The Class of 2012 hereby dedicates this yearbook to Profe & Señora RaMiller

Throughout our four years here, Profe and Señora have been there to guide us, transport us, and advise us. In short, they wear a lot of hats.

They’re a constant presence on campus. Walking to class, you can always catch Profe with his Satchel of Mystery, or spot Señora smiling when you look down. They are a pair, like chicken and fiesta... you can’t have one without the other.

The chicas of 2012 fondly remember our sophomore year spent on Moss with Profe and Señora, watching movies and making s’mores. Others remember time spent on the basketball court or the baseball field with Profe, in the classroom with Señora, or watching cartoons with Gabriel on a Saturday morning.

They’ve taught us Spanish, they’ve taught us how to salsa, and they’ve taught us to wear underwear with our skirts. They’ve welcomed us into their home and their family, and through their hospitality, patience, and gentle guidance, we’ve grown.

Thank you, Ana Ramírez and David Miller, for your contributions to the class of 2012 and the St. Andrew’s community.

When Students Are Asked About....

Teachers Trying To Be "Hip"....
-It was about 11:30pm on a Saturday night and some Lower Moss seniors had just danced the night away at one of our SAS ragers. There were about six of us dancing in the common room to some youtube videos when Ms. Cabot came in and asked us to teach her how to dougie.
-"It's Mr. Dude to you!" -Mr. Porter
-Mr. Robinson tried to communicate that he was "mad hype."
-Mr. DeSalvo tried to use the words sick and nasty during a class.
The whole class looked at him like, "what are you doing?" He tried covering it up with "My B". It didn't really help his cause.

Awkward Moments With Teachers....
-Mr. Tower accidentally showed his Algebra 2 class the photobooth selfies on his computer. Best. Day. Ever.
-When Profe finds out who you like...that's the worst.
-I was walking down Pell hallway, freshman year and I had a major wedgie. So not thinking anything of it, I pulled up my dress above my butt (no tights involved) and picked my huge target christmas stocking underwear. Little did I know Mr. Hurtt was walking right behind me going to his door and saw my every move.
-At lunch one day Mr. Wallace was explaining the Guest Speaker’s role to his table at lunch and he yelled "SPERM!!!" really loudly. He was referring to whales of course.
-I was running up the road in the gully back from chapel and I was wearing a jersey bouncy dress. Nina was behind me and all of a sudden she was like "Hey, Hey I can see your undies!" And I was all hyper and not caring because Nina and I are buds so I lift up my dress laughing and all. All of a sudden I hear from behind me "I’ll pretend that I never saw that."I turned and saw the looming figure of Mr. Fritz, so I sprinted.
-Im wearing sweatpants but I had boxers on underneath and an armful of books, and Mary, seeing that I have pants on under my sweatpants, decides to pants me, but grabs my boxers as well. Hutch was walking towards us down the hallway when he turns sharply and slams into the door because its locked. He then stares at the door not wanting to turn around and I’m still holding all my books screaming at Mary to pull my pants up.

Semi/Prom/Homecoming Asks...
-"Henry Weaver serenaded me to Prom with his own song on the Mandolin right after Orchestra Freshman year. He wrote it personally about us and about how he really liked me but how he is really awkward and he didn’t know how to tell me, and I just remember I did not know how to respond. I just stood there, not knowing what to do, in the deserted basement of the Arts Center, while Mr. Goldsberry walked by, and others watched silently from above. We were very awkward I didn’t even give him a hug. I just said yes and then it was kind of silent, so I sprinted away saying “I had to go to practice.” -Molly Belk
-My freshman year during crew practice, my date put a huge sign out by the starting docks. With the way crew works, no one could see it except for the coxswains and the coaches, but once people noticed, EVERYONE noticed. It was really cute but somewhat embarrassing.
-My date inserted a video with a made up song and creative dancing during a health powerpoint with Al and Mrs. Brownlee.
-To ask Nick Dandridge to semi sophomore year, I made him late to basketball practice and consequently, made him run sprints as instructed by Coach Alleyne. In between each sprint, Coach Alleyne would ask him, "What time is practice" to which Nick responded, "5." After several sprints, Coach Alleyne ended with, "I have one last question: Will you go to semi with Emily Troisi?" The rest is history and lives on through a pretty hilarious video. I was asked at a celtic rock concert followed by a slow dance on stage, which was extremely awkward but also really funny.
-I put a toy dump truck full of cinnamon buns at breakfast sign-in with a poster that said, "I want to haul your buns to semi."

The Andrean
The Andrean is a student literary magazine that puts together the best and the brightest creative work of the student body. Make sure to pick up a copy at the next Arts Weekend.

The Cardinal
The Cardinal is the school's student run newspaper. It is a medium for expression by all willing writers and photographers, publishing articles from all different perspectives, and covering breaking news all across campus.

Environmental Stewards
The Environmental Stewards seek to find ways to bring sustainability and environmental awareness to St. Andrew's. The Stewards gather every week with Mr. McLean and the ever so cool Ben & Jerry.
Tuesday Mentors

Every Tuesday 2/3 of the school pile into vans and buses and head to Middletown private and public schools where they mentor, tutor, and befriend amazing kids of the Middletown, Odessa, and Townsend community.

