The Class of 2003 dedicates the Griffin to...

Davy Staats

The Class of 2003 would like to present this year’s Griffin to Mr. Davy Staats. Mr. Staats has contributed greatly to the school, serving as the Master Carpenter since 1984 and grounds keeper since 1963. Not only has he been a valuable staff member, but a great source of entertainment. Only Davy Staats could get away with the stuff he has said. He always offers good humor and spirit. He spent his time here not only on his work, but bonding with the student body. We send Mr. Staats off into his retirement with wishes, congratulations, and thanks. Keep the blue gr...

St. Andrew’s Indoor Soccer League, or SAISL, is the most popular organization at SAS. This year saw the most successful season in SAISL history. The league’s 52 games drew record crowds with an average of 82 fans/game. One hundred and fifty-two students and nine faculty played on the fifteen teams that made up SAISL. A 7 game playoff determined the winner of La Copa. Eight All-SAISL players were chosen to battle the faculty the day after the championship to see whether the students or faculty own the soccer realm of school. SAISL served as a stress reliever in the somewhat dreary winter at Saint Andrew’s and it took commitment by players, fans, and faculty alike to make this a success. SAISL thanks the entire community for the support and enthusiasm that made this year such a great success. We are confident that the enthusiasm and competence displayed by this year’s commissioners will be upheld next year by Matt Roach.

Some awards and thank yous:
First of all, a thank you to all the players who made the games possible. And then to all the fans, who made it such fun for those who played. And finally Mr. Caldwell, for the hours he spent in the small gyr protecting the sanctity of the game. Without any of these, the success we had this year would not have been possible.

The Golden Boot- given to the player who scores the most goals in the SAISL season.

Damon Wilson

The Johnny Cochran Defense Award- given to the player who exhibits strong defense against all odds.

Scott Willey

The John Peter Austin Goalkeeping Award- given to the goalkeeper who best shuts down offenders’ hop for excitement.

Greg Montgomery

The Terrell Owens Excitement Award- given to the most exciting player

Jim Williams

The Ruben Amarasingham Spirit of SAISL Award- Given in honor of the founder of SAISL, this award goes to the combatant who best exemplifies the spirit of SAISL

Angel Gonzalez

The Dan Quayle Award- Given to the player who had the most embarrassing moment.

All boys who got tooled by Alexa Caldwell

The Marc F. Cheban Team Excitement Award- Given to the most crowd-pleasing team.

Co. Jones Grand Es.

Quote of the Year:

“Coming soon: Black folk on the Mural. There’s gonna be black folk on the mural!!!

-Joe Turley
Highlights from the season:

- Khalib’s one shot at glory and unbelievable focus
- Jim Williams’ fat suit, used (unsuccessfully) to court Sarah Walter
- Joe Turley preaching racial equality in SAISL against the protest of Mr. Cheban
- Nik Karbelnikoff hair raising fracture, and later return to glory
- Greg Montgomery’s surprise performance in goal
- Jim Williams’ signing with the SHARPIE
- Damon “Showtime” Wilson’s ejection after taunting Mr. Caldwell
- Wifflebat’s near upset of Mural
- Domino’s introduction to SAISL
- SAISL’s record t-shirt sale that endowed SAISL for the next twenty-eight years
- Jim Williams’ Christmas tree
- The freshman team’s defeat of the Lads
- The DSL girls’ consistently uplifting commitment to SAISL
Forms
Shall I compare thee to the Class of 2003
Thou art more lovely and more obedient

Do you really want to be compared to the Class of 2003?
Just because you are more lovely and more obedient doesn't make you a better person

Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May
And Springtime’s pranks hath all too short a date
The darling buds of May aren’t sure what the pranks will be yet, but they’re going to be good.

Sometimes too hot the eye of the administration shines
And often are their gold complexions angered Angered? At us? Us at them? Too many prepositions. We didn’t learn grammar in English class.

And every fair from fair sometimes declines
By chance or nature’s changing course
Is it not our fault? Shakespeare’s words, not ours

But Metro’s eternal fury shall not fade
Nor will we lose possession of the freedom thou ow’st

Let’s away with study
Folly’s sweet treasure all the pleasure of our youth time enough for age to think on truth nor shall death brag, thou wand’rest in his shade

when in eternal lines to time thou grow’st
we decided to embrace the ambiguities of this line.
We feared that if we attempted to analyze it, we would over simplify the profound complexities that define Shakespearean sonnets

So long as Cheban can breathe, and Roach can see
So long lives St. Andrew’s and this give life to thee.

Thank you to all the faculty, underformers, and staff who have made our time here so wonderful
As the year began, the V form students immediately took notice that they needed to "step up to the plate", and it a metaphysical grand slam, the likes which had been never been seen, and will never be seen again! From the mad -game to the studious habits of the V form, we could see that our potential was infinite as we left the carol shout, we were confident that our abilities to lead this school to greatness would be utilized. When the year began to close, the well indowed men and bountiful women of the V form knew that they would rise to greatness and truly dominate all the St. Andrew's is.
With the addition of 28 new classmates, the 4th form was ready to rule the school. Thanks to a few Jamaicans: some southern belles, a couple of New Yorkers, and a very tall Brit (to name a few), there was no reason to doubt the utter coolness of the class of 2005. Most will never be the same. Thank goodness for Ms. McGrath and her baking.

Semi-formal was incredible, thanks to our organized planning and successful distribution of tasks. Thank you to our form advisors, our teachers, coaches and dorm parents. Two more great years to come – are you ready?
Our class is a group, who, if we put our heads together, can accomplish anything. From fun games to great community service projects, this freshman class will stick together as we row and learn to make great things happen. Here's to 3 more years!

HMS Pinafore

The cast of the HMS Pinafore was truly one not to forget. What, never? Well, not for a long time anyway. Sam cursed his lowly station despite Johnny's efforts to show that Sam was any man's equal... except his own. Margaret commiserated with Amanda about their sorry lot, while Peyton barked out orders... not forgetting to say "if you please," of course. Sarah tried to cozy up to Johnny to no avail, while her sisters and her cousins and her aunts do a little cozy-ing up of their own with some buff and polite sailors. For a British tar is a soaring soul, and so was the cast of the Pinafore.
It has been 33 years since St. Andrew's had an undefeated football team. This year, the Saints set a new standard. Led by a strong group of 9 seniors, the team set pre-season goals of an 8-0 record, a conference championship, and bringing the canon back. For the third straight year, the team kept the canon and won the conference, only this time, finishing with a perfect 8-0 record. The Saints overcame doubt and injuries to finish one of the best seasons St. Andrew's has ever seen. Setting new records with every step the offense and defense took, the 2002 Varsity football team marched all over their opponents to finally bring St. Andrew's another undefeated season. The football team would like to thank the entire coaching staff, in particular Mr. Hyde. Without them, our season would not have been possible.

