Al Wood is perhaps best known for his extraordinary work as the St. Andrew’s athletic trainer. However, this remarkable man’s professional work is but a fragment of his overall contribution to St. Andrew’s. Al is a mentor, an author, an artist, an inventor, and a father of triplets extraordinaire. Responsible for the health and well-being of the entire community, Al is the heart of St. Andrew’s athletics and integral to the school as a whole. His undying sense of humor, compassion, and infinite patience make any injury bearable. Always ready to share a story or piece of advice, Al’s inseparable connection with St. Andreans is priceless. This selfless Mr. Incredible continually devotes his time and energy to the embodiment of the St. Andrew’s ethos. Al’s valued interaction with students and immeasurable wisdom combine to make him an irreplaceable figure on the field and off. Therefore, it is with great pleasure that the Class of 2007 dedicates this year’s Griffin to Al Wood.

Thank you, Al, for all you have given us. You are the man, and we love you.

The Class of 2007
In memory of Cristin Duprey

Cristin inspired us all, students, faculty, and staff. Her smile brightened the campus; her spirit infused us with courage. She plunged into life with an enthusiasm that left its mark on everyone she met. Role model, friend, big sister, lover of children and life, Cristin dreamed big. We are all better for having known her. We will forever keep Cristin and her family in our hearts.

Oh, Baxter, you are my little gentleman. I will take you to foggy London town, because you are my little gentleman ~ Ron Burgundy “Let’s Party and Then Do Stuff!” was the battle cry of the 2006 Men’s Cross-Country Team, and indeed, there was much partying, in addition to the doing of copious amounts of stuff. It has been the claim of many (including even Head Coach “Gee, Dan, what are you gonna do?” O’Connell) that cross country, by its very nature, is a sport for social rejects, awkward misfits, and in general, riff-raff (As exemplified by such runners as Asst. Coach Morgan “Donny” Scoville). These brave, hardworking, studly men complicated that claim on a daily basis by virtue of their sheer awesomeness. What evidence is there for this, might you ask? The XC team’s Homecoming Bonfire performance raised the bar of what constitutes “incredible” for all of posterity (except for the stealing and lighting-on-fire-of other people’s bicycles; that is baaaad). And one must not forget that the Varsity squad - including Captain Jim McNinch; Seniors Henry Toothman and Chris Edge; returning Sophomore Douglas Stewart; and new-comers Schafer Newman, Tyler Gehrs, and Thatch Barton - mustered up a 5th place finish at States; one of the best performances in school history. Gentlemen, when you are old and gray, and can no longer control your own bowel movements, you will look back on this season and know that you were heroes. You made Pre proud. Thank you all for being the best team I could have asked the little 8 oz baby Jesus for [tear].

Completely Plutonic Love, Jim
Going into the 2006 season, the expectations for the football team were low. The departure of a strong senior class from the previous season combined with the untimely decision of several former players to leave the team left us with open positions and no one to fill them. As the season began, doubt continued to loom; a rough start culminated in a loss to a strong Tower Hill team. However, this seeming lack of depth dissipated with the careful preparation and organization of Coach Hyde and his valuable assistant coaches Jack Hoopes, Dermond Baine, Peter Hoopes, Jack Ashton, and the legendary Bob Colburn. A hard-working group of young and new players underwent tremendous improvement, providing the solid foundation the more experienced players needed.

Led by a core of five dedicated seniors and blessed with a talented junior class, every member of this squad stepped up to fulfill their role on the team, and because of this, a bond was formed. Because of this bond, the team overcame the looming doubt it was plagued by at the beginning of the season. Through this bond, we tore through conditioning with strength, and learned to hunger for hitting drills. Because of this bond, we were unstoppable for the final three weeks of the season, defeating Friends in an upset victory, Perkiomen in a shut-out, and Tatnall in the most crushing rivalry victory in recent memory.

Because of this bond, we took back the Cannon.

Finishing our season 5-3, 2-1 in the conference, the greatest moment of the season came at its climax, as the Cannon left Tatnall’s trophy case to rest again on the headmaster’s mantle. Special thanks to the entire student body and faculty for their avid support, to Al for keeping us healthy and conditioned, and many grateful thanks to the fantastic coaching staff who continue to teach this wonderful game.

This squad had such talent and such heart that even the notorious faculty conveniently skipped the annual faculty vs. varsity scrimmage. Led by fifteen seniors (sixteen if one includes Shagmaster Dan Ventura), the Saints went to battle in every game we played. Smurf Austin continued to lead this team with his experience, humor, and hair loss. Coach Kennedy wore crocs and struggled to distinguish between coaching and marital obligations during the soccer vs. volleyball showdown. Although we suffered heartbreaking losses to Tower Hill and Westtown, defeating Sanford in overtime twice, trouncing Friends, and ending with an overall record of 8-6-1, highlighted our season. It was a truly unforgettable experience and we seniors wish the best of luck to the 2007 squad. In the words of Coach Kennedy, “Bury them!”

As you all know, I’m not the fastest runner, I’m not even that good of a runner, but I love to run. Cross County season has always been a challenge for me nonetheless. But, this year, it wasn’t the challenge I was used to. Instead of dreading each practice, I was excited to be with all of you. As a senior, it is sometimes hard to have as much energy as you want to have. But, the energy that you girls exuded during practices brightened my day. If I was in a bad mood, all I had to do was go to practice, especially core practices. Listening to Phoebe sing, hearing Sara K., Sarah H and Mia laughing, watching Marina decrease her time again and again, Trish’s excitement about everything, Ella’s fart, Jess’s perseverance and dedication, listening to Mr. Everhart’s speeches, Karin’s gracefulness, waiting for Vivian to tie her shoe, Sarah Anne’s surprise appearances at practices, seeing Danielle, Katie and Rebecca continue to challenge themselves, Cinda’s smile, Rose’s astonishing achievements in races, the contributions Hannah and Sellers made to the team despite their injuries, even Maggie’s absentmindedness made everything soooo much better. Your attitude and energy are what made you so great and inspiring (especially to me). Despite your goofiness (which I loved), you were focused and worked hard to make the season so amazing. I am so proud of your accomplishments and hope to see all of you next year doing even better than you did this year. I could not have asked for a better season. You girls are going to be great next year!

Thank you for your craziness and constant flow of energy!