Polar Bear Club

The Polar Bear club is not for the faint of heart or strength. Once a month we assemble on the T-Dock and take the plunge into Noxontown's icy waters for the sake of adventure and swagger.

Friday Morning Breakfast

Friday Morning we pile in a van and head to Sunrise Bagels with DeSal. There with bagel in one hand and coffee in the other, we read bible verses, talk about our lives, and offer one another support. It's a pretty good start to our nonexistent weekend.
Neptune Pirates
We the Neptune Pirates, are dedicated to the genius that is Veronica Mars, Harry Potter, Math Jokes, Kitty Kats, and Ms. O'Shea of course! We keep providing ourselves with countless tools of procrastination and entertainment, and we are one of the largest first class conferences in the school database!

The Felixes
The Felixes is the school’s most exclusive and reputable secret society. With only nine in the school at a time we fly under the radar, however we each wear a charm that marks our allegiance, if you can find it on us, you can be one, but in our 83 years of existance we have never been caught. Good luck...

Gay Straight Alliance
The Gay Straight Alliance meets bimonthly to discuss news and issues both within the LGBTQ community and in the greater world community. Our mission is to promote equality, understanding, awareness, and discussion of the Gay Rights Movement and its relevancy.
Independent Film Club
Through the epic glass of our lenses we put the "Indie" in Independent Film Club and bring our creative and hipster nature to the St. Andrew's Campus.

League of Extraordinary Conservatives
Together we honor the heroism of George W. Bush, the athleticism of hunting, and the grace of Amurica.

Eco-Architecture
Eco Architecture is a club dedicated to the gratification, preservation, emancipation, and appreciation of the world around us. Oh yeah, we also are trying to build a green house.
Friends of Africa
Friends of Africa is a group of students who work to spread the generosity and support of the St. Andrew's community across the Atlantic to South Africa. Friends of Africa organize fundraisers and supplies drives to support our sister School, St. Marks.

Mobile Tea Response Unit
Formed spontaneously in the midst of a thunderstorm, The Mobile Tea Response Unit propagates anarchy and cultivates a taste of only the finest teas in the realm.

SDLC (Student Diversity Leadership Conference)
The SDLC is a group of students who travel to a national conference that brings together students from all across America to discuss diversity. Back on the campus SDLC participants help lead the school in acts and attitudes of tolerance and acceptance.
BECA

BECA or Bilingual Education for Central America works to raise money and support the education and welfare of students in Central America.

Model UN

Model United Nations is a simulation of the UN General Assembly and other multilateral bodies. In Model UN, students step into the shoes of ambassadors from UN member states to debate current issues on the organization's agenda. Model UN participants learn how the international community acts on its concerns about topics including peace and security, human rights, the environment, food and hunger, economic development and globalization. This year was St. Andrew's first year of starting the Model UN club, and we look forward to numerous challenges, opportunities and fun in the future.

TRAC

The Twins' Rights Awareness Club gives individual voices to those who have been grouped together for centuries. We recognize each twins' differences and command respect and distinction among our peers at St. Andrew's.
Econ Club
The Econ Club is not for the lazy and ignorant guys. Everyday, our M.I.C participants struggle to bring more profit than investors in Wall Street, our G.E.D members explore the world’s economics, and our N.E.C strive to be the best econ scholar in the world. We are intense, smart, and cool.

Cornerstone
Cornerstone is a bible study group that meets every Monday for lots of laughs, great cookies, and a great sense of community.

South Face
We build things in our two-thousand acre back yard.

a hot thing.
We’re all ordinary people. But we can be ordinary people doing extraordinary things. That is what athletic excellence is—It's just ordinary people pushing themselves, setting goals and getting after them. Gains are made in the most unglorious, daily mundane ways; by just getting to practice on time, focusing on what you need to do from moment to moment, finding joy in it, even when it’s hard, and pushing to be the best that you can be. -Duff
This season was wicked awesome and it wouldn’t have been without everyone’s hard work and dedication. Yes, there were moments when we would whine as we started off our warm-up runs. But once we were out there, we ran our hearts out. Nothing could stop us—not the unbearable heat, rain, snow, muddy courses, unending trails, tomato warm-up suits, gross port-o-potties, Archmere girls, or even Penny. When we screamed “FOR WILSON’S LOVE” at the bonfire, we were professing our united love for and commitment to each other. This commitment was reflected at each race when we ran for ourselves and our teammates, especially for those who could not race that day. It was exciting to see us come together as a team.

Girls - don’t forget the random conversations we had while running, eating bagels and cream cheese post-race (even though we felt like throwing up), that one brutal but intense practice in the snow, dinosaur Penny (and future Everhart the fourth), insanity, how silly we looked water jogging, “We eat the elephant one bite at a time,” and Mr. Everhart’s calm, soft cheers that would every so often turn into loud, frantic shouts. You guys are the BEST!! Thank you so much for an amazing season. Keep on “reelin’ them in” and taking on the fight!

