MR. JOHN L. LYONS

The Class of 1990 has chosen to dedicate this yearbook to John L. Lyons because of his wholehearted devotion to our form. In his years here at St. Andrew's Mr. Lyons has played many diverse roles: corridor master, teacher, form advisor and coach. He fulfilled each of these duties wonderfully well. But he also took the time to become our friend and counsellor. In our fifth and sixth form years Mr. Lyons channeled our energy into worthwhile community projects, such as helping build housing for the homeless in Wilmington. His leadership helped us to realize our potential and undertake the daunting responsibilities of a senior class. For this and for everything, Mr. Lyons — thanks.
It's an indisputable fact — St. Andrew's wouldn't be the great school it is without its excellent staff. Jon O'Brien would be the first to admit that the Headmaster could be away a month and not be missed; but lose one secretary, maintenance person or corridor master for a day, and the whole school starts to collapse in sheer confusion. Well, we won't take it this far, Mr. O'Brien; maybe after a couple of weeks somebody would note your absence and go looking for you in a duck blind, or the tennis courts, or Shea Stadium. The point is, running a school, especially a great school like St. Andrew's, is a collaborative effort.
Here are the collaborators.
Theorem: If \( \angle 1 \) and \( \angle 2 \) are added to the results are \( \angle 3 \). Given that \( \angle 1 \leq \angle 3 \) and we know \( m\angle 1 = m\angle 3 \) and \( m\angle 1 + m\angle 2 = m\angle 3 + m\angle 2 \). By the addition prop. of equality, thus \( m\angle ABC = m\angle DEF \). Therefore \( \triangle ABC \sim \triangle DEF \).

(And formlessness.) Of course, it's only cool to eat with members of your own Form. But it's much cooler to go to the Semi-Formal with a Former in a Form that's not your Form. We form lower opinions about Formers from forms lower than ours. But our Forms provide a forum for efforts to reform the world through pizza sales, Turkey Trots, grub days and breakfast raffles. They also provide each of us with a sense of direction and belonging. And they fill up a good eight to ten pages of yearbook space.

And so it begins, the same as ever, of course, looking like something we’ve seen in a movie. Except the weather can’t make up its mind. And the faculty all got up and moved during the summer so they’re impossible to find. And Taylor’s a senior. Otherwise the days proceed this year as they always have, in their own peculiar and comforting regularity — it’s nice to have that to depend on. Well, maybe they’re going by a little quicker than last year. And the football team keeps winning. And a four-year-old from across the gully has more girlfriends than the entire Fourth Form? What are those girls doing on the varsity soccer’s practice field?
When you take a group of young athletes and form a team, anything can happen. After two consecutive physically and mentally abusing seasons we learned a valuable lesson. Football is not only a physical game. We learned through an extraordinary coaching staff that emotion, unity, and dedication are the three most important assets a football team can have. The team would like to thank the coaches, the school, and the manager. Our great season would not have been possible without them. Good Luck next year!

Perhaps the charm of You Can't Take It With You was the evenness of the diverse cast of characters. There were no minor roles! Cynthia Roselle sparkled as Rheba; Steve Dean was excellent in the role of Donald; Mary Neidig and James Wiley brought the house down with their antics; the audience got a big bang out of Drew Virden; Jared Ravich was, as usual, wonderfully comical as the bald Mr. DePinna; Beth Pierce performed her role very capably and with motherly charm; Andrew Butters was superb as Grandfather; Haven Hartley and Brain Tonks were especially good in their roles as the young lovers; Keith Howson aptly played two roles with ease and effectiveness; Werner Schleber, as the bombastic Kolenkov, provided many highlights throughout the play; Katherine Anschutz was excellent in her role as the stuffy Mrs. Kirby; and Amy Goldsworthy, in her two totally different characterizations, performed beautifully.

Backstage, Will Wood was responsible, along with Austin Wheelock, for the lights. He also helped Will Kirkwood construct a most memorable set. As usual, Mrs. Higgins' costumes were the backbone of the show.
And the time rolls on; there’s no stopping its punctilious passing, and the change of seasons. Snows fall, four to six inches in November. Then everyone returns for Winter Term and it’s 65 degrees. Shorts and t-shirts, followed by sub-zero wind chill, more snow, more blustery days. Taylor’s a senior and his class is getting anxious about college acceptances that seem only to trickle in amidst tears and laughter. And our teams keep winning. And indoor soccer is back, and the winter doldrums too. But we are not dismayed. Time rolls on. We move forward. After we’ve got the Snowball, the ski trip, the musical, a Model UN. And there’s spring to look forward to.