Love,
Parham
Field Hockey

Our warriors,

Although we didn't come away from this season with the dominant record we deserved, you know we wouldn't have rather played with any other group of athletes. Our hustle, humor, ferocity and spunk were incomprehensible to the snottiest of the snooty (ie, our opponents: the Independent Conference). As the true "sleepers" of the 2006 season, we surprised the kilts off of every team we met this year; luckily, they were wearing spandex, unlike Beh. Although only Mary Jo managed to look intimidating on the outside (maybe it was her heart rate monitor that did it), all of us were steely and bionic on the inside. We exaggerate not—if you doubt us, just ask that Westtown ogre what happened after she tried to fling Abby across the field. Or talk to those grizzly bears from Tower Hill, who were so quickly disillusioned when they tried to use their enormous gluts to force the ball past Ruby's unyielding stick and outstretched body. Or remember how, when Tatnall strode confidently onto our home turf, they were confounded by Kaity's full-field carries and Amanda's brick wall of defense. Or ask Heidi and Mrs. Roach about our team's uncanny ability to run absurd numbers of bowties and to play through the difficulties of our splints, sprains, and brain damage. We shocked even ourselves when our sweet smiles and giggles morphed into locker-pounding battle chants and cannibalistic pre-game rituals.

We learned so much from you guys this season; from how to be the best freshman teammate in the world (you'll be our role model next year, Till!) to how to do your hair and makeup (or not) when attending a wedding; from how to convincingly say, "I'm FANtastic" after taking a tumble to how to get a mamogram; from how to dress for yay day and not die of heat stroke to how to melt the congealed fat from Roger's heart; from how to pull right like a pro to how to laugh, run and cry my oh-so-muscular butt off. We love you beasts, and we can't wait to come watch you tear it up next year. We know you will play with resilience and gusto.

love, Hadley and Behle
EVERYBODY BREAK DOWN! HUH! (giggle giggle) You might not have realized it, but our competitive warm-up against football that day perfectly captured the spirit of our team. That one moment demonstrated several of the key qualities that made the ‘06 girls soccer team what it was. Some of these attributes were:

Fearlessness - Tiny Mary’s gigantic headers
Protectiveness - Alexa’s triumphant display of “sisterly love” during the St. Peter/St. Paul game Enthusiasm - Mac’s PK celebration jig, Mac’s bus mixes...how about just Mackenzie in general?
Flexibility - Canceled games sucked, but during every set-back we managed to keep our composure Vivaciousness - How Yayed out were our Yay Days??
Competitiveness - The fights we had over heated drills where only one team could win
Confidence - Pem’s exhibitionist actions on display for the entire boy’s soccer team Intensity - The Day After Our Last Game: Girls’ Varsity soccer still practicing.

You girls have been incredible. You always knew how to balance fun and work, and we appreciated your excitement and enthusiasm for every new challenge. This season’s improvement was immense, and we can’t wait to see you girls out there kicking butt next year! Thanks for the laughs.
Remember our cheer: Ungala, Ungala, Ungala RED!

Once again, the girls volleyball team had the best season in school history, 10-7. We had an incredible season; highlights include the game we won off of Friends, our overtime game with Tower Hill, and our last home game against Tatnall. With such an eclectic mix of girls, practices and bus rides were always guaranteed to be hilarious and offbeat. We could play under any circumstances, and we have seen it all, we dodged rabid bats in the gym, slid Nia's mouthguard across the court, witnessed a cheerleader fall off the bleachers during a time out, listened to teams pray to God, heard ridiculous ace cheers and bad warm up mixes, experienced power outages, tornado warnings, "this school has moved" notices, being stranded without a bus at Sanford, and playing in the Pusey Center... Or wait, didn't the "c" fall off the building?

Thanks Paige, Brittany, Hayley, Clare, Nia, Nina, Jess, Katherine, Nici, Kathryn, Eloise, and Bonnie for an awesome season. Remember 2006 was the year we brought spandex back-- and put St. Andrew's volleyball on the map. Love, Steph and Mariana

Final record:

12 little monkeys jumping on the bed, two suddenly died, and then there were 10...
Between the pulled groins, twisted ankles, black eyes, trial run-throughs on the obstacle death course, torn ACLs, broken collar bones, youth, and formidable opponents, our team got pretty beat up this season. But that did not stop our enthusiasm and fun. We will never forget our stellar three point shots, taking out the 6'4" (or was it 6'5"??) 300 lb monster #55 on Sanford, our beautiful reverse lay-ups (and the fights that went along with them), the amazing lunch announcements, beating our record in the bunny-drill about 5 different times throughout the season, and learning how to fight dirty in our intense 3 point knock-out drills. We may have been a semi-rag tag team, an odd bunch, but we had fun and never gave up. So thanks for the laughs—we always made it through our frustrations, and the last two weeks of practice are something we will never forget. We appreciate your flexibility and willingness to do whatever was asked of you. Thanks for everything and good luck next year!

We started this year with many challenges. After losing 7 players, we prepared for a long, difficult and probably victory-less season. Fortunately, we gained 7 valuable new players who boosted our season record to 6-4 and helped secure a second place finish in the Mid-Atlantic Tournament. Who are these new players you ask? MIA “I like long walks in the park” Fry. After schooling the rest of the team, Mia brilliantly found the shots to win at #1. Too bad her brilliance didn’t extent to directing the team to her own house. ALEXA “I have serious drinking problems” Litchenstein. Dis playa, as “Squash MVP” instilled fear in her opponents (when she wasn’t trying to drink her water) saying “I ain’t going nowhere so you can get to know me”. KIRA “I’m too good for matching socks” Niederhofer. As our only freshman, Kira had some problems not only finding her other sock but also remembering when practice was. Nevertheless, she didn’t fail to make 4-4 matches become victories. NINA “I had a really odd childhood” Punikollu. With long car rides to matches, Nina, our only returning player, kept our team enthralled/confused with her tales of quality time spend in cabinets. JESS “I don’t even own sports clothes” Crawley. Although she started the season with little athletic drive, Jess’s well defined arm muscles stepped up to the challenge and consistently intimidated her opponents and at times, even her own teammates. KATIE “I’m small but I’m fierce” Cornish. With her gangster puffy jacket, Katie brought her racquet skills to the court and proceeded to rock her opponents tennis style. NINA “Coordination is not my thing” Fleischer. A surprise addition after jumping from JV to varsity, Nina worked on overcoming her ladder issues and Mia wasn’t kidnapping Alexa before going to the bathroom. COACH “I’m even later than Kira” Speers. Mr. Speers supported us in many ways especially with late night Wawa trips. His motivational skills are worthy of a book deal even if his driving skills leave a lot to be desired. So that’s our team through and through and with two captains who liked to pretend we knew what we were doing, our path to success is obvious. We have survived intrusions to the gym, burglars at sketchy hotels, and vicious mice who planned to sabotage our team. Clearly, we stand strong. Although this is very impressive, all that really matters is that “We are going to heaven first” (Speers, 2/3/07).