Volleyball

Remember the game when:
Liz was on a serving streak, putting down a series of aces like Wha? Cindy received a serve, only to have Rabs hustle back for the second touch, and then Michelle, in the back of the gym sent it sailing over to the other side, maintaining the point? Claire came in and surprised everyone with her strength and her consistent hits? Elaine tore across the court to pick up some trash, dashed back to setter position and set up a beautiful hit? And Cristin spiked the ball (without net interference!) to the left back corner for the last point? Ya. That was our victory over Westtown.

Thanks to everyone on volleyball: Jenn, who stayed positive and was a pillar for JV to lean on; Dawn, for her tenacity and her determination to excel; JP, for her coolness; Monique, for her seriousness; Shayna, for her incredible improvement; KyuBin for her killer serves; Joan for continuing to support us despite her “broken” thumb; and of course Courtney and Chad for keeping us in line. And thanks to our coaches who brought new life to our team.

Thanks for living it girls, and continue to find the heart.

Love, your captains

Are you ready, ladies?

Henry James once wrote “there are few hours in life more agreeable than the hour dedicated to the ceremony known as afternoon tea”, but it is quite obvious that good ‘ol Henry has never seen us in action. How could tea ever hope to be tantamount to a riveting soccer game against, say, Wooster? Our money like honey team was fresh like mesh, but definitely not poo like Rue. We never missed the opportunity to smell the grits, or scream like a small child...or rather Mr. Austin. But on to the seniors. Megan forced the school to create a “most goal kicks in a season” record, but always caught on to things a minute or so too late. Danielle constantly stayed after practice to perfect her shot, forgetting that she was the goalie this year and couldn’t leave the box without getting carded. Margaret was forced to miss many practices because she was a health hazard, but then we discovered that she was really just finding things to burn at our psych parties. Virginia, when not screaming, could be found gearing up for the pizza eating contest which she was ultimately doomed to lose. Sara’s headers teamed with her new found skill of waking up for practice inspired us all. Lana, though she got carded for every piercing she has, was always polite to the refs. Sarah overcame a life threatening toe injury to be our psych party pyro. And Maggie...wait...nevermind.

We hope you all had as much fun kicking Butler as we did. We’ll miss you! Love, the captains

"We ran hard, we had fun." Girls cross-country had a exciting but difficult season this fall. Practice began in the front of the gym at 4:00pm everday...well...more like 4:05, 4:10, or whenever Mary-Alice finally decides to show up. Time for our warm-up run around the sports fields, which is always filled with grunts and cries of pain from the soreness from yesterday’s 10 mile practice. Dodie and Jessica head to Al’s for an intense workout, wishing they could run with the team instead. “Can we do sprints today?” Giselle asks Ms. Patterson, while the rest of us glare at her, pleading with Ms. Patterson to let us have an easy practice. “Actually, I don’t really mind running sprints,” Crystal the “demon of speed” Ding chimes in. “No way,” is Besty’s response to her fellow freshman Crystal, as Kimmie and Lydia try to quiet Crystal, because they know Ms. P will expect them to keep up with her during the sprints as she takes off into the oblivion. “How about ultimate frisbee?” Mary-Carson and Julia suggest. Mary-Carson is eager to show all of us the frisbee-throwing “skills” she picked up this summer from all her friends at crew camp. While the beginning of our season was rough, our performances at the end of the season showed the strength our team gained along the way. I think most of us found a new joy in enjoying the simple act of running. In the words of Catherine Steele, “from North Carolina!”, “This is the best sports team I have ever been a part of.” I think most of us share her sentiments.
Despite our losing record, we had a SUPER (yeah freshman) season. We had tons of fun in the mud, rain, and cold. Hen enjoyed watching people bite it left and right, especially Liz, Tower Hill’s personal punching bag. Brandy got Nellified in the last game by Emma’s powerful but pointless shot because the game was already over and we had won. YEAH, that’s right, WON! Have fun in the years to come—maybe, someday, you will win the Pepsi Challenge. GOOD LUCK. And always remember the words of wisdom from your captains: “EAT THE NERDS TO BEAT THE NERDS!” GO SAINTS!

Love your captains!!

Boys’ Basketball

The Saints Men’s Basketball team had a tremendous 2002-2003 season, thanks in part to the addition of some new talent. Led by captains Weeks and McAlaine, the team practiced hard and played harder. Highlights of the season include the close win over Middletown, keeping Sanford to a tight game - twice, and seeing Boateng dunk. The squad beat every other team in the conference, earning a ride to the State Tournament. Many thanks to Coach Rue, Coach Benjamin, Coach Hyde and the seniors: Dan, Doug, Zach, Colin and Dave. Watch out next year, this team is going to be unbeatable!

Girl’s Basketball

This year’s team, although very young, did not lack enthusiasm. Almost all of the players were so excited about the season that they came back to preseason a day early. The team was coached by Effie and Costa, “the ball magnet.” Effie always made sure that we kept on shooting. “If you miss the first 50 lay-ups, you’ve gotta take the 51st cause what else are we supposed to do?” Costa was always telling us about how in his day you wouldn’t start if you didn’t wear a hat and is still trying to avoid the phrase, “Mr. Costa! Lizzie stole my shorts!” Our two freshman were very...um...well...Nancy, “the stupidest smart person,” has finally discovered what an Auk is, and Asssa Sheenmnennenendooah? She gave Mr. Costa a dead leg. Really, what else is there to say? Our sophomores were just inspirational. “I just knew I could make it!” Lizzie’s afterthought about the half court shot she took at Middletown with at least a minute left down by 20. Although a pathetic Kentucky fan, Flora was not afraid to drive with 10 seconds left and down by 30. “Do it for Steve!” The juniors were very competitive. Liz invented the wipeout column, and Megan is still chasing Liz’s wipeout record, although her collision with the chairs (and then the wall) gained her 7 points. Daphne, on the other hand, is still questioning her identity and purpose after the halftime talk at the Auk’s court. Elaine wasn’t competitive; she just knew she was better. The seniors had many memorable moments. Michelle is still reliving her finest moment in basketball when she made her first shot in taps. While contemplating why she is intimidating, Margaret finally made a three in a game despite the distraction of her heinous red shoes. Our best performance was definitely at The Pusey Center against the Red Lion Christian Red Lion Christians. Lizzie, Daphne, and Margaret were constantly in a battle, which ended up with Margaret bleeding or Lizzie’s arms zipped up in her jacket or Lizzie’s entire body taped up or Lizzie on the ground. Coincidentally Daphne’s attacks were never revenged. Courtney is still trying to get Scatman out of her head. And who could forget “the greatest stat takers of all time”? John and Spencer didn’t miss one of Liz’s 39 rebounds in the PDS game. That’s basketball.