Thank you to Ms. LeBlanc and the 1989-1990 Girl’s Basketball team for such a fun, successful season. Our hard work finally paid off as we ended the season second in the conference. Whoever thought we would come so far? Good luck to all of you in the seasons to come. We’ll miss you. Love, The Captains
The 1989-1990 Varsity Basketball team led by captains Scott McClary and David McCaleb enjoyed a strong year—they finished second in the Independent Conference and compiled a winning record, one of the best records in the last ten years. With starters Thad McBride, Brett Hansen, James Wiley, and Troy Robinson returning, prospects for the future look bright.

Statistics can't show the quality of play and sportsmanship of the 1989-1990 men's squash team. The team improved throughout the season as we charged into battle against talented opponents. A win over Shipley and Callen's victory in the Delaware State Squash Tournament were triumphs for us all. Post-match Big Macs and the camaraderie enjoyed within our vehicle during away matches wrapped up the year. Best o' luck to next year's team! — ACD

The winter musical, Sugar, was more than a success. With its intricate comical theme, rousing choral numbers and hilarious solos, it demanded a high level of talent and flexibility of the entire cast. All of the actors had to adapt themselves to the challenge of unfamiliar roles, but they met this challenge head on and exceeded every expectation. The chorus girls’ dancing, the millionaires’ gallivanting and the ominous tapping of the Chicago gang made the group scenes memorable, while the comical qualities of Sweet Sue (Sunita Bai han), Bienstock (Jesse Mechling), Sir Osgood Fielding (Steve Boh-layer) and Spats Palazzo (Niki Smith) won loud bursts of applause from audiences on three successive nights. A focus was brought to the production by the characters of Joe/Josephine, played by Adams Wood and Jerry/Daphne, played by David Blanton. And, of course, what would the show have been without its namesake, Sugar, portrayed by Anna Vocino? All of this talent was fused into an exciting production under the guidance of Hoover Sutton, director;

Marc F. Cheban, musical director; and Niki Smith '90, choreographer. Linda Schneider '90 collaborated with Will Kirkwood, Peter Brooke, Lee Higgins and the tech crew to produce sets and costumes that worked together so well the productions of Sugar appeared to come off with an ease that belied the time and effort put in by all. But that does not bother the people involved with the 1989/1990 winter musical — their reward is in knowing they were "Doin' it for Sugar."
So what do you do with your free time? What free time, you ask? There is no free time! But who belongs to the French Club, Spanish Club, SAC, SADD, the Stock Market Club, and the Vegetable Rights Club? Where did all the club photos for this section of the book come from? Who lights the candles in Chapel and polishes the brasses? Who plants new trees and recycles cans?

It's clubs. Clubs are good for you. Clubs are what you do when you should be doing something else.

Here’s where the character of the school resides — the corridors. They’re all so different — like people. Each corridor develops its own personality, depending upon which side of the gully it’s on, or whether it faces the pond. Some corridors are “skanky,” some aren’t. Some corridors have birthday parties almost every night, some don’t. Some like to party on the weekend. Some do it all week long. Some actually study seriously during study hours. Others are completely empty! The fact is, for nine months out of a year, the corridors are our homes. We get half a room, a bed, a desk, a closet, and a corridor master looking over our shoulder at all hours of the day and night. It’s not the pits, but it’s not the Ritz.

MRS. DI!

Mrs. Ginny DiGenaro has been with St. Andrew's since 1974, caring for students and faculty day in and day out. To quote Mr. O’Brien: "Mrs. Di's dedication is quite rare. ... most generally found in boarding school nurses ... most generally tend to stay at a school for no longer than a year or two. Her skill, compassion, and devotion are unsurpassed." Mrs. Di has run an infirmary for the past 15 years that has been a haven from the stress of everyday life at St. Andrew's.

Thank you so much Mrs. Di for all the time and effort you have put into keeping us all on our feet and healthy.
This year's senior class is such a diverse group of individuals that we find it difficult to summarize, in one paragraph, the character of the class, so we are letting each person speak for him or herself on his or her senior page. We are grateful for such diversity. Thanks guys!

I feel the future in the hands of our youth will be safe. No more lies. Old tired fools tell our future with tarot cards, and lie of crime. The lines on their faces so deep, a revolution, or reach out, and touch the day. We're overdue child. Change. Now it's time for change, nothing stays the same. Now it's time for change. I'll change. I'll change. Not tomorrow, but today.

I used to follow, yes that's true. But now my following days are over, and I've just got to follow through.

I need to change, I need to change. Now it's time for change, nothing stays the same. Now it's time for change. I'll change. I'll change. Not tomorrow, but today.

Dream until your dreams come true.

Your crime is time and it's 18 and life to go.

We'll get higher and higher, straight up and fly.

There is something you ought to know. I'll tell you, Park Avenue is just Skid Row.