We’ll miss you! –Lucy and Charlotte

We previously wondered how we would get through this frigid swim season; whether it would be Carla’s all-encompassing vocal chords, Bill Wallace’s satire-laced wisecracks (i.e. “hell, you don’t wanna eat a whole thing’a bagels, otherwise you’ll be floppin’ around on deck like Charlie the Tuna.”), cutting dairy from our diets, or Mr. Hammond’s benevolence to pull us through the season. Rather, we got through it with you; we cheered until our lungs and throats ached, we pulled a 1-2-3 on Westtown in the last relay at their pool, we were inspired by Trish’s never-ending enthusiasm and energy, we whipped out a 4-point win against Sanford, we ate the KITCHEN SINK at the charcoal pit (a feat the guys’ team couldn’t even dream of achieving). Vivian knocked off a whole minute in her 500 free, and by and by, the breaststroke machine never failed us. What a season. Thank you for your constant willingness and energy. And girls, “keep your damn bonnets on!”

Love, Your Captains,
Mariana, Rachel, and Sellers
This year, the boy's swimming team completed the most successful season in school history. Compiling an impressive 9-1 record, with our only loss coming to the state champions. The highlights of our regular season came with very narrow wins over Archmere and Seaford, both of which came down to the final relay. We also won the DISC title for the third year in a row, thoroughly dominating the competition. The boy's swim team also had an impressive showing at the state meet, finishing 4th in the state. Notable accomplishments included a 1-2 finish in the 50 Free, first time occurrence in any event in meet history, a win in the 200 Free Relay for the third year in a row, and third place in the 400 Free Relay. Oh, and we really love Mr. Wallace, too!

This year, under the new leadership of coach Chris Childers, our young St. Andrew’s squash team managed a 5 and 5 record while having the time of our lives. From extra lengthy road trips, to hilarious nicknames, to Max Dynerman’s explicit on-court lyrics, we had a great season. Our win at the Mid-Atlantic tourney solidified our standing as more than a second rate squash team, and quelled the few doubters convinced that we would not be the repeat state champions, for the 74th year in a row. Good luck next year boys, we hope you defend the title with class, sportsmanship, and political correctness.

Love,
Matt and Chris
WRESTLING

2006-2007
The 2006-2007 wrestling season succeeded in many different “countercultural” ways. Perpetually plagued by injuries, inexperience, and other adversities, the team was forced to redefine our definition of success. We found victory in finishing every practice, in waking up at 5:30 a.m. for tournaments, in Grant’s first pin against the Oompa Loompa, in Theo’s body slam of the unsuspecting Hill wrestler, in AJ’s first pin against Sanford’s Marshmallow Man. These were our triumphs. Our season cannot be measured by wins and losses, rather by progress and perseverance. Thank you to all of the wrestlers who stuck it out despite the endless trials and tribulations of the adversity that is wrestling. Good luck to you all in the 2007-2008 season.

Some memorable quotes and moments to live by:
AJ: “Primo did a number on my tailbone!”
Grant: “Lee, on a scale of one to ten, how yellow is my face?”
Primo: “I have the lower body of a Greek god.”
AJ: the Novak/Takumi stories
Derin: “Sa-sa-sa-sa-sa!” (upside down and backwards)

For those of you who made the trek down to Hillier corridor, this is what you saw. For those of you who didn’t, this is what you missed: at any hour of the day, Collin was running, Matt was worshipping his Yankee’s poster, and Zach was skateboarding while playing the piano, all the while making new rules to govern things that could not be done in their room such as touching...anything. Adam was nowhere to be found while Sam tried to wrestle anyone he could find followed by loud and generally incoherent noises. Rob Colon, undoubtedly, would be running to the corridor phone to talk to one of the many ladies in his life. Penn was blaring music out of his room while the other Rob tried to quell a tag-team wrestling match that had just broken out. Kelvin and Evan were honing their skills in epic “Magic” battles. Eventually, Evan became so good that Kelvin recruited Greg to aid his cause, to no avail. When Greg wasn’t doing that, he was telling people to get out of his room. Ryan was working. Ben was with Adam, most likely hiding somewhere and Garret was on Fleming, hanging out with all the other “G’s” Mike was eating ramen while Will was trying to find somewhere to sleep that would give him the least amount of room to move during the night. BG was laughing at both of them secretly knowing that he would one day learn to control his genius powers, team up with Pinky, and take over the world. The entire time the three of them were rearranging their room in a way that would produce the most messy room marks possible. Russell, in awe of all of this, ran away looking utterly confused. Frank was struggling to decide whether or not to sport the triple or quadruple popped collar while Malcolm was screaming at pixels and kicking things behind posters, while Ryan was working. Dae may or may not have been in his room, and while there may or may not have been sleeping. In any case, we all trusted that he was in good hands.

SHE DREAMED AND DREAMED AND FINALLY, SHE CREATED THE MOST PERFECT, ANGELIC, WONDERFUL
DORM EVER. AND IT WAS FABULOUS....

LOWER MOSS 2007

Mrs. Cottone was the all knowing, loving and delicious food provider kept us all alive and kicking.
if we don’t smother her with love and affection by the end of the year, i think she’ll have trouble kicking all of us off of her dorm.
we love you.
AS YOUR BOLD DEFENDERS, SHE CHOSE US.

Nina and Phoebe: fashionable, prompt, beautiful and buff: you two were an amazing vacation for us.

The crazy triple: you were made for your hugs and love for ghost stories...just make sure you don't repeat them around too many "bonfires"

Mary Shea and Margot: oh there are no words...you were made for no specific purpose, you were for the fun on the side. hold on MTV, you have two sexy mamas comin' your way!