With the loss of some fast seniors from the previous year, the girls’ swim team knew that the season was going to be difficult. Originally, we had intended to win the sportsmanship award by graciously allowing the other teams to win, but then at the end of the season we realized that there wasn’t any sportsmanship award. So instead, we resorted to stalking Eddie Hickman and, well, trying to swim fast too. Besides the Beast that is. Despite the lack of chicken, and anything else resembling decent food, we all managed to swim season bests. During peak week, Frisky and the Machine forced everyone to roll around in the snow...in speedos. And dag nabbit, the all enjoyed it. The season culminated with some of the girls being faster than the boys, with amazing times at discs and states for everyone. And, by the end, we disproved the popular theory that you can’t swim fast and look good at the same time. Once again, that’s besides the Beast.

The Men's Varsity Squash Team was predominantly young this year with a combined two years experience at the five through ten spots. The players working at these spots were consistently challenged by the JV players at the bottom of the lineup was always shifting. This boded well for a balanced team of competitors to challenge the other next year. The strength of this year's team lay in four seniors at the top of the lineup: Paul Koprowski, Adam Finn, Owen Cadwalader, and Greg Montgomery. These players along with the number five and six players, John Gerard and Nick Manice, were looking forward to a competitive showing while hosting the Mid-Atlantic Tournament. However, the tournament was cancelled due to large snowstorms that hit the Mid-Atlantic Region. These six players were plagued by injury and illness throughout the season with seldom a whole team able to compete together. The team was finally healthy and complete when the Mid-Atlantic tournament arrived and was under-seeded due to losing close matches when at full strength. After the last and best week of practice the year, the team was looking forward to shocking the teams they had lost to in the regular season, but weather would not allow it. Best of luck to the members of next year's team which will have a more experienced and a very balanced lineup.

Mr. Speers, you’ve got your squash team. What were your other two wishes?

With a conglomeration of pick-up lines, Chesapeake Chicken, the pretty good joke tape, incredible psych notes, and guiding the ball with our racquets, the women’s varsity squash team had a most excellent season. We all improved immensely as the season progressed; we even won some matches at the end! In lieu of Mid-Atlantics, we played the faculty and triumphed, especially over the English department (that means you, Mr. Austin). Mr. Speers, thank you for all your pearls of wisdom, energy and “guidance”. We will miss you and the rest of the team next year.

On Ode To Squash

Incredible athletes, in good shape we are, Heralding from Easton, Korea, and afar. Many of us were first-time players at the sport, But that did not stop us from wearing our skirts quite short. Armed with red sweatbands we intimidated our foe, When to Episcopal, Potomac, and Hill we did go. Although we often got lost along the way We somehow managed to maintain our high level of play. 5 red lines, 10 down and backs, our coach kept us in shape, When we got to every ball our opponents stared, mouths agape.

Squish ‘em squash ‘em that’s our custom. Come on Saints, let’s readjust ‘em. GO SAINTS!

Wrestling

Spanish rap, rubber gloves, no sunlight, and spinning! Wrestling— you’ve got to love it! Our team this year was one of the strongest in years. We had more DISC conference champions and place winners since the teams of the 60’s. We pummeled, we fought, we won. We relived our schoolgirl childhoods by jumping rope and skipping every day. We cheered, we prayed, we cried. Actually, there’s no crying in wrestling. But we had another great year with our fearless leader, Duff, who made us just a little crazier. We all got our bless on with the Fightn’ Rev Hutch. Coach Carpenter kept up our morale with his, um, “timeless” jokes. Jilly and Cindy took care of us all year long; every match, ever practice, and every day they were there to support us; none of us could have done as well as we did without them. Thanks to the seniors for their insight. For everyone else, we know you’ll make next season another benchmark year.

Corridor Life
Welcome to another episode of “The M Junior Hunters”

As we explore the barren wasteland of North Hall searching for the wild beasts (Juniorus phunus inhibitum) we come across traces of their existence, but no specimen has yet been found. Watch now as we enter their lair:

Oh no - we have forgotten that it is past midnight and their sharp hearing has kicked in, putting them into attack mode.

We have caught a plethora of specimen today and proceed to tag & label them for future observations. The captured specimen are as follows:

Cristin talkus phonus to Darnellus
Zoe phugus Whoopus
JP sleepus maximus
KyuBin messus in comminus
Sara spazzus
Daphnus absentus ofthenus
Elainus workus nocturnus
Megan DVDus maximus
Amanda singus oftenus
Rachel oweus 10 buckus
Cristina moodus ferocimous
Brooke shrillus voicus
Sarah sisterus Tedus Ungus
Sydnor smarterus than seniorus
Claire gilmorus militantus
Liz goesus both waysus
Cory seniorus-juniorus hybridus

rikey! Zoe phagus whoopus escapes and mauls Sara - Captain Obvious. Emmanonal Sunshine, grabs a clock while Maggie - Captain Worthless, points and ghs at Liz - Admiral Indimo, who is savagely beating Zoe phagus whoopus. Mmmander Zoid is sitting in a corner flipping out while Danielle - Corporal Prostinator, kicks a juniorus in the shins. Jenn - Sergeant Boots, subdues the phagus h her heel. We place food in the nets and they attack each other visciously. In end, the intrepid explorers and the juniori come together to eat, drink, be merry, I live happily ever after in harmony.
Highlights of the average week on Sherwood corridor:

Monday: Griffin, who once again rolls onto corridor late mumbling some excuse about his knee or the clocks not being synchronize passes Cuth watching some punk music video in the common room with Page.