Love, Robin
Boys' Cross-Country
The 35-man Cross-Country Team had a hell of a season, filled with Peanut Butter, and almost entirely empty of lava. Team Highlights included Repeating as Champions at the Middletown Invitational, a 3rd Place at the Salesianum Invitational, A super-close 3rd Place at DISC's, 2 Points and around 1/5th of a second behind Wilmington Friends, a 5th at Counties, ahead of Friends and St. Marks for the 1st time in recent memory, and a 3rd place finish at States at Killens Pond. The JV team was as strong as ever, also winning at Middletown, taking 2nd at Sallies, taking 2nd at DISC's, and a 6th at Counties. Individual highlights included multiple medalists at Lake Forest and Middletown, and earth-bending wins by Henry Weaver '12 (2nd fastest SAS Runner in History!) at Middletown, Sallies, our one home race, and Parent’s Weekend, as well as two runners named to All-DISC, and All-County Teams. So: Lots of hardware, and lots of PR’s. But what actually went into the season? There was a lot of fun from the beginning, as runners came in fast from a summer of training to enjoy cold chicken and marshmallows at Catoctin Mountain Park in Maryland during preseason. As the fall continued, runners braved hazardous amounts of Malarkey, ominously named runs, the mighty Appoquinimink herself, and stomach-blending interval workouts, to emerge with great memories and hopefully a fire within to do it all again next year, but faster. Thanks go to all those who came out for our races, especially Counties and States, to our awesome part-time assistant coaches Mr. Kemer and Mr. Hammond, to our awesome full-time assistant coaches Mr. Porter and Mr. Crimmins, and to our troubled but amusing head coach, Mr. O’Connell, who inspires all that which is good on the team—the goofiness, the intensity, the togetherness. Thanks also to the seniors who led the team in words and actions, especially those who were there for four years, from the beginning-Davis Hammond, James Craig, Bobby Moffitt, and Kevin Dowling. Thanks, Boys—It was a joy this fall. Good luck to those who will carry the team to greater heights next year. - The Captains

What can we say? Great season girls. Through all the crazy Duff workouts, practices and games, we're already missing the family we became this year. We hope that you have learned as much as we have throughout this season. Not every one can go 1-14 and call it a good time. We had our highs and lows, our #hashtags and our cheers-- We all worked hard to make this an amazing season, so be proud of it. We'll miss you all dearly, just don't forget #SASFH2011 #thefittest!!

A resilient and talented group, The 2011 Saints enjoyed a particularly memorable season as they fought their way to the program’s first conference title in seven years. After suffering an 0-2 start to defending state runner-up Archmere and a respectable Severn (Maryland) team, the Saints had their backs against the wall with an early-season matchup against conference rival Wilmington Friends just a week away. An experienced group of seniors regrouped and brought the requisite intensity and focus to practice and the team responded with an impressive effort, establishing an effective quick-strike running attack and ousting the Quakers 36-7 in Week 3. With a statement win on their record, the Saints found a groove and an invested and knowledgeable coaching staff prepared the team for the remainder of the conference season. Conrad visited the Saints the following week, and the Saints had more to be proud of as a dominant defense complemented the team’s distinguished running attack, which scored on the first play of 3 separate drives in a decisive victory. The Saints rolled on to handily defeat The George School of Pennsylvania to open their tri-state conference schedule before preparing for their next test, a motivated Tower Hill team that boasted a skillful group of seniors. The Saints took on the challenge with an intensity the Hillers couldn’t match, and the Tower Hill squad headed back to Wilmington with a 16-0 loss.

Energized by their recent success, the Saints knew their toughest football was still ahead as they went back to work looking for a win at Wilmington Friends, a historically difficult team to beat on the road. Fighting to the last whistle, St. Andrew’s edged out a 14-12 win that could have gone either way in a muddy, snowy battle against the Quakers, setting up a conference title matchup against Tatnall. Another away matchup against Perkiomen (Pennsylvania) preceded the DISC showdown, and the Saints produced a sustained effort to head home with a 25-14 victory, locking up the Tri-State conference championship. A final challenge remained on the schedule as the Saints eyed conference foe Tatnall with the Cannon and DISC championship on the line. The Saints finished the season with the physical, high-scoring brand of football that was characteristic of their season as they knocked off Tatnall 45-14 and reclaimed the Cannon at home, concluding the season with seven consecutive victories.
"Out of this world" is how one might capture our season this fall. After having lost some crucial graduating seniors, our team came back with sparking energy. We had tremendous leadership on the team with 15 upperclassmen. From "Yay Day" to game day, our girls gave it their all. While we struggled to find our starting mark on the field at times, we always found our way to fight back, whether it was coming back in the second half, 2-0, after a 0-6 first half, or whether it was coming out for the best practice of the year after an unsatisfying loss. These are the moments I will remember the most. The moments when we played with that "uncoachable" drive. The moments when we never gave up, from Betsy's winning goal in the last forty-eighty seconds, to the fire and the rage we played with against the JV boys. Congragulations for an amazing, lively, and fiery last season.