E Scott and Hannah: your dynamic worked. Oober brains + chill sex fiend = good combo. I would like to order one of those with a side of fries any day.

Sarah Ann Peanut Eliza

Girls: this year on dorm could not have been any better. You were perfect...or you knew when to have fun and when to settle down and do what you were told. You were most faithful to us: your seniors, and we appreciated every moment with you. Keep on doing what you do best: having fun and loving life. We love you lots, and will miss a ton next year. Cheerio!

Love Lex and Lucy

Mary and Laura: this picture is very deceiving. you were never in bed. in fact, you were created to keep us on our toes...too bad you could never get by us!

Emily and Hannah: dark and mysterious, (and also quite brilliant) you two were created to maintain a sense of sanity on this dorm. you also brought a gangsta vibe to the dorm....nice touch.

Katie and Gabri: the 80's are coming, be patient and you will soon fit right in!
You're off to great places! You're off and away!
You have brains in your head, You have feet in your shoes,
You can steer yourself any direction you choose.
And will you succeed? Yes! You will, Indeed!

To my loyal Schmolzites, to Mr. Childers, Mr. Furlonge, Mrs. Caldwell, Mr. G. and especially Ms. McGrath, it is a wrap. There will never again be such a star-studded bunch of sophomores and their fellow seniors. We have been imitated, but never duplicated and I think it is about that time to give up the throne as the best corridor ever. Mr. Schmolze, these kids would have made you proud. The time spent terrorizing Ms. McGrath, yelling, screaming and laughing for no apparent reason will be dearly missed. This year was great and we want to thank you for the wonderful time. Schmolze will live on!! Dro!

If you were to stroll down Baum Corridor on a typical day, you might find some unusual and most interesting goings-on. You would surely encounter Justin spitting for some strange reason, closely followed by Greg’s whiny voiced complaining. You might make eye contact with Burton, after which he’d gravely warn you never to insult him again. Vega would promptly scare Burton away. You might notice Conrad being patronizingly smart to Grant, who was watching the Military Channel. Muller was in the common room with his computer. Speers was away at the Christiana Hospital after an unfortunate confrontation with some laundry detergent while Byron was admiring his equestrian film collection. Lark and Mark were on extended senior days. Zach and Brendan were founding the Kate Hardwick club and Muller was in the common room with his computer. Kuerbitz was attempting to make the fourth wittiest comment of his life while Jimbo was cursing the irony of his “gift.” John Andrew was being sophomoric. Ventura was a ninja-star-throwing troll and Edmund was debating whether to go to the market, stay home, or eat roast beef. Muller was in the common room with his computer, joined by Drew who was watching deeply engaged in the Deadliest Catch. Vieux was busy getting rejected by the Blood Bank because of his Frenchness. Taylor was a naked, belligerent manchild accompanied by his salty sidekick Phyllis. Forsthoefel was pledging allegiance to the earth while Hildebrandt was our resident David Hasselhoff expert. Muller was in the common room on his computer while Kang was incessantly greeting you. Brandon was a loping giraffe. Chiang was shopping online for some new turtlenecks while Ryan was fawning over his beautiful hair. Thatcher was wandering around downstairs after sign-in trying to be a senior while William was a genuinely good guy.
The Lost Girls of L

“Second star to the right, and straight on ‘till morning”

Nibs and Tiger Lily (Nia and Grace)

The Twins (Amanda and Katie)
Journey with us to the land of L, where children never grow up. The Lost Girls of L are crazy and weird and funny and intelligent and different. They are a group of loud, overweight children who will make their childhood last. There's Chloe our bohemian babe who always buys us cheese. There's Katie who runs around like the Energizer Bunny and probably has torrets. There's Grace, our on-dorm psychic, whose hair could blanket America. There's Marina who runs like Marion Jones and drinks more coffee than we thought was humanly possible. There's Nia the nude who is perpetually gyrating to Fergalicious. There's Sellers the fashionista who's never without her beauty sleep. There's Emily, who is funky and whose burps could rival those of Chris Edge. And, of course, there's Amanda who is a secret sex kitten beneath her cute, rosy-cheeked exterior. Fortunately, we have Ms. Duprey to take care of us all and keep us happy, well-fed, and sane. All in all, they're an exciting bunch and have, despite the Neverland quality of L, probably given us all a grey-hair or two! We love them all dearly and will miss the late nights, all the eating we seem to do, the video-games, the tarot readings, the nudity and all of the laughs. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

M'S ANATOMY

Behind the guarded doors of M dorm, a hospital thrives. In this ward filled with quirky and eccentric patients, who knows what kinds of challenges these brilliant surgeons will have to face?

The Surgeons

Dr. Preston “I don’t like losing” Burke

Dr. Richard “The Chief” Webber

Dr. Addison “I bake (and cut) better than Izzy” Shepherd

Dr. Derek “That’s right, I am McDreamy” Shepherd

Dr. Mark “Get around, get around, I get around” Slone

Dr. Miranda “Why are you talking to me?” Bailey
To our lovely patients:

We knew this year was going to be a handful, but we could never have predicted how crazy things would get. Whether it was Muscial marathons in the common room or the gingerbread house extravaganza, you kept us on our toes. No matter what problems you confronted us with (rampant mice, explosive vomiting, uncooperative toilets), it always an enlightening experience. We will miss you so much next year, but we’re sure you’ve eaten enough 7-layer bars and biscuits to carry on the M legacy on your own.

Love,

Hadley, Charlotte, Ginney, Behle, Mina, Jess, Katherine, and Parham
M’s Anatomy

The Cases

Erin: Wakes up from surgery to discover that her severed leg has been replaced with the tibia and fibula of a sasquatch.

Elise and Leila: Now known as Spike and Fang, both are mildly injured after participating in the annual Bike to the Death competition.

Frankie and Danielle: After being hospitalized for minor gun-shot wounds, the sound of another shot sends Frankie cowering behind her friend Danielle, using her as a human shield. Danielle refuses to talk to Frankie ever again.

Julia and Ella: A freak accident occurs on the pond when they are skewered (shish kebab style) by a starboard oar gone awry.

Mary Jo, Abby, Kaitly, and Lizzie: Beware of fertility pills; you might end up with four lethargic babes. For these quadruplets, one late night will have them hospitalized for exhaustion.
Maggie: Swallowed eight Hello Kitty dolls in an attempt to bring them back to their Friends, the one hundred dolls already in her room.