Tuesday: Spencer is depressed about how horrible the Giants did the night before, but is quickly consoled by Florida who is in the same position with the Buccaneers. Damon is found in the bathroom admiring himself while Blue does some sort of Crib/Raptor dance in the hallway.

Wednesday: Tarlton is complaining about the cranberry cookies the kitchen gave us, Peyton is still singing the hymn that we sang in chapel, and duPont is repainting his shoes purple.

Thursday: Roach, Ernst, Blue, and Griffin scream in the common room about the recent Fifa 2002 match. DeSalvo still isn’t sure if he is white, and for some reason, Wes thinks he’s huge.

Friday: Ashby, Hugo, and Brian are in Ms. McGrath’s apartment while Carey is still wondering why the 32\textsuperscript{nd} stroke felt so bad in the other day’s crew practice. Neil and Darby are asleep but are woken by some sort of odd techno coming from Brett’s room while John walks down the hallway back to his room.
10:00 As usual, little work has been accomplished but it has been a merry night for all. A few junior straggle in, and Mr. Wallace comes in with Jeb, who is barking. Kate goes into her room to find Ky Bin asleep in her bed...again. Erica entertains us with the dinosaur dance, wearing squash goggles. Jen gets her twelfth phone call of the night from a mysterious suitor. Dawn retreats to the computer room while Bianca sits on the couch and tries to follow the conversation going on around her. Lan takes on the motherly role and comforts us at the prospect of a long night ahead. Jen, still on the phone, gets a phone call on the other phone. Kimmy comes in and begins to enthrall us with a story. "Y'all! This is so weird. Oh my god! And then he...I just can't tell you. Oh my god, it was so funny. She proceeds into hysterical laughter. Everybody tries to understand until Molly's arrival at 10:30. She brings with her gossip from St. Andrew's and Hollywood, making sure we are all well informed of worldly matters. Cindy, Rabs, and Michelle bring down a stereo and perform. Cindy and Rabs are good at hip thrusts and Britney moves, but Michelle shines as she reveals her mad skills in bopping and dancing. 10:44, Virginia busts in, on time, as usual. She suggests laundry basking and sledding and Mary-Carson jumps at the proposal of late-night activity as she munches on carrots and drinks V-8. Yum. At 12:30, people disperse and begin to work. Bianca, in a moment of inspiration at 2:00, says, "You know how sometimes when you're talking about the weather but really you're talking about life?" Dawn reemerges from the computer room and joins in the philosophic discussion that becomes deeper each moment. Finally, at an hour well into the night, all lay sound sleeping in their beds.

Day in the Life of Voorhees

8:00 A.M. Micah wakes up thinking he's overslept and takes a shower and mumbles insanities toward his beloved seniors.

8:30 The aroma of grilled beef fills the corridor as Anthony wakes up and makes breakfast.

10:00 Andy hits snooze on his radio.

10:30 We hear the call of Boateng as Dan thanks the rap, which soon causes Paul to exercise his disciplinary power. Andy hits snooze on his radio.

10:40 Andy yet again wakes up and hits snooze on his radio.

11:05 The academic day starts, and Alex Scott still in the shower. Andy's alarm goes off, he realizes it's the academic day, and hits snooze again.

11:15 Ed wakes up, and walks into class with a glazed look on his face.

12:00 PM Academic day ends. Hunter, Teddy, and Steve resume their videogames.

12:30 PM Brice, Stafford, and JJ leave for basketball practice.

3:15 PM They return.

3:45 PM Zolnick attacks Nathan with his duct-tape arsenal, due to an insult made about the Philadelphia Flyers.

4:12 PM Eric Martin seen defending himself with a light saber against the wrath of Micah.

4:30 PM Sign in with Dave Amos, who is seen threatening the Voorheesians, without the help of nnnnnnnnnnj!

4:27 PM Paul accidently calls Scott Eric again.

4:28 PM Ricardo and Matt Primo put on their boy hats to impress the ladies.

5:00 PM Check in on corridor.

5:06 PM Will Williams arrives late on corridor getting investment tips on the front lawn.

5:27 PM Brice is seen coming out of the bathroom with blue dye stains on his lower d omen.

8:00 PM Lights out.

9:13 PM Will and Peter are seen out of rooms with frayed blankets draped over their beds singing Celtic chants to Mr. Costa.

...And Their Champions

"Esse Quam Viden"

A Day in the Life of Upper Moss

Brandy and Lana- have chronic insomnia due to their inability to maintain order on corridor basic lack of time management...a skill that supposedly should have been acquired sometime be their senior year.

Blair and Ziza- undoubtedly the future Brandy and Lana

Jesse and Ashley- spend their time dressing up as Buzz Lightyear, planning a wedgie attack Alicia while bustin’ out the nasty cheese from their seniors’ fridge.

Chloe and Kirkland- the dorm shopping mall and closet, having a bit of trouble fighting off boys, and stubbornly refusing to go to bed without hearing one of Lana’s bedtime stories...

Shayna and Nathalie- all shaved and ready to go...our perfect little angels

Christina and Anstes- while kickn’ it with Brandon Boyd of Incubus, “accidentally hear stories from next door through the outlet

Cora and Courtney- Lana’s faithful psychologists, listening to her vent for hours while secr wishing that she’d just leave them alone and let them sleep

Antonia and Alicia- taking pictures of their dead stuffed animals (Ratty and Monker), hidin Brandy’s bed, reading up on the hidden secrets of the magical Ouiji board, and screaming down hallway running from spirits and wedgies...En francais, of course.
What is there to like about Schmolze? Well, if one were to scan the corridor without entering any rooms or meeting anyone, he or she would settle quickly on our couch. It is really nice. There is something to be said right off the bat for a corridor that can catch your eye with one big leather couch. However, there is infinitely more to learn when one ventures into a room, or Ms. McGrath's bustling apartment...
e Quad: Chike "Lawless" Lawrence-Mitchell, Matt Herman, Grayson affenburger, and Tom Hoffecker -What is there to say about a room that only blasts Sabbath, and that pioneered extreme/aggressive chair riding?

ard/ Montgomery: A Purple Sequin hat? A mannequin dressed in a pink thong? one would wonder, but he/she must appreciate their talents--John and his mate knowledge of “masseuses” and Tyler...well, we all know Tyler.

as: This man has the most sophisticated computer speakers we have ever seen. He quiet, respectful, and he likes long walks on the beach.

ahan/ Hickman: Looking for companions who like the Bible. These two offer, by the most comfortable and hospitable room on the corridor.