Peace n' Blessins,
Mama Moe (Snookie meets J.Lo)
Boys' Soccer
Our dearest volleyballers.

This year has been one that has definitely defied expectations, not just in the record books. The fiyah that each of you possesses is what took the team to a personal, if not literal, victory almost every single time. From the moment the team stepped out onto the court, enduring every bead of sweat and every dive to the ground, to the moment that all of us shook hands graciously with our opponents, this team brought energy, passion, and pizzazz. We’ve all supported each other through shanked balls, missed serves, botched kills, and every type of roller coaster that you could imagine. And, in the end, we were stronger because of it. Everyone embraced what it meant to be a team and took that mentality as far as they could. This is the happiest, most thoughtful and supportive team that we, as captains, have ever been a part of, and we feel extremely fortunate to have been members. This season was about more than just the volleyball – each practice and game was something to look forward to because of the team’s dynamic spirit. Strive for this next year, and remember, every day is another day to get it right in the donut hole. Bring home that bacon and GO GET EM TIGERS!

With love,

Varsity Organic Gardening

William Bowditch, Peter Whitesell, Julien Ha, Haley George, Julie Bennett
Organic Gardening, ostensibly an after school activity devoted to food production, is in reality the local front for an international crime syndicate so secret and far reaching that most people are involved in it without ever knowing. It has been suggested by some over the years that OG, or “the organization” as it is sometimes called on the inside, operates under the auspices of certain key food committee representatives. Proponents of this theory cite the high level of overlap among each organization’s known affiliates as proof. However, it has recently been disclosed by an inside source (anonymous out of fear of reprisal) that the OG is controlled autonomously by a top level agent known only as “R.” This report is difficult to confirm given the complete lack of information regarding Organic Gardening’s dealings. All theories thus far are highly speculative, and rely almost entirely on sightings of various suspicious “gardening” activities, such as members being seen carrying shovels and digging holes late into the afternoon. All that can be certain is that whatever the OG’s operations are, they are quite extensive. Top-level gardener Julian Ha has been reported to go on frequent trips to meet the OG’s contacts in Korea, and four months ago Interpol confiscated a suspected OG freighter loaded with an estimated 34.1 billion dollars in laundered radishes. It has even been reported that operatives from OG rigged the recent presidential elections in Argentina. Nothing seems to be beyond the OG’s reach.

The St. Andrew’s Varsity basketball program enjoyed a tremendous season this winter. Going 16-3 in the regular season, these Saints tied the school record for most wins in the regular season. In addition, these men did not lose at home, going an astonishing 10-0 in the newly acquired Sipprelle Field House. The Saints will continue their season during spring break, hoping to play at the Bob Carpenter Center and make a run at the State Championship. Wish these Saints luck as they continue their hard-fought journey and try to make some of their own March Madness.
Dear @SASsywolfpack,

This has been a season we will never forget. After last year no one really knew what to expect, but after the first Sanford game, it was clear that we had the potential to surpass everyone's expectations. We have never played with a group of people so dedicated to the success and growth of their team. Morgie- your fearless drives to the basket and progress has been inspiring to all of us, especially in the Tatnall game. Lizzie- even with your broken finger, your shot has become one of the best and your never fail mentality has shown through this season. Char- Your speed, strength and overall heart has really pushed everyone to work hard in order to keep up. Huckleberry Fin/ Cran-Grape Berry- Your day-to-day improvements and your willingness to take chances has stood out. Go hard all day. Brenda- You have really developed your ball handling, shooting and overall game this year. Thanks for always cheering in warm ups. It means more than you know. Baaall Out! Jan, Janimal, Jandelous, Jantastic- First of all, sorry for all the nicknames. As Coach says, your shot is butter, and your game sense and drive to succeed adds to the team's growth. Fay- As the work horse of this team, you have improved so much over the season, and you push everyone to be better. Your passes are also ballin'. Brizzle- The energy you bring to practices and games encourages everyone, and makes it fun to play. Your power under the basket and rebounding prowess is cray. We also love your dance to The Motto. Please still be doing that when we come back to visit! Big Lib/ The Notorious L.I.B/ Libberation- Your reverse lay up, dunking abilities, excessive fouling, the way your eyes turn black when your angry, the stomp and everything else will be missed A LOT next year. In all seriousness, you finish SO WELL under the basket. Lord Farquar- as the quarterback of our team, we would be lost without you. The way you fought through your injury and gave 100% everyday brought intensity to practice and games. Last but not least, Henry, our 13th man, you have been such a joy to play with, and you have improved more than you know. We really appreciate you coming out everyday, and we have loved getting to know you. You better be still with the team when we come back to visit. Hammy and Costa a.k.a Dude- We wouldn't be able to smell the state tournament without you. The way you hold us accountable and teach us everyday makes practice the highlight of our day, and games the best part of the week. Thank you so much for an incredible season, we will miss you so much next year. Wolfgang and Alba Longa- as our mascots, we really appreciate your contributions and willingness to be poked and pet by everyone on the team. LETS KILL EM IN THE TOURNAMENT #yolo #wedon'tmessaround