Grace and Nina: Nina is driven to ingest two dust-busters when Grace threatens to leave their messy room forever—Nina knows Grace won't leave without them.

Henley and Noelle: Their battle to test their “super powers” results in an unprecedented number of injuries. The counseling office accuses both Dorm Parents of abuse.

Pemberton: Frustrated by her inability to complete a perfect translation, Pem is admitted after eating her Latin book in an attempt to become one with the words.

June: Suffering from the undeniably pleasurable episodes that recur after she tears off her nasal strips.

Clare and Jess: In an attempt to win the Bulgarian National Plaintain Eating Competition, Coach Thermansen encourages Torres to participate despite the doctor’s warnings that one more plaintain could result in a torn small intestine.

Shout Outs: Thanks to my class, for all the support, thanks to the faculty, especially Miller y Senora, Mrs. Cottone, Dr. McLean, DeSai, Tiny and Tinter, Golds, Coach Colburn, and the Duffys. Thanks to the freddies, (Y’all punxs, know who ya are) for bringing me back to the good ole days of my freshman year. Thanks to the sophomores, especially Brownlee for letting me use his drumkit all the time. Thanks to the juniors, especially Taylor Brown, Whitehill, and the entirety of the Wood. Schminky and Fernske, keep playin’ guys. BJ and Tommy, East Asian wouldn’t have been the same without you guys.

The BIGGEST thanks that I have to offer goes to Police Captain Mike from the Dover PD, for creating that little policeman in me 16 years ago. There is nothing I want more than for you to be there when I graduate the Academy. You have been an amazing influence on me.

Thanks to Chuckums, Wardo, Jim Kane, I have missed you all greatly over the past 2 years. You guys made my freshman and sophomore years the two most amazing years at St. Andrews for me.

Mom, Dad, Alyssa, Grandma, and Grandpa, thank you for all of the love and support you have given me over the years. Mike and Brian, you guys are amazing, thanks for the support that you have given me on the road to St. Andrew’s. Thanks to Laura Murabito and Jessica Porter, you both have been great friends to me. Klap, Axl, Connor, RJ, McGowan, Tommy Hastings, Mayan, DQ, all the guys from home that make things crazy. Primo, Sabdu brother, may your next few baseball seasons be ones to remember, because the last one was unforgettable. Jessica, who else could I count on being able to talk to whenever I felt like it? Elizabeth, you are a very special friend to me, and I am very grateful for the time we have spent together, and am looking forward to this summer. Thanks to the Ventura family, especially Dan, who has been my best friend for 16 long, hard years, but when it all comes down to it, there’s noone I’d rather have by my side when I’m in trouble. Dana, thanks for being the best friend I could ask for.

Dad, you are my role model. I want nothing more than to be like you when I grow up. You are the best dad ever, and an amazing person. Thanks for being MY dad. Mom, I love you a lot. Thanks for teaching me how to be a real Italian. Alyssa, despite our “siblings rivalry” you are the best.

Also, thank Arnica Schleifer. You are crazy. Just plain crazy. Frankie Leach: a bro for life, gotta love this kid. Good times.

Falco: Been a great 4 years man, great 4 years. Gonna miss ya bro.

Edge: never afraid to tell it how it is, gonna miss that man.

Forbes: The only thing I have to say is from freshman year.

To Vega:
Here’s to two years of late-nights, sharing, pizza, room destruction, hanging X-mas trees, midnight pranks, aerosol cans, and keeping me alive on dorm

To the teachers who have made this journey great:
Mrs. Cottone (for all the conversation, support, and food), Mr. Doyle for the constant crew talk/help and just being one of the most down to earth people I’ve met, Mr. Desalvo my great mentor and advisor, Xiao Laoshi my inspiration and greatest teacher of selflessness, Shen Laoshi my friend and compassionate teacher, Goldsberry my comic relief, Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Matouk the reason for my greater accomplishments in English, and everyone else who has helped guide me thus far.

And finally to the guys (again) and my friends:
Andrew, Chris, Alex, Matt, Frank, Vega, Malcolm, Lark, Albert, Tolly, Terry, SJ, Eloise, Marianna, Chuck, Forsthoevel, Baum, Myers, BG, Primo, Shantanu, and everyone else I forgot to mention:

To my incredible teachers and coaches—Mr. Speers, Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell (you taught me to think), Mrs. Cottone (no words), G- Bizzle (the blessing!), Coach Hyde, Senor y Senora, Mr. Austin, Ms. Pressman, Coach Baine, BK, Costa, Mr. Harney, Mr. Roach, Mr. Colburn, Jack Hoopes, Duff, Mr. and Mrs. Furlonge, both McGraths, and Al (aka “Sally”). Your wisdom is invaluable—never forget that.

Mom, Dad, and Mac- You’re why I exist, you’re why I came to this school. I love you all so much.

And to ’07- The time to part has finally come— but what was had can never be broken, can never be replaced, and will never be lost. Thanks so much for the great times.

My time here has been a dream, an unreal, beautiful, irreplaceable dream.

Thank you to Mr. Cheban, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. Hutchinson, Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Hyde, Mr. Furlonge, Mrs. Brownlee, Dr. McLean, Ms. McGraths, Hugo, Matt Roach, seniors '06. Thank you to the sun rise, the late soccer practices, the wrestling brotherhood, the hay stacks, the Mountain Biking Club, dorm nights, Lowes and Narnia, the bell tower, roofs, the T-Dock and grasslocks, the Speers abode, the O'Connell/Kerrane campground. It is impossible for me to quantify my family and my home. The love I have received from this place will stay with me forever. Thank you so much.

Mr. Speers: You have been an incredible advisor, teacher, and friend. Thank you for the wisdom, wit, and ice cream. I look forward to calling you Will.

Mr. Austin: You inspired me to want more. Thanks for the encouragement.

All: You’re so much more than just a piece of meat to me. Thanks for listening.

Goldsbury: ForsythEOF3d and Goldsberry forever. Thank you for the passion. You can bill me for the therapy later.

Mr. Harney: Long live Bann!

Ms. Kerrane: You have been another mother to me. Thank you for the home.

El Duffin: You saved my season. Thank you for supporting me in the face of adversity that is wrestling.