ter/ Kent: These two humbly reside in, what is in my opinion, the smallest double he school. The most striking thing about this duo is their persistent presence in common room.

utam: Computer games and an occasional utterance: "Umm...smack you.” There o much to learn from Gautam--how to heckle SAISL effectively, and how to lurk.
cott/ Whiteman/ Kirby: Whiteman-the sneakiest kid we know. “Albus vir sum”-t is for you, Whiteman. Kirby-One of Butrough’s finest. He might rule a small entry one day. Walcott- Wipplebat Mafia? Everyone thought he looked hot in McGrath’s dress. Nice legs!

anson: Johnson rules with an iron-whisk and an antler. Johnson found his A-game s year.

ice/Smith: Nick-the only person who can stare at a framed picture to see his chest r all day. Smith-the only person who can stare at his roommate staring at a framed ture to see his chest hair all day.

as/Stayton/Hendrickson: The Breathing Method. Three seniors-one small room-e party.

 McGrath: “The only thing in my apartment that is mine is my peppermint bark.”

all love you.

Welcome to Utopia (a special place) where everyone reads or plays board games and no one knows what a x-box is. We have study hall with our doors open. We brush our teeth at 10:20 and go to bed at 10:30 maybe 10:29, no questions asked, except for Colin. Technology frightens us. And, our RL “Percy” still goes to breakfast.

But, we have two demons on the corridor: THE ORGAN MASTER and THE COLLEGE COUNSELOR.

They have tried hard to foil our fun, but we slayed the dragons. In fact Jamie, with the backing of Fitz in his heart valiantly rode the Lyon, Chris Lyons that is (he finally did break that cigarette habit) to slay the College Counselor. Fowler tried so hard to slay the organ master that his hand became petrified.
Owen loved the country music, I wonder why? Johnny Allen calculated the work done by the Virginia reel, but got stopped by the beauty of his TI. Brink was confused and arrived ready for Viking battle. His tongue was loose and his voice cried: Gilthoniel A Elbereth! J. C. joined in and tried to rap realizing he couldn’t, he drove home, again.

Tyler showed up 25 minutes late.

Colin argued.

Well after that everyone was quite tuckered out except for Dave, so he crammed the common room and then went to bed. And Pierce returned to his electronic womb. The next day, Sam tried to hook up, a wireless network, with ill. Eric called his Dad and no one knew what he said. Chauncy waddled by and leaked something about a dragon ball. Mark gelled his hair. Danny looked confused and scampered away to Chauncey and his Ball Z. Brandon gave me attitude. Mitch rubbed his, well you know (rhymes with ripples). Ill smiled. George listened to TBM and cried with the bittersweet tears of a love short before its blooming. John W. destroyed the one who must not be named, then went to go find his brother Warwick. Late that night Mitch and Colin b whacked, as the Organmaster says, while Murtaugh, Chuncey, Eric, Pierce and Fowler stayed up all night fragging each other talking about quacking. What? II maybe it isn’t such a utopia.
In early September of 2002, the inmates of Pell-katraz didn't know what they were getting into. They packed up their bags, left home, said goodbye, kissed mom and dad on the cheek, gave one last little cry.

6 guards were waiting upon arrival, 4 seniors, 2 chiefs assigned to ensure the inmates survival. Some inmates were tall, some inmates were short. Some were artistic, some talented at sport.

The guards whispered among themselves, “this group’s a little strange”, They’re obsessed with Christmas carols, and odd little games. Early in the morning they’re in the hallways, doing crunches, And when they eat honey bunches of oats, they pick out all the bunches.

Guards: “To get them into bed we round them up like cattle, Every night its like we’re fighting a battle. We’re gonna have to start using the whip Unless these little twerps stop giving us lip

The Fleming Platoon is ready for battle! This talented and sometimes strange group of individuals both satisfied and entertained their drill sergeants' requirement of strict obedience and pain. However, let us take a moment to describe a typical day in the platoon to capture the essence of these fine individuals.

0500: Our international intelligence personal from Korea wakes up to his fellow soldiers snoring and decides this would be a great time to finish up his biography of G.W. Bush. 0600: Cadet Jagar gets up and joins him while reading up on the Pengui; latest lost. 0700: Cadet Voltner wakes up to wander the hallways before breakfast. 0800: Cadet Diesel goes through his daily striked regimen in order to get jacked. 0900: Cadet Squatting Tiger, in his ignorance, wakes his general up and is dealt with accordingly. 1000: Cadet Dougie A.K.A Mac Daddy entertains his superiors with daily push-ups. 1100: Cadet Jorge practices his cha cha moves in order to impress ladies. 1200: Cadet Pablo Escobar (no relation) engages in a good ole game of GT while saluting to his superiors with a strong "Sir!" 1300 Cadet C Grove can be found recording his latest installment of the "Fleming Song" 1400 Cadet Woman can be found sleeping or working on the next vestry project. 2231: Cadets Georgie Porgie and Dougie have urinary problems.

We belong to the light, we belong to the thunder. We belong to the sound of the words we've both fallen upon. Whatever we deny or embrace is worse or for better. We belong, we belong together.

-Pat Benatar

Sar: I will never forget the first day you asked me to walk to the square dance. It is like I always tell you; God gives you what you need at the right time. Every single night I thank the Lord for handing you to me - despite everything, it was the greatest gift I have ever received.

-Pat Benatar

I believe in angels, the kind that heaven sends. I believe in angels, but I call them my best friends.

I see skies of blue and clouds of white. The bright blessed day, the dark sacred night. And I think to myself what a wonderful world.

-Louis Armstrong

Meg, I would have to describe me as the diet to your coke. Whether it is flipping out over the same song, or becoming teary over the same commercial. I cannot explain the connection we have; I feel incredibly fortunate to have met someone I am so in sync with. We've always been there for each other, and I know this will never stop because I love you too much to ever let go.

-Beyond thanks:
Graham: You'll always remain my Charleston stud- thank you for being my best friend. Molly: Thanks for always being you, I love you. Prof:Though our BAG may suffer, you have always been there and taught us that leaving is just another step towards achieving anything we want in life. Wallaces: Thank you for being the most dedicated dorm parents: Mr Wallace, to repay you I will continue working on the jacuzzi.

Unforgettable, that's what you are. Unforgettable though far or near. Like a song of love that clings to me is the thought of you that sings to me. Never before has someone been more...unforgettable.