This year, the Boy’s Varsity Squash team played at a new level. With the fantastic help of renowned coach, Mark Allen, our conceptualization and understanding of the game as well as our racket-work improved dramatically. A combination of his assistance with the help of coach Childers and our own determination appeared to pay off in our first match of the season: we came out roaring as we pulled out a huge upset over the Gilman School, beating them for the first time in school history (5-4). Following Gilman, we played to the best of our ability and contended well with many stronger teams, ultimately having well-fought wins over schools such as Shipley and Haverford from Philadelphia; with confidence in our accomplishments and effort, we then proceeded to enter the Division 2 bracket in the high school nationals tournament with an 8 game winning streak to face the No. 1 seed, Poly Prep School from Brooklyn, New York. Despite the three hard losses endured from some strong teams in our bracket (Poly Prep, Choate, and William Penn Charter) the Saints bounced back in their final match to beat Groton School and earn the 31st spot nationally. With four seniors and five juniors leading the pack, this team was full of experience and leadership. Ultimately, the season resounded of wonderful memories for the team, who will go down as one of the best squash teams in St. Andrew’s history. We would like to thank Al Wood for his generous time spent with the team, all our awesome supporters at our matches, the facilities members who washed our jerseys day in and day out, Ms. Wright and Mr. Hyde for their scheduling assistance and overall support, Coach Childers for his leadership and support (as well as driving us), Coach Kahan for his excellent coaching of the jv, and the Desrosiers and Lynchs for hosting us at nationals. Finally, we would like to thank Mark Allen again, as he was a driving force behind our improvement and made us love the game.
Girls' Squash

Dear Squad,

Sadly it's done... 37 hours in the van, 3578 miles, 83 trips to Panera, and a ton of dance parties. We started the season with two new coaches and four new players. We were able to build our skill, focus on commitment, and thrive as a young team. Each and every one of us worked together, coached each other and held each other accountable for the work we put in. Ending our season with a win as regional champs felt great, but it was those tough games we pushed through that truly defined our team, we always persisted and our determination was admirable. Great job this season ladies!

Love,

Swimming 2011-2012

Thank you to our coaches:
B. Wall, MK, Crimmins,
Mr. Hammond,
Mrs. Wallace
We believe that the boys' swim team of 2012 is one of the most confident, cohesive and best looking teams in St. Andrew's history. From the very beginning, our boys were characterized by an unbeatable optimism and energy. We used that energy and we made a beauteous and graceful squad of swimmers. Not only did we go undefeated in the conference, demolish kids at DISC championships, and end the season with a solidifiedly solid record of 7-2, but we looked good while doing it. Lead by a dynamite team of seniors: Bobby "rugs" Moffitt, Buie "booster" Fox, Davis" lung-hacker" Hammond, and James "gritty" Craig, we took Delaware head on. Consisting of a suprisingly committed group of freshman, a spunky pair of sophmores, our intense juniors, and the veteran seniors, the coaching staff crafted us into an intricate machine where every part made a difference. Everyone had a hand in making this amazing team, a hand in completing a legendary season and a hand in helping set the stage for a prosperous future in St. Andrew's aquatics. Good work. We'll miss you guys.

-Your Seniors

Girls: This season was the best 64 practices to grace the Generaux Aquatics Center. It wasn't just that we were undefeated in the conference, it was because we got there with every single member of the team. Our season was built on fifth place finishes and high fives at the end of sets. This supportive atmosphere made the team more of a family than it has ever been. And we danced, and we cried, and we laughed, and we had a really really really good time. So have a blast--but remember this moment for the rest of your lives. Keep it up next year, and remember that this isn't Venice.

Love, your captains
Forestry

The leaves rustled, the squirrels scrambled up to their nooks and crannies, and far off, a booming sound like drums could be heard. Soon the earth began to tremble, barking dogs ran headlong with their tails between their legs, and the clouds in the sky deserted the cringing sun. The noise grew louder and louder until suddenly, the mass of boots came to a halt. Axes, hammers, planting bars, saws, and swing blades swung down from shoulders; ropes, planking, nails, screws, and seedlings softly thudded the terrified earth. All the forest stood silent before the invading horde, every insect, bird, and animal froze, watching, awaiting what was to come next. Out from the army a lone figure strode forward, arm extended, and with a single finger pointed to a cowering log. “Hey gang, how about this tree here... tulip poplar?” A murmur of consenting voices, alternative suggestions, heated discussion, detailed planning, measuring, and sharpening, and Forestry springs into action upon the job. With the precise harmony of a perfectly choreographed Russian ballet and the elegant smoothness of the finest Venetian gondolier’s stroke, the separate squads of forestry swing round each other, completing tasks and moving onto new ones in a blurred swirl of motion. Giant oaks the girths of tractor tires are cut from paths with ferocious tiger strength and industrially sized bridges are lowered to span dizzying river valleys. All of nature makes up our domain, and all of nature receives our care. But soon again, as the red sun dips below the horizon, the lonely sound of the far off train comes to each forester’s ear. The day’s work is done, and our waiting truck bed beckons. A cloud of dust follows us away from the pining groves.
"The first of my goals was that I wanted to represent St. Andrew's with honor - to display the highest sportsmanship, to carry ourselves with dignity on the racecourse and even around town, and to be polite and kind in the house where we were going to be living. ..