Mom, Dad, Caitlin, and Luke: Thank you for your limitless love and support. I could not have done anything without you. I love you.

Boys, you are my family. I will never forget what we have and what we did. I don’t know what I’m going to do without you. I love you guys.

Ladies, it has been fun. Thanks for talking with me, stressing me out, making me laugh, and all the love. I will miss you all very much.

Malcolm- The Quad and again this year. I have learned how to put up with your mess but it has been worth it with the friendship we have formed. I am gonna miss you and your messy ways next year.

Matt- Let’s have a tea party. You may be a crewie, but your still a G.

Dan- Between the Frisbee tosses and the hours spent in the weightroom we have had a great 4 years.

Chris And Alex- We have had so much fun the last 4 years, lacrosse, the quad, and everything else. Your friendships has been invaluable. Silliman- Study Hall. Enough sad.

A.J.- Living you junior was great. The soda wall, school store time, and NHL 07. I love you man.

To my teachers that have put up with me over the past four years: Mr. Brown, Mr. Speers, Mr. Kennedy, Ms. Matouk, Mr. Desalvo, Mr. Roach, Mr. Hutchinson, Mr. Wallace, and Mr. Hurtt. I don’t know where I would be without your guidance.

To my family- Thanks for your help. The last four years have had their rough patches but you continued to support me. Thank you.

In a thousand years, and a thousand tears, I’ll come finding my original crew. -O.A.R.

Don’t take life too seriously or you won’t come out alive.

Greg- Thanks for your guidance on everything. I couldn’t ask for a better brother.

To everyone else who has guided me in some way: Byron, Penn, Rob, Tolly, Forsthoefer, Chuck, Shantanu, Eloise, Kathryn, Steph, Vega, Shabazz, Lucy, Chauncey, Henry, Luke, Tyler, Marina, Clare, Nwakibe, Melhado, Max Bucky, Alex, Matt, Connor, Liz, Jessica, Emma, Primo and all others that I have forgotten. Thanks for everything.
Malcolm H Forbes

Mi Familia- Thank you for not pulling me out and having faith in me to do better, even if I never do.
The Quad- You boys are special enough to get two shout outs, this is one of them.
Alex- El Dos and the Shrine will always land you a spot in my house when your 4th wife divorces you.
Chris- Even though you never let us build the shrine I still like you. I will never let you forget the fact that you woke me up with that stupid song every morning in the quad.
Frank- Words do not describe you, so I hope this picture does you justice.

Matt- My bro in the city. We will always enjoy the trees in my backyard on a summer day after some soccer.
Steph, Eloise, and Kathryn- Without you three I would probably be dead in some gutter on the side of the road.
Brandon- I couldn’t have done this without you. This past year with you off at college has been hard, but it’s made me a stronger person because of it. You are my cousin, my style coach, my shopping buddy, my celebratuz at heart, and my friend. Thank you.

Sharon- S CHO! I will miss your Asian dancing and Red Bull drinking self. Even though junior year we got on each other’s last nerves on multiple occasions, I still can’t imagine it without you. I’ll always remember watching stupid movies with you at 3 in the morning, propped up on one another dancing our butts off after a test, you always make me smile. I love you.

B Bell- You are my constant source of laughs. On a bad day I know you will always have a smile on your face, and that’s exactly what I need. You’re my Bon Bon and eating ice cream without you won’t be the same. Just promise me that if you find another person at college that is as freaked out by your constant happiness as I am, you tell them that I was your first. I’ll miss you B Bell.

Alison- We both joke about how much we can’t stand each other, but the truth is you’re one of the greatest friends I have. I know that I can sit and just vent with you, and then ten minutes later be cracking up at the latest awkward moment you had. I don’t know who will tuck me in or hug me if I’m having a hard day at college, but I will miss you more than most. Xoxo.

Brigette and Cyd- We three have been through so much together. From problems with boys or problems with teachers to deaths in the family and other unmentionables you all were always there to help me. Freshman and sophomore year held a lot for us all and I always marveled at the way we could all come together. I just want you to know that I’m still with you guys, I couldn’t be at this place if I weren’t. Love you lots.

Thanks you SAS, you have changed my life in more ways than you know.

Sean- It’s been a crazy ride! Freshman year I couldn’t have pictured us as tight as we are now. You are no longer a friend, but rather my family. Wherever life takes us, I know you will always be with me because Will and Grace could never leave other. I wish you the best of luck in whatever you do, and know that I am behind you 100% Love you always.

Sarbie- You are an amazing person and I can only hope to get some of the knowledge and life lessons you try to give to me. Whether it’s talking all night long, singing in the car to “Diva’s Live”, playing Wii, helping me in the kitchen, and where you can really eat great even late or just someone to cuddle with, I know you will always be there for me. Love you always.

Sawyer- Ms. Pressman- Even though you have only been my advisor for two years, I feel closer to you than I do to most people. You are always there to lend a hand, help with homework, bake me something when I’m feeling down, or just give it to me straight when that’s what I really need. I couldn’t be thankful enough that you have been here for me these past two years and don’t know what I will do without you. Except maybe phone calls.

Uncle Willy Poppy, Poopy, Head- Did you really think I was going to leave SAS without letting that one out of the bag? Thank you for being here for me day in and day out. You don’t know it now, but you will miss me. Thank you for your constant trips back and forth to AMC and making SAS a home for me. I’ll miss you. And Boys... I suppose I’ll miss you three lots.

Mom and Dad- Thank you for giving me the honor of being a SAS student.

Bayly: Ever since freshman year, you have been there, always being crazy and insane with me. Despite our humorous ups and downs, you are truly a great friend, and I cannot even begin to thank you for that. Roomies forever!!

Mom, Dad, and Anstes: Thank you for always supporting me, pushing me, and guiding me throughout my time at SAS. It means more to me than I can ever say.

Bonnie: I can honestly say that my SAS experience would not be the same without you. Together, we danced through everything, constantly laughing, and you can always make me happy. I’ve had so much fun with you these past 3 years and I’m going to miss you so much next year.

Katherine: Throughout everything, you have always been there, and I appreciate that more than you can ever know. Even though we fight incessantly, you always laughed along with me and have been amazing in more ways than one. Thank you so much for being my friend and always supporting me through it all.

“A true friend is someone who knows the song in your heart, and can sing it back to you when you have forgotten the words.”