Thanks: K dorm, Alec, Dave, Ray, Worrallis, Furlonges, Chris
Megan: Thank you for always supporting me even in the times that I didn't necessarily deserve it. You are an unbelievable person, and I feel privileged that I am allowed to love you.

I want you to know that I could not have survived these four years without us, and if I had to do it again... I wouldn't change a damn thing because you are all that I care for.

Sarah: I don't know what I would have done without you these four years. I love the way we laugh, and I wish I could have been there more for you when it turned to tears. I love you and admire your strength.

Special Thanks to: Mom, Dad, Slates, Jennings, David, John, Dave & Sam- You can't imagine how hard this year has been without you both. I love you with all of my heart. Megan, Jessie, Sarah, and Carter:
I can't even begin to describe how much you mean to me. I do not know what I will do without you next year. Each of you was always there for me whenever I needed it. Not one of our friendships has faltered even when there were moments when I was not as close with you. There was never a dull moment when we were together. I cannot imagine ever making closer friendships than those that we have now.

Megan, Jessie, Carter, and Margaret:
You are the answer. He sent me my own army of angels to protect me and love me forever. I can't picture where I would be in my life without you. All our laughs and our absolutely crazy times I will remember forever. That's what I will miss the most; the way that when I am with you, the rest of the world disappears, and I am happy. Even if in thirty years we haven't spoken since graduation day, call me when you need me and I will be at your doorstep before you hang up the phone. And in the end, I'm sitting here in front of the computer and all I can really do is have faith that you four know in your hearts that you have been my entire world these past four years. I owe you everything.

Thank you:
Family: Mom- I love you more than I love myself, and I never would have come this far without you. Dad, Peter, Megan, Stephanie, and Julia- Thank you for your encouragement, patience and faith. Chris, Shannon Lindley, and Sara-I love you all. Teachers: Profe-Your endless support, guidance, and love has meant so much to me. I'll miss you a lot next year. A little history on the Party Room

The Party Room was originally inhabited by Finn, Doug, and Jim. After a bed was moved out into Eddie and Wolfe’s double, and their cool stuff moved in, the Party Room was born. The walls of the room were completely covered in tasteful decorations, mood lighting was created using 1400 Christmas lights and a 4ft black light. The party room included a surveillance system, Playstation 2, GameCube, X-Box, DVD player, VCR, and other “amenities”. Bose Surround Sound and 8 straight days of music made it a true gangster’s paradise. But the defining characteristic of the Party Room was the parties. Whether it was the Eagles’ Monday Night Football party with cover charge, guest list, and steak quesadillas, or the nightly gatherings of 10-15 people, the Party Room was a place where anyone could CHILL. Countless stories and quotes were shared in the Party Room that could never be printed, which makes them all the more entertaining.

Unas Flores Amarillas

Entra el azul moviendo sus azules, el mar y contra el cielo, as flores amarillas. Octubre llega. Y aunque sea tan portante el mar desarollando su mito, su misión, su levadura, alla sobre la arena el oro de una sola planta amarilla y se arran tus ojos a la tierra, huyen del mango mar y sus latidos. vo somos, seremos. Ni aire, ni fuego, ni agua sino tierra sólo seremos y tal vez unas flores amarillas.

Dear SAS,

What have you done to me? Signing in for breakfast for 3 years, mandatory study hall, checking in, signing out, and waking up for the infamous fire drills. I can't say that it's been easy, but it's been fun. Alex knows what I'm talking about. I'm not going to walk away from this school with memories about English exhibitions and math take homes: I'm going to remember staying up all night with Charlie, Dave, and Alex, not because I had to do work, but because I wanted to. I'm going to remember going to places on campus that have not been seen by human eyes for the past ten years. I'm going to remember the friends that I could always count on to want to get up and do something. Charlie, Dave, Brinck, Alex, Jim, Doug, this place would not be the same to me without you! Mary, you know what I would say. Nik and Ed, keep it real, and try to get some sleep sometime, preferably in your own bed.

Chris, Sarah, you guys know you rock! Brandy, how about some bowling? Grayson, Chike, Matt, Tom...you guys are...umm special to me? Brie, maybe I can come back some day for Nik and your "Beat Off." (stupid drummer joke) To my freshmen: Chauncy, my all nighters would not have been nearly as funny without you. Colin, represent. Will, you scare me. Oh yeah, and Paul Koprowski, we'll have to fold some laundry sometime, if you know what I mean... I'm just joking. I love ya man! Chris Lyons, Sam and Dave, you've always been there for me! Finally, to my teachers: Mr. Cheban, Ms. Matouk, Mr. Burk, Mr. Duffy, Hutch, Mr. Wang, Mr. O'Connell, Mr. Rue, and Mr. Chang!! I owe you all a tremendous THANK YOU. And Meyers, sorry about you penguin...I'll give it back someday...someday. Four years and running, I owe every student at this school a huge debt. Peace out!

There are too many people to thank... First and foremost, my family. You have done so much for me that I can never show how grateful I am. Al - what can I say? You've been a mentor and role model to me. Chris - I didn't know that friends like you existed. I hope you have a good time being rock stars. I don't think I'll be able to use my food stamps to buy your CDs, though. Charlie, Greg, Coach Hyde, Coach Hoopes, and the entire St. Andrew's Football team - thank you for giving me some of the best moments of my life. Ramos - keep kicking ass on the line and you'll go places. Julia - you are one of the greatest people I've ever met. Keep listening to most excellent music. Oh, if you're reading this, go buy CDs by the following bands: Pavement, Stephen Malkmus, Silkworm, Chavez, Helium, Cannibal Ox, NIN, The Wrens, The Marshes, The Strokes, The Yeah Yeah Yeahs, and Sigur Ros. Read books by George Orwell (1984), J.R.R. Tolkien (The Silmarillion, if you're a true nerd), and P.J. O'Rourke. Buy the Kalevala and The Poetic Edda and read them. That's about it... Chris, Charlie, Dave, Mary Carson, Julia, Jim, Mary Alice, Sarah, Virginia, The DHC, Team Blue, Team Red, Finn, Paul, Eddie, Doug, Khalib, Metro, Spencer, Ramos, Concert Choir, Cheban, Hutch, Duffy, Football, Al, and Chang, thanks for the great times, and I'll see you all later. - Brinckerhoff Slattery

Going to break everything down.