... My second big goal was to have fun - it seems so simple, but it's so essential. Rowing is a blast, and racing here is as good as it gets. I wanted the boys to appreciate and enjoy each other as we traveled across the USA and overseas. I wanted them to look back with happy memories of time well spent together...
...My last goal was to pursue excellence. We talked about how excellence is not one single act, or a sudden flash of accomplishment. It is the accumulation of many small efforts and an attention to details pursued consistently over time. We wanted to chase excellence, to improve our rowing technique, to push ourselves physically and mentally to be tougher racers, and to do these things over and over during our training so that when it came time to race we would have practiced being our very best.

We not only met, we surpassed these goals...

Arts
Perhaps you find yourself walking through the Arts Center on a Thursday morning. From some corner of the building you hear the whispers of an enchanting melody. You stop what you’re doing for an instant to listen, and suddenly, your feet are no longer your own – they follow the sound – they seek out the room from which the music emanates and your body follows. Finally, you find yourself standing outside the doors of the choral room, entranced by the robust and melodious refrain that lingers in the air. Who, you wonder, are these musicians, as you stand transfixed by the chords that travel so delicately, and yet so boldly, to your ears. These, my friend, are the St. Andrew’s Choral Scholars, a group of dedicated vocalists who share a common interest – the beauty of song and choral music.
The Noxontones have had a great year. We are so grateful for the support that everyone has given us throughout the year. We are losing several seniors this year and will miss them. They have led us through competition and have set the bar high for next year. Thanks everyone for your support this year.

-Love the Noxontones
Orchestra is at its biggest and best this year! We have tackled a lot of challenging repertoire and given some great performances. We are confident that the orchestra will continue to grow next year and look forward to the new season!

The Managers:
This season was so much more than we could have hoped for. We started out almost entirely composed of newcomers, but competed like we all had been on the team for years. Each lawyer and witness brought something special to the team, putting in hours of work and delivering flawlessness performances in the final trials. Never forget the adrenaline, laughter, excitement, nervousness, and accomplishment we all shared, because it is beyond comparison. To Andy, Bella, Casey, Jamie, Jiani, Noah, we will never forget your humor, wit, and skill as you took the stand, including the many hysterical quotes: “it could be a no”, “I had access to EVERYTHING”; “You and I both know that was not contained in the case materials”; “She probably did experiments on cats”; “he was trying to make me look rather poultry-like.” To Madeline, William, and Tiara, we wish you all the best in the years to come; we have no doubt that you will soon dominate the courtrooms.

senior team:

Thanks for making us laugh, winning housemasters, staying classy, navigating the stormy waters, not taking yourselves too seriously, making Mr. Porter feel awkward, playing games, not getting marks in October, making dorm dinners fabulous and being the best crew this boat has ever had.

Thank you Mr. and Mrs. Porter, Ms. Cabot, and Mrs. Hamilton for dealing with all of our shenanigans.
the girls:

Our collective strengths and weaknesses:

BRENNA- weakness: Liza's booty shake
LIZA-weakness: she can't rap...but she's working on it
TAYLOR- strength: being healthy
LOUISE-strength: facial expressions
JAMIE -weakness: when the cute little preschoolers are selling food in the MCR "50 cents!"
BRI- strength: making ramen
EUNICE-weakness: giving hugs
BERTIE -strength: winning life (not the game...real life)
ALY-strength: studying in the hallway
ELLEN-strength: licking elbows (specifically Mr. Porter's)
ANNIE- strength: checking into dorm on time
SOLA- weakness: Mrs. Roach
MOLLIE-weakness: being poked in the sides
SARA-weakness: her listening ears
CASEY-weakness: her attraction to Eunice
MARY- strength: turning off her alarm clock
MORIAH- strength: entertaining herself
ZOE-strength: her muscles

A typical night on dorm: Sara tries to mooch food off of a senior. Eunice runs away from Casey. Casey runs after Eunice. Ellen and Mr Porter dominate apples to apples. Sola is telling a story about Mrs. Roach. Annie is thawing her underwear while telling uncomfortable jokes. Bertie is climbing on her door. Louise and Taylor are having secret conversations across the hall. Moriah is not in her room. Mollie says something vaguely inappropriate but extremely amusing. Brenna is in a laundry hamper. Jamie is too sweet for her own good. Bri is singing Trey Songz. someone who is not Aly is brushing Aly's teeth. Zoe is jamming out to Beyonce while Liza shows off her dance moves. and Mary is trying to put all these crazy kids to bed.