Thank you Mom, Dad, Nathan, and Wills for all your support and encouragement. I couldn’t be here without you.

Cabin Boys, Fruit Pirates, Ninjas. Whatever it was, we were always having a good time. Much love to all who were Huenke, we were terrible roomies but we still had some awesome times. I’m gonna miss you bro.

Thank you Mr. Wallace, Mr. Hammond, and Mrs. Geiersbach for always supporting me and being a friend. And also to every member of the swim team that helped to make every winter an awesome time.

Thanks to Mr. Desalvo, Mrs. Caldwell, and all of my teachers who have helped to become so much better than I could have ever thought possible.

Byron Randall Cooper 197
Thank you to all of my teachers and coaches.

Bennie - You're crazy and I love you. Our laughter (and our tears) got me through.

Er-k?

Love,
Bayly

Sades & Chaunce-A - I don't know what to say. You both amaze me and I feel so lucky to have lived, laughed, loved and danced with you for four years.

My family - I love you so much and I'm yours till the ice-cream's forever.

Bob & Co - You guys are my inspiration and I love you more every day.

Mariano - You are a true leader and I owe my sanity to you and admire you more than anyone. Thank you for all that you have done for me.

Kat P.S.cho - Thanks for laughing at me. I love you.

Alison - You were my first and best friend at SAs. You put up with me through everything and for that I am eternally grateful.
“You must be like a wolf pack, not six-pack.”

Orf and Wez: I love you girls too much. There are no words to describe how perfect you girls are. Who ya gonna call??

Sloanie: It’s been hard without you, but you smile has kept me running. I love you girl.

Well, all I’m saying is that I want to look back and say that I did it the best I could while I was stuck in this place. Had as much fun as I could while I was stuck in this place. Played as hard as I could while I was stuck in this place.

-Dazed and Confused

Heidi and Al: I couldn’t have made it without you. Heidis-the advice and laughs, Al-the constant tape jobs and constant smile... Thank you so much.

Love does not begin and end the way we seem to think it does. Love is a battle, love is a war.

-James Baldwin

Class of 2007: Do it true
Keep it up-it’s been real

“Without the bitter, baby the sweet ain’t as sweet”-Vanilla Sky

Cait: Thanks for keepin it real. You do it hard and all the way. Ridin’ Dirty’s takes me back. I love you so much betch.

Gin: Dude you rock it up hard. I’ve had a blast this year. We are way too similar, its kinda scary. Gillet lives on forever... XOX

Bud: 3 squeezes times infittty whatever you say. Thank you for everything. There are so many ways to say tell you how much you mean to me, but none of them really do you justice. I love you forever..docisdoe xoxo Underformers: Have a blast while you’re here, its over before you want it to be.

Mom and Dad: You guys are incredible. I couldn’t have done it without you. Thank you for everything. I love you.
“You know me, oh you think you do, you just don’t seem to see I’ve been waiting all this time to be, something I can’t define.
So let’s cause a scene, clap our hands and stomp our feet or something, yeah something I’ve just got to get myself over me”

Teachers: Ms. Graves, Mrs. Caldwell, Ms. O’Neil, M.S. McGrath, Ms. Pressman, Mr. Everhart, Ramillers & A.L.

~Greenday
PIC - You have been a better advisor, mentor, and friend than I could have ever hoped for. Thank you.
Mrs. Caldwell - You gave me an English experience. Period.
Mr. Brown - I never thought lugging a boat backwards could be such a rewarding experience. Thanks.
Mrs. Roach - You showed me (and the rest of the class) that we could work harder than we ever dreamed of doing. You then assigned us 60 more pages of Beloved. Thanks.
Bizzle - “America’s Next great corridor” has come out with awe-inspiring force. Thanks for all the 1 AM scrabble and Conan O’Brien.
Al - You’re the man. Need I say more?
Mills - Gangsta. Thanks for all the late nights. The guaca chips will always be remembered.
Thanks: Mom and Dad- for making sacrifices for us kids, George- for setting the standards high, Mary Jo, Katie, Mr. Caldwell- for trying to understand another Toothman, Mr. Scoville- Fleming prevails, Mr. Kennedy- Will the winter ever end?, Mr. Brown- crew, enough said, Mrs. Schuller, Mrs. Klecan, Mr. McGiff, Mrs. Caldwell- for more than just brownies, Adrian, Albert, Alex, Alexa, Bayly, Bonnie- for always smiling, Brigitte, Charlotte, Chauncey, Edge- I speak redneck too, Eloise, Bierwirth, Chuck and Ward- lost but not forgotten, Frank, Hadley, Izzy, Jess Crawley, Jim Job, Kate, Rachel, KPatt, Kathryn, Katie Stout- for always being there (however corny it sounds), Lark- for stretching my limits, Lisa, Lucy, Malcolm, Mariana, Mary Pell, Max, Mina, NicH, Penn, Rob, S.J., Sean- our love hate relationship, Shibi, Sharon, Tyler- my modest roommate, Dan, Julia, Grace R., Lizzy, Clare, Abby, Taylor, Thatcher, Perry, Ruby, Sellers, Maggie, Sydney, Henley Cox- just for the name, Ella, Cinda, Kira, Caneel, Grace G., Tilden, Fleming- I can still take all of you, My Little Bro Amos- Rumor has it I was a bully in middle school- hope I made up, Mary Craig, Louise, Gehrs and Schafer- XC memories (fire, drama, humor...dead body), and to the rest of St. Andrew's... truly a place like none other.
I like to think the best of me, is still hiding up my sleeve....

Thanks: K. Pat, Brigitte, Cydney, du Pont, Bonnie, Alison, Katie, Bayly, Jess, girls of K '06-'07

Thank you to all my teachers especially Ms. Ramirez, Señor, Mr. & Mrs. Wallace, Mr. Burk, Mr. Speers, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Mein, Mr. Baine and Mr. DeSalvo

Some people come into our lives and quickly go. Others stay awhile, leave footprints on our hearts, and we are never the same.

ΩΨΤ, big brother, mentor, thank you— I couldn’t have done it without you...

Are you in earnest? Seize this very minute, what you can do, or think you can do, begin it.
"To know life is to love many things" - Vincent van Gogh

Nick, mom and dad - thank you for your boundless support.

Thanks to all my teachers, especially Mrs. Caldwell and Mr. DeSalvo for helping me make the most of my mind.