For a long time my lays have been in the cold, housed in darkness. Shall I pull the lays out of the cold, draw the songs out of the frost, bring my box into the house to the end of the long bench under the fine ridgepole, under the lovely roof? Shall I open my chest of words, unlock my song box, clip the end of the ball, undo the knot in the clew? Thus I will sing a really fine lay, intone a beautiful one, out of rye bread, barley beer. If no one happens to bring any beer, I will sing from a leaner mouth, intone on water to gladden this evening of ours to honor this memorable day.

I close my eyes
only for a moment, then the moment’s gone
All my dreams
Pass before my eyes, a curiosity
It’s the same old song
We’re just a drop of water in an endless sea
All we do
Crumbles to the ground, though we refuse to see Don’t hang on
Nothing lasts forever but the earth and sky
It slips away
And all your money won’t another minute buy
When will we learn
All we are is dust in the wind
Time for healing to begin
All we are is dust in the wind
Everything is dust in the wind and Dad - for your support and love - you two are my greatest role models. Lindsay - what would I do without you - are my sister and my most trusted friend. Patrick - for reminding me how to be a kid again and oh so many laughs. Nia - for making me laugh at all the wrong times and being there for me at all the right ones. Mary - for filling those nights of work with laughter - you are a sister to me. Chris - for always taking things too far and always being to comfort me. Hen - for being a great role model and fellow member of “LA.” Brandy - for the laughs and interesting night conversations. Emma - for always catching me at my most embarrassing moments. Liz - for letting me I’m not the only goofball on this planet. Michelle - for teaching me how to really dance. Dodie - you are the most talented person I have ever met. Mrs. Cottone - What can I say...great advice, great teacher, and the best Janet son impersonations I have ever seen. DEAR SON ANGEL:

AS YOU HAVE EXPERIENCED, THE ROAD OF LIFE WAS NARROW WHEN YOU STARTED, NOW IT IS GETTING WIDER.
GO FOR THE FINISH, WE ARE VERY PROUD OF YOU....
CONGRATULATIONS, MOM & DAD.
Angel: It all seemed long, but it was only the beginning. We’re both very proud of you and are so lucky to have you for a brother. Don’t forget that we’re always behind you.

Good luck in the coming years - though you won’t need it.

Love always, Naty and Dave.
Congratulations Owen! I'm so proud to be your big sister.

Owen, May all your dreams come true. Love from Mom and Dad.
CONGRATULATIONS
MAGGIE!!!!
We are so proud!!!

We love you

Thanks for all the laughter and smiles. You have made growing up such a blast! I love you lots David.
We are so proud of you!
Love,
Mom, Nick, Tommy and Carolyn

Well done David and thanks SAS!

Congratulations!
Lots of Love, Dad
Congratulations, Greg!

Thanks for all of your guidance - I will miss you next year. Good Luck!

Love, Tyler
Congratulations Margaret.

love your favorite brother.
We would like to thank Mr. Cheban for investing so much time and effort into making us what we are.
Making St. Andrew's environmentally sound...

Thank you for making the campus beautiful.
Hey Machine, Malice, Snoe, Frisky, & M-Ruanus...

Do you like chicken???

It was fun, after all, wasn’t it?
All the best, ladies.
The Beast will miss you.
The psycho from Westtown will, too.
CONGRATULATIONS BRANDY!

LOVE, MOM, DAD & BROOKE
Congratulations Margaret!
Love Clay and Anne

Both within the family and without, our sisters hold up our mirrors, our images of who we are and of who we can dare to become.

- Elizabeth Fishel
We are so proud of you!

XOXO Mom, Clay & Anne
Congratulations Eddie!

Love,
Mom, Dad, & Emily
Andy,

Graduation is upon us and how fast these 18 years have gone. Congratulations!

I am so proud of you and Adam. I remember when you were born a few days before my birthday I told everyone you were the best birthday present! You were full of energy, love and life and still are today. You and Poppy were inseparable and whether you know it or not you helped him through his illness. Even at such a young age, you had a compassion and caring for others. No words can express how wonderful you are to Mommom! Your younger brother looks up to you and you are always there for him no matter how busy with unconditional love and advice. Your wisdom goes beyond your years.

I remember in Fourth Grade you going to St. Andrew's with Mrs. Desalvo and you came home and said that was where you wanted to go to school. You had a dream, you stuck to it, and you accomplished it. I know that you will have many more accomplishments throughout your life.

I am so very proud and honored to call you my son. Thank you for growing up to be a person that I know will make a difference in this world.

Thank you also to Kent School and St. Andrew's for helping mold the wonderful young man you are today.

I Love you........Mom
COLIN, congratulations on the completion of your high school experience!!! You truly are a gift from GOD, and you've brought us nothing but joy since the day you were born!!!

Lotsa luv, Mom and Dad.

Thank you, St. Andrew's, for adding yet another dimension to the remarkable young man's life.
Congratulations Jenn!

Can't believe you are graduating. We are so very proud of you. There are so many new experiences waiting and we hope for you all the best. Go as far as your abilities will take you and remember - when you get the chance in life, dance.

Love you so much,
Mom, Dad and Katie
Margaret -
What a joy it has been watching you grow.
In everything you encounter in life - have fun, play fair, do your best!
We love you...

Congratulations Sarah! and the Class of 2003!

Sarah, thanks for all the joy! God Bless you always!

Love, Mom, Dad, Lindsay, and Patrick
Congratulations! Success is never by accident. We loved watching your drive to excel and when you didn’t reach the top every time we were proud of your human spirit and perseverance. Most important is your character. You are an independent thinker and a really good person.

Thank you St. Andrew’s for a wonderful four years.

St. Andrew's 2002-
Staff Appreciation

The Class of 2003 would like to thank the kitchen, housekeeping, maintenance, and grounds staffs for making St. Andrew’s an enjoyable living experience. The school would shut down without your work (especially since we would probably be breaking major health and safety regulations). Your work is recognized and greatly appreciated.

This year’s class would also like to thank the College Counseling department for their help. Getting into college would be considerably harder without your aid and patience. Thank you.

And finally, many thanks to the Business Office and School Store. Without you, we would have no way of getting pizza funds, we would have to manage our own money, and there would be no soft batch cookies. And yes, we will return the debit card unit before graduation.

Thank you!!!