To Mom and Dad – you guys have been there for me through and through. I love you both, Ellie – Having you at school this year was great, I hope I’m more than a 6 on the brother scale now. I love ya, Mr. Costa, Mr. Smith, Hutch, and Mr. Hammond – You’ve all been an inspiration to me – Thank you for your guidance, Vince Vaughn – you’re my idol, stay beautiful, To all my friends – I’ll miss you so much, Class of 2012 – It’s been an extraordinary 4 years, Thanks for the memories!
Alec—Childer’s grandmother always buys him pants that are too tight. Then he has to return them and get the right size.

Lisa—Remember last night? That was fun. Andrew—For every time you were the only one who knew what I was talking about. And freshman year history. Ann—I feel like every time I’ve ever talked to you, I’ve wound up laughing. Bang—For every “ohhhhhhh” moment we’ve had in English class. Buie—Every time you agreed to passively hold my hand <3. Annie IM—Anno the transsexual orphan. Manne. Manuela. Most of all, BESHT FWIEND. Sadies Annie M—Yay for all of our talks and for our similar summer experiences. Austin—True salt is leaving when you are not crowned the saltan. Julian—We survived physics. It is a bond that cannot be broken. Casey—Remember when we laughed so hard we puked? Chaitanya—we made it through three years of vegetarian ridicule. Save the cows, my friend. Charlie—Your smile could light up any room. Courntey Chang—I love you for always, Baby Bitch. Sam—We survived Theologies of the Oppressed. Sort of. David—So this guy’s name is Ted, right? “WRONG”, Davis—Someday someone’s going to find something in the cornfields and be very confused. Dayton—I have a video of you doing the princess wave. Don—Thanks for always telling me to stand up straight. I’ll always have slightly better posture because of you. DuyAnh—You understand economics far better than I ever will. Liz—I love you more than the number of times you ever twirled your hair. Libby—Someone once told me that you looked like a sexy woodland fairy. I forget who, but I think this was the proper way to pass along that complement. Lydia—Remember when I switched your underwear drawer? Emerson—The woods.. will miss your leadership…. Emily G—you are my soulmate. Hispanic at the disco will make us millions. Then we can buy a house and live in it together. Emily V—I don’t know if I ever told you this, but you have my favorite laugh in the world. Florian—Remember when we were on the callwalks and thought that the security guard had caught us but it was really Joach? Gut times… Cesca—Remember when we went canoeing with James and Matt? Thank for introducing me to the rope swing. Ben—Remember when we played the hook up game for about an hour? Gowy got mad, but let’s face it we are damn good at that game. Saliba—When I picture you fifteen years from now, it will be in the spongebob costume covered in blood… Seeks—You give the best pep talks on earth. Graham—That was so tight buthole.” Haley—Let’s talk some more about Mary’s flashlight. Hank—My mother likes you more than she likes me. She told me. Ho-Chan—You should write Obama’s speeches. And everyone’s. Ike—Mr. Childer’s is that a wallet…. Unfortunately, it wasn’t a wallet. Jake—I’ll take you on in any sport. Let’s go. Jay—Monogamy, which, if I’m not mistaken, means belief in one God.” Jack—GobserveOn gives out handies. I mean candles. James—Remember when you told me to go poop on myself? I do. Jawhar—For all the variations of your names I’ve said ever. Jeff—Did you ever streak to Amos? I seem to recall a bet… John K—I hope you haven’t beaten me up yet. Jimac—All I can think of is the word “Argyle”. I think it has something to do with the Christmas photos. Julio—H!YA! (english class). Mrs. Taylor once told me we have excellent stage chemistry. Kara—Remember that photo of you playing tennis? I do. Karen—Do you still have that Hello Kitty cup? I may not remember anything else about chemistry. Katherine—You are the sweetest person ever. I literally want you to raise my children. Katie Tothman—Remember freshman year when you tried to give me a wedgie but wound up picking me up by my pants and then they ripped in half? Kathryn Priester—Uncle Jerry just wants to show you how much he cares.” I love you. And your mom. PETER… SHADOW… Kevin—You have the best style in the grade. Khary—I still have a video of you singing “Our Song” on my computer. You are the next Taylor Swift, my friend. Lucy C—For all my firsts that you have been a part of <3. Lucy I—Process completed. Mady Thomas—I am lost without a place to rest my head. Molly—It was mo mo, not mustard. Maggie—You should thank me when you get your first Grammy, because I put it on my senior page. Martina—I thought you were tall freshman year… Carolyn—I remember the first day freshman year you gave me a big hug. I wasn’t a hugger back then, but now I’m going to miss coming home to them. Mary—Remember when you spit water all over Casey? Win. Mason—All the freshman girls still tell me how cute you are. Gripp—Serena. Mike—Hi, How are you? Nina—Twenty years from now, everyone’s going to be saying, “What’s the swerve?” Livvie—She got a donk. Freshman brushhandwash. Tolani—Remember when you tried to teach me how to jerk? Sorry you had to see that. Parkito—Mrs. Bender, Yikes, Peter—When I talk to you, it makes me question everything. Well, mostly I just question why I talk to you. Sky—I never really liked you that much. Ricky—I hope you kept the pink and purple sign I made you. Bobby—Thanks for all the talks. I think that pillow is still in the piano room. Rob—I probably still owe you a refund. Robin—You’re the best. Thank you for Kpop. And your dancing. Sangmin—I voted for you sophomore year. Selena—Maybe lymph nodes are a figment of the imagination. Like the brain.” Serena—Gripp. Sola—My favorite sport to watch is you and Annie fighting. Sydney—We survived acting 2. Circle time. Thomas Cahill—I never told you, but I really like your hair. Troy—I’ll never forget the night that Mrs. Matuk walked into the Gehagan room… Will Maas—(hand shake) Willie—That beach trip was AWESOME. Too bad I failed my math summer homework.