Mrs. Zendt - Your advice (and your ability to remove marks) has helped me endlessly.

To my friends - thanks for all the laughs, love, and memories. Annex 05, Katie, Brigitte, Cydney, Jai, Kwp, S. Cho and everyone else - it's been fun. I'll miss you all. Love, Jess
To the class of '07, especially Izzy, Sean, Henry, MP, Jess, Lark and the girls of K. I'll miss you - keep it real.

"Why did you do all of this for me?" he asked. "I don't deserve it. I've never done anything for you"

"You have been my friend," replied Charlotte. "That in itself is a tremendous thing. I wove my webs for you because I liked you. After all, what's a life, anyway? We're born, we live a little while, we die... By helping you, perhaps I was trying to lift up my life a trifle. Heavens knows anyone's life can stand a little of that."

-E.B. White

Thanks to my family - Mom, Stew, and Dad - I love you! Mr. and Mrs. Wallace - my second parents - how will I keep my room clean without you?! Ms. Pearce - thanks for being understanding despite the marks. Mrs. Caldwell - thank you for having such a big heart and bringing order to my chaos. Mrs. Brownlee - I don't even know what to say! I am infinitely grateful for everything you've done.
To my family: Mom and Dad, I know these last few years haven’t been easy for anyone. Thank you for all your love and support.
I couldn’t have done it without you.

Christa: You are such a genuine and loyal person. Our friendship has meant more to me than I can say. I’ll miss you.

K Dorm: Becca, Karin, Esi & the dorm. I truly never forget all competitions.
year!

Sydney, Ruby, Liz, Panish, Laura, Less Wallaces. I couldn’t have asked for a better enjoyed living with all of you this year. I'll the late nights or goldfish eating. Take care of yourselves, and good luck next Special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Hyde. Thank you for everything you have done and for being such a positive force for me. You will always be in my thoughts and close to my heart.

Dominique: Even though we were miles apart, you always managed to stay part of my life; our relationship has only become stronger over time. No one has more history than you and I do.

Indy: Words cannot begin to explain our relationship. It has definitely been an interesting few years.

Katherine: It's difficult to sum up four years in a few short sentences. Thank you for always being there, for your patience, and all the hugs.

Cyndey: It's been difficult, but we've come a long way since freshman year. You've been a good friend.

duPont: One word: gangster. It's been real. Fo' shizzle.

Sharon: If I were a dinosaur, I'd be a saber-toothed tiger, too.
Seriously though, you know I love you like cooked food. Shake ‘n’ bake.

And also: Shabazz, Lark, Mark, Katie, Hickman, Wez, Ty, Albert “Barburt” Song, Bayly, Bonnie, Torres (Iluhuquri!), Burton (aka TophiBear), Travis, Olu, Akeem, LJ, Brandon, Julia, Nicole, Valerie, Divya, Sanchez, Aja, Mimi, Nia, Skippy, Raphael, Phoebe, Rose, Vivian, Chris Chung, Baine, McGiff and anyone else I might have forgotten.

Thank you to all of the people who have made my these past 4 years great especially roommates, Pell seniors '06-'07, M 05-06, crew, Bates/Abigail '06, Field hockey '06, Mr. Miller, Ms. Ramirez, Mrs. Caldwell, Ms. Matouk, Mr. Everhart, Ms. McGrath, Mrs. Kennedy, the Hurts, the Furlonges, Mrs. Cottone and all the other teachers I've had. Thanks to all the little ones on Pell for the endless insanity. - Good luck next year- you are going to have so much fun. Also thank you to my family: Mama, Daddy, Billy and Sarah. You are the coolest and funniest people ever. I can't even tell you how much I depend on you. There are far too many people to thank for me to list them all but you know who you are and I don't know what I'll do without you next year!

In the depth of winter, I finally learned that within me there lay an invincible summer.

Will Vega-Brown

To my parents, know that I can never thank you enough for what you have done for me. Everything I am, all I have done, comes from you. You have been there for me whenever I needed you, and I would not be who I am today without you. Thank you.

To all the teachers who taught me, led me, inspired me, and believed in me in my years at St. Andrew's, thank you. Thanks especially to my two advisors, Mark Hammond and John Burk; without them, none of this could have been what it was.

To the coaches and players I have played for and with, it's been an honor and a privilege to be a Saint. Forsthoefel, I would never have guessed how hard it would be to let go of a sport after just two seasons. And to my three co-captains, I'll never forget the season.

To all the underclassmen who made St Andrew's what it was, especially Primo, Derrin, and all the others I played with and led, thank you for the effort you gave each day and season. Without that, none of the teams could have been what they were. Keep on playing.

To the guys who've made this time so much fun, it's been great. I don't know what I'll do without Jim's bitterness or Lark's craziness. Ventura, you've put up with me for two years as a roommate; thanks for the good times. Falco, Forbes, Huenke, Leach, Edge - I'll really miss you guys.

Finally, to the ones who didn't make it - Jim Kane, Andrew Ward, Chuck Connors, you made the first two years here awesome. I'm sorry you couldn't be here for the end.

Hutch and Mrs Ross:
We sure are glad that you guys accepted the call to be our class advisors. From our very first function with you on Rodney point -- where Hutch engaged in a vigorous game of Kill the Carrier -- we knew we would be having fun with you. From our cook-outs at your house, to your support during Maui Wowie '06, to the enthusiastic smiles in the halls, we are forever indebted to you. We will all miss you next year, and will remember keep these memories close to our hearts.

In the words of Dr. Seuss...

Today you are You, that is truer than true. There is no one alive who is Youer than You.

Be who you are and say what you feel because those who mind don't matter and those who matter don't mind.

So be sure when you step.
Step with care and great tact and remember that life's a great balancing act.
Just never forget to be dexterous and deft.
And never mix up your right foot with your left.
And will you succeed?
Yes! You will indeed!
(98 and 3/4 per cent guaranteed.)

Congratulations!
Today is your day.
You're off to Great Places!
You're off and away!

Special thanks to:

* the staff members who dedicated their time and energy to our book

* Mr. Doyle for having faith that we would get it all done... somehow...

* the student body — for putting up with our endless announcements, emails...

* the senior class — for "reading" all our emails, turning in your pages (even the late ones) and for being patient with us the night before spring break