Girls' Lacrosse

The Girls' Lacrosse team had yet another amazing season. The team was undefeated with a 17-0 season, beating conference rival Tower Hill three times. The Saints were Conference Champions and State Champions. Many thanks to the Captains: Brandy, Emma, and Margaret, for their outstanding leadership of the team this season. Best of luck next year, we'll miss you!

It was a week before spring break and the outlook was bleak. Any athlete over 6 feet was playing boats. With one returning varsity senior, and jv veteran Dave Wehrs, the SAS defense looked weak. Over the next months, a bond was formed and the St. Andrews Sewing Circle was born. Lead by the lethal brains of Goober, the level headed Alex, and the positive vocal leadership of Mike, opposing teams feared their aggressive fury, especially Ed. On the offensive end, a plethora of skilled players spearheaded an always consistent, high scoring offense. Lead by the left-handed prowess of Griffen, Warren’s changes of speed, Ben’s cannon, and Hawkins’ field vision, there were plenty of opportunities for Neil and Tom’s infamous C-Walk. Khai’s guerrila attack would have been an added bonus, but alas, he was unable to change his prom obligations. These two forces combined with the mental stability of Dave in goal lead to a strong finish to the season, especially when the power house known as Big T-Bone arrived with his JV cohorts. Oh yeah, Greg was pretty good too, but not as good as Eddie. However, none of this would have been possible without the Reverend and his buddy, JC. Oh yeah, Ed and Brice played some, but we forgot where, oh well. Good luck Crew, keep stroking hard.
Girls’ Crew

Girls 1st Boat-We do more than just row. Margaret practices her ethnic linguistics while M-C memories the latest quote from Super Troopers. Michelle develops a new paint thinner and Lydia works to improve the length and depth of her burps for the next regatta competition. Meanwhile, Hen tries to reach her oar with a nasty arch, while Peggy continues to deny her father’s involvement with the mob. Liz, well, Liz is a dead fish. Sarah continues her research on a new, cutting edge edible algae for the next boat initiation. In the bow, Molly strives to accessorize her outfit to match the new pink oars. They do all this and can still pull like hell! Thank you Mrs. Doyle and seniors for your guidance and support!

First Eight: P. DeAngelo, L. Hardwick, M. Saunders, H. Kennedy, L. Howard, M. Madeley, S. Unger, M. Ruane, M. Hoffecker
First Eight: O. Cadwalader, J. Gerard, C. Carey, G. Drury, H. Beekman, N. Manice, C. Hutton, A. Finn, A. Baer

Third Boat: W. Ross, W. Clary, D. Duffy, N. Cooper, G. Toothman, H. Harris, G. Lauffenburger, J. Darby, Coach Doyle, M. Herman

Fourth Boat: J. Geewax, Z. Yap, M. Levinson, D. Walcott, M. Elder, D. Kim, A. Scott, S. Muller, P. White

Freshmen Eight: M. Kavulich, K. Taganajan, J. Reynolds, D. Fowler, S. Arnold, F. Barth, C. Grove, P. Lopez, J. Whitesell
This season we had great leadership from the seniors. It was filled with memorable moments such as blaring pink uni-suits, Mr. Brown’s jokes and hideous sunglasses, Owen’s game face, Graham’s head bob, Codie’s visits on the launch, the two coxswains on one boat, Nick “PolarBear” Manice, kiwi starts, and John making sure he left everything behind after rainy practices. Both boats had a great time together this season. We’ll remember all these moments and especially the seniors. Thanks to: Graham, Owen, Alec, Adam, Walton, Johnny, and Troy.
Girls’ Tennis

This year’s team started off the season with a new coach and a new attitude. Having graduated the top 3 singles players from last year’s team, seniors Carter Brady, Dodie Press, and Virginia Mann led the Saints through a strong season. New Coach Allison Thomas had a successful first season. There were many new players on the team, promising potential for the Saints next season.

Boys' Tennis

The 2003 Tennis regular season was unpredictable to say the least, as twelve matches were either canceled or postponed. The Saints, with a core of four returning players, led by senior captain Andy Carroll at 1st singles, quickly realized their depth with the improvement of Gautum Punukollu and new comers Brandon Sigh at 3rd singles and Mike Stafford and Duncan Kirby at second doubles. After many postponed matches, the Saints had a decisive victory over the #3 team in the state, Caesar Rodney. After word of that victory got around Delaware, opposing teams began canceling matches against SAS left and right in fear of Gandolf (Eddie Chang) and his army. In the state tournament 1st doubles, Will Blue at 2nd singles, and Brandon Sigh at 3rd singles recieved seeds. 2nd doubles had a great year but ended with a frustrating loss in the quarterfinals. Will Blue had similar luck as he lost 7-5 in the third set in the semi-finals. The team came in fourth in the state, thanks to Peter Salas and Sam Baroody, who won the state title at 1st doubles. The team will miss Andy Carroll's leadership and skill, but looks to seriously compete next year for the state title. Memories: DuHast...Sobe "JACKED Apple"...why you hatin' son?...I slice you up!.....50 year old man...caveman roar...wawa(s)..@#$@ Honig! Go Saints!

This season was one of the most successful in St. Andrew’s history. On the way to an unprecedented second straight State Tournament bid, this team rolled through the conference with one clutch performance after another. On our home field, we battled the No. 1 seed to their closest game all season, 6-5. We proved that we belonged with the top teams in the state. More importantly, though, we looked good dong it. here’s to the biggest pimps in SAS history...

Jim Williams, SS took the pregame huddle to a new level, always finding positive and constructive ways to motivate us.

John Lupton, OF Furburger had a gun from 200 feet but couldn’t throw 10 feet at all.

Charlie Stayton, C best in the state. Period.

Dan McAlaine, P, OF Willing to take on the whole Wilimington Christian Bench. “Balk!!”

Paul Kaprowski, LD, DH His outfield heroics proved tragic when he broke his wrist diving during batting practice.

Jamie King, P, 2nd Base Still waving to that girl from Archmere. Who wouldn’t be?

David Amos, OF C-Monkey.

Matt Roach, INF, P Played every position in the infield and pitching well, despite setting the record for balks in an inning.

Nick Hovan, OF Except for when he hit himself in the eye, Hovan was clutch.

Dicky DeSalvo, P, OF Pitched ridiculously well in big games, seeking to reclaim the glory of April.

Matt Primiani, 3rd Base “Stone Wall” used every part of his body except his hands to block the ball.

Mac McCallum, bench McAlaine’s “boy, blue”.