Under the new made clouds and happy as the heart was long,
In the sun born over and over,
I ran my heedless ways,
My wishes raced through the house high hay
And nothing I cared, at my sky blue trades, that time allows
In all his tuneful turning so few and such morning songs
Before the children green and golden
Follow him out of grace.

For those who shared his life, it was his passion — his desire, curiosity, daring, his unique mix of grace and aggression — that made him a star. He represented for them the sense of infinite possibility, the raw quick of life that is embodied in the image of youth. His loss is our diminution; the memory of his abiding promise is our hope.

BLACK MAN

The things we can't see
Or things we can't hear
Or things we can't feel
Are what I call fear

A lurk in the dark
A snake in the grass
The stranger next door
We too often pass

The things that are different
Or the things that have changed
Or things that confuse us
Are what give us pain

Children who grow up
And women with plans
But the greatest of worries
Is the success of Black Man

WHAT OF MY COLOR?

My bumps, my bruises
My scars, my cuts
These have no need
To be covered up

My thoughts, mistakes
And flaws are one
Upon this dark journey
I come - they come

And what of my color?
Should this be a thorn?
Should I hide the blackness
Of which I was born?

I look in the mirror
And smile to myself
I'm proud to be Black

Education is a companion which no misfortune can depress, no crime can destroy, no enemy can alienate, no despotism can enslave; at home a friend, abroad an introduction, in solitude a solace, and in society an ornament, it gives grace and government to genius.

The yearbook staff would like to extend very special thanks to Giles Borghardt, Jen Boynton, Tim Gibb, Kamillah Males, Carter Meyer, Claire Hall, Kim Setze, Jen Vernon, Christina Robbins, Webb Armentrout, Scott Henderson, Will Wood, Kate Crowley, Laura Shaffer, Laura Palmer, Gretchen Bok, Kari Rolph, Elizabeth Hickok, and Hardy Gieske. We would also like to thank Carol Stegeman for her photos, Marc Cheban for help with layouts, Duncan Holcomb for writing many copies, Bob Colburn and Gail LeBlanc for arranging the team photos, Dyann Miller for help in the darkroom, Hoover Sutton for drama photos, and especially to Mr. Desalvo. The yearbook would not have been possible without your help.

THE 1990 YEARBOOK STAFF
This year's baseball team had a unique season. Even though our record of 6 - 10 seems a bit disappointing, the team had a great time and played well together. Winning several big games against Friends and Tatnall and a very close and competitive game with Tower Hill were the highlights of our season. Good luck to the underformers, and have a great season next year.
BACK ROW: Mr. DeSalvo, Weinhold, Virden, Lukes, Butler, Weber, Schleber, Mr. Lyons. FRONT ROW: Abraham, Yearwood, Williams, J., Otero, Leyon, Hargrove, Jenkins, Simpson.
The Reign Continues.

The 1990 Boys Varsity Tennis team successfully defended the state title, as well as winning the Conference. We had a 14-1 season and were undefeated in the state. We would like to thank Mr. Holcomb for his help in making this all possible. We will miss him dearly next year. We will be back to continue the reign in 1991.

STATE CHAMPS 1990

BACK ROW: Goldsworthy, Al-Faisal, Alexander, Zehner, Stebbins, Gieske, Mr. Holcomb. FRONT ROW: Marquez, Harrell.
Conference Champions
Again In 1990!

This year we successfully defended our conference championship thanks to Em and Liz and their awesome leadership. We had a great season with a 12-2 record. We'll miss all the seniors and Niki next year; we never could have survived without all of her help. Thanks especially to Mrs. Roach for her great coaching and support. We hope next year will be as much fun and we're looking forward to it.
BACK ROW: Francisco, Fogelman, Stegeman, Erard, Sell, Mechling, Bannerman, Jones, Mr. Austin. FRONT ROW: Wilcox, Cheng.

"A year to remember," that's how Coach Price began his first talk to the varsity boys' lacrosse team. With the help of coaches DuPont and McLean, and our senior captains Gibb, Carey and McCaleb, the season was indeed a very memorable one. With an overall record of 8 - 3, the team was the lacrosse surprise in the state. Seven of this year's starters will be returning next year to give us something to look forward to.
The 1990 Girls Varsity Lacrosse team finished with a 6 and 7 record. It was a major improvement over last year's season due to the great coaching of Ms. Brown. The whole team learned many new techniques and they worked well together under co-captains Mildred Joyner and Jen Boynton. Congratulations on a great season and thanks to Kano and the JV team for their support.

This year's 1st boat had a rough season filled with ups and downs. During the season we beat every crew we raced, except for Kent and LaSalle. However, at the Mid-Hudson Regatta, Stotesbury, and the Nationals, we were unable to place after very tough qualifying races. We hope to have better luck next year. Thanks again Mr. Washburn for a great season.
