful job increasing the number of books as well as making the library a pleasant, comfortable environment. Students and teachers miss her ability to find any book; she always manages to get just what you need, even if she has to go through several other libraries to locate it. Her research assistance to the Model U.N. program has been invaluable to the group's success.

Mr. Dunn has taught geometry, mathematics, and computer programming to hundreds of St. Andrew's students; he has also been extremely active in the athletic department. In the past he has coached football, wrestling, and the very first SAS cross country team. In 1975 he led the cross-country team to its first winning season and only DISC championship. He also plays a key role in running the annual St. Andrew's Invitational Wrestling Tournament. Mr. Dunn has also been extremely active in the waterfront program; as advisor to the Yacht Club and Dock Master he has had an important role in the program. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dunn will be remembered for their contributions to Andrew's - the school community wishes them luck in the years to come.

After a while you learn the subtle difference
Between holding a hand and chaining a soul,
And you learn that love doesn't mean leaning
And company doesn't mean security
And you begin to accept your defeats
With your head up and your eyes open,
With the grace of a woman, not the grief of a child,
And learn to build all your roads
On today because tomorrow's ground
Is too uncertain for plans, and futures have
A way of falling down in mid-flight;
After a while you learn that even sunshine
Burns if you get too much.
So you plant your own garden and decorate
Your own soul, instead of waiting
For someone to bring you flowers.
And you learn that you really can endure...
That you really are strong
And you really do have worth.
And you learn and learn...
With every goodbye you learn.

The trouble with morning is that it comes when you're not awake... Right Liz?

If you can dream - and not make dreams your master;
If you can think - and not make thoughts your aim.
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tools;

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings - nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds worth of distance run,
Yours is the earth and everything that's in it.
And - which is more - you'll be a man my son!

"For Maria, Hong, Karen, Ken and Jill;
All people have the stars, said the little prince, but they are not the same things for different people. For some, who are travelers, the stars are guides. For others, they are no more than little lights in the sky. For others, who are scholars, they are problems... But these stars are silent. You— you alone— will have the stars as no one else has them. You will have stars that can laugh! And when your sorrow is comforted, you will be content that you have known me. You will always be my friend."

Duke- your mom called ...
On the fifteenth day I woke up to the sound of music in the courtyard, broadcast by a generous neighbor's radio. It was a lovely Andante of Mozart's that always called up dawn, death, a certain smile. I lay motionless in bed for a long time, listening to it and feeling rather happy.

went up to my room, all attention. The music was over, and I was sorry to have missed the end. I caught an unexpected glimpse of my face in the mirror, and saw myself smile. I didn't try to prevent it; besides I couldn't have if I tried. Once more, and I knew it, I was alone.

Twenty years ago, saw a friend was walking by
And I stopped him on the street to ask him
How it went, and all he did was cry
I looked him in the face, but I couldn't see past his eyes
Asked him what the problem was, he says
"Here is your disguise"
Now he's hardly getting over it
Hardly getting used to getting by
Old man lays down by the railroad tracks
Got no paper in his pocket, got no paper on his back
I asked him what the time was, he says
"Hit the road now, Jack"
Went back to see him next week
He died of a heart attack and died away
Now he's hardly getting over it
Hardly getting used to getting by
Grandma, she got sick, she is going to die
And grandpa had a seizure, moved into a hotel cell and died away
My parents, they just wonder when they both are going to die
And what do I do when they die?

The mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation. What is called resignation is confirmed desperation. From the desperate city you go into the desperate country, and have to console yourself with the bravery of minks and muskrats. A stereotyped but unconscious despair is concealed even under what are called the games and amusements of mankind. There is no play in them, for this comes after work. But it is a characteristic of wisdom not to do desperate things.” -Henry David Thoreau from Walden, on the duty of civil disobedience.

Art's Day
1987
This year's spring play was A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court. Under the guidance of Mrs. Higgins as director and Mr. Kirkwood as technical director, John Little starred as the Connecticut Yankee who traveled back in time to King Arthur's (Chris Fahlen's) court. A striking contrast between old and new developed into a series of humorous events. Raquel Mondin portrayed the King's evil sister who with the help of Merlin (Dan Hermes) manipulated her way into power. Of course, the Connecticut Yankee saved the day, Camelot was restored, and all ended well in this hysterical comedy.

The 1987 Men's Varsity Tennis Team knew it would be hard living up to last year's high standards. Despite an early season loss, the team pulled together to win its fourth straight state championship. With undefeated Steve Rao at #1 singles, co-captains Peter Salett and Rob O'Conner at #2 and #3, John Oechsle and Chris Chalmers at #1 doubles, and John Matouk and Simon Cherniavsky at #2 doubles, the team was strong throughout. Mr. Sutton was superb during his first year as coach. Special thanks go to Mr. Roach, Ham Sloan, and to our fantastic manager, Kay Rhee. Good luck to next year's certain-to-be-good team!
This year's Women's Varsity Tennis Team was the first in St. Andrew's history to capture the state crown in women's tennis. Vicki Klumb, Anne-Margaret Baxley, and Sara O'Conner played #1, #2, and #3 singles, while Kellie Mitra with Anne-Marie Rosas and Betsey Woody with Jenny Hanna played #1 and #2 doubles. The team took revenge for its only loss of the season by beating West-town in its last match of the season to become conference champs. Anne-Margaret, Sara, and the pair of Betsey and Jenny won state titles, while the team won the team championship.

"Jonathan, what would we do without you?" ... Bad to the Bone! ... State Champs ... Thanks, Mrs. Roach.
The 1987 men’s varsity eight was plagued with illness and misfortune, yet had an enjoyable season. Following a very rigorous training camp, Mr. Washburn molded the eight rowers into skilled oarsmen. Though physically smaller than crews of recent years, they were powerful for their size. While suffering some difficult losses in early races, the crew came back to defeat some of their larger opponents. Chickenpox and poison ivy prevented the crew from rowing at full potential, but the members of this group got along well with each other, and this helped make the season an enjoyable one.
The 1987 women’s varsity eight, with seven seniors among them, was a team of great potential. Each day, the team’s dedication to rowing was tested by intense drills and strenuous pieces conducted by Ms. Golder. Despite the physical size of the team, a strong mental confidence in themselves was developed by season’s end. This was illustrated by the fine victory in the Petite Finals in the Scholastics. The team would like to thank Ms. Golder for doing away with hills midway through the season, and more importantly, for her constant faith and support in the team.
The 1987 baseball season had its ups and downs, but the memories that linger reflect the many great times we had. Team records for most runs and most doubles are only a small part of what made this season so special: sore arms and blisters-Freddy's revenge-Fat Louis-Cool Breeze-"Damn ... shorty!"-Cori del-Larry Bird-Tatnall Comeback-zip-"Now look it ... "-All Conference Squad-"Yeaah!"-Thanks for the memories, seniors ... see ya!

Jeff and Van '88
At first glance, this year’s varsity lacrosse team looked unimpressive: 3-7-0. However, if you came out to watch these girls play, you saw a fine fighting spirit. This team had a way of “turning it on” in the last five minutes of every game, and running the opposition ragged. Unfortunately, these bursts did not win every game, but it said something about the spirit of this team, TNS ... Up and in ... What’s for lunch today ... tye-dyed tape player ... the Rasta-managers ... body circuits ... “Holy Goalie!” ... shutting up Tatnall’s cheerleaders ... Thanks ‘Sam ... Thanks, Mrs. Colburn, for the sodas ... Good luck seniors: remember, go for goal!