Thank you all.

To the CLASS OF 2013: thanks so much for all of the wonderful memories. To all of you who have gotten to know me pretty well, thanks for being awesome friends (you all know who you are). I will never forget any of you and look forward to seeing you guys again over the coming years.

Kevin: I will never forget the late night game sesh’s we had, the interesting accumulation of gas masks, bazookas, and other objects in our room, the endless laughs, jokes, and moments that inevitably are what characterize four years of roommate life. To be frank, I’ve never met a person like you. I have never met a person with so much energy and passion before coming to St. Andrew’s. Your love of life and the present moment is infectious and has undoubtedly changed me for the better. Thanks for being a great friend/roommate (Keep touch).

Mrs. Schuller: Thank you for all of your college support. I could have never done it without your wonderful guidance!!!

Connor: My bro! Have a great few years at St. Andrew’s; you’ll be great.

Hutch: Thanks for being a great advisor and friend; thanks for being friendly right from the get-go. For welcoming me into the community the first few weeks of school and for bringing me into your family from that moment on. I will never forget the good times as your advisee and will visit often.

Shout out to my Flemingers:
Matt Gore, Michael Alexander, Nick Mayo, Chris Tull, Andrew Coleman, Mercer, Rock Jennings, Evan Zhong, Bay George, Praphul Unghana, Luke Baumann, Jay Jacobs, Peter Stanberry, and Spencer Peet. You guys have made this year wonderful and I thank you for that. In the big scheme of things, your time at St. Andrew’s is transient. Cherish it.

To all of my teachers and the faculty at large who have graced my life; thanks so much for all you have done; you have changed me in more ways than you can ever imagine and have created in me a desire to truly discover what’s out there.

To the Staff members, especially Larry, Gary, Joan and Norm, Juan, Pizza, Mr. Massett, Chef Ray, and many others who I have not mentioned although you may never read this, thanks for being there and lending an ear.

Thank you St. Andrew’s!

Michael: Thank you for not killing me after 4 hyper, overly energetic, sleep deprived, fun overloaded years as my roommate. You are my best friend and I’ll miss you.

Peter Whetstone: Thanks to you we have had more adventures, near-death experiences, part building ramps, surf hunting trips, house parties, picnics, and fun in general than the entire school combined.

To the mobile tea response unit thank you all for sharing a dubious cuppa tea with me.

My best friends and
my number one fans, thank you. Without you two, I would be nowhere and you guys inspire me to do my best every day. You
two mean the world
to me.
I love you.

What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters

You two are simply amazing and the best grandparents anyone could ask for. While I may be away next year, you two will always be with me.
I love you.
If it makes you happy, do it. If it doesn’t, then don’t.

Thank you to the St. Andrew’s family for four wonderful years. I wouldn’t be the person I am today without your guidance.

To Emily, Robin, Annie, Carolyn and Rachel:
“Remember last night? That was fun.” This is all. Thank you for being a wonderful support system for me and for creating countless memories of laughs and giggles that will forever be with me. You will never know how many times I’ve been at my limit only to be comforted by your guys. You all hold a special place in my book.

To Ann:
Thank you for being there. The Haitian and my Jamaican. Words can’t explain how invaluable your friendship is to me (and how much I’m going to miss your calming moments whenever my Caribbean temper got too high. Thank you for teaching me the difference between what makes me the happiest and encouraging me to do what’s right for me and instead of what’s right for others. I needed that.

To Del:
To put it simply, you are wonderful in every which way, manner, and form.

“PARQUITO!”

Don’t forget the things you should remember. Don’t remember the things you should forget.

To Ginna:
As a write this the night this is due, none of our jokes can be remembered or any of the times we’ve been incapacitated with laughter. What I can tell you is that I’ve enjoyed every minute of our friendship and though we fight like sisters, I wouldn’t trade our “twinship” for anything else. Nevermind I’d trade you for Trey. 😜

Casey: Thank you for being on the same page with me. We both know math would not be the same.

Libby: Stop growing. I don’t want to come back for reunion and only come up to your waist. 😜 Thank you for being a constant in my life.

If you don’t do foolish things when you’re young, you won’t have anything to smile about when your old.

To my Freshman Girls:
Have fun in your next three years. Okay? Dress up and go to all the raves. Wear your best (or worst) outfits to Yay Day! Sing campfire songs at your class campfire. Scream on dorm. Laugh at yourself every once in a while. Don’t take life so seriously. No, but really though. Make your time at St. Andrew’s full of fun and memories. Do those foolish things. There’s no other way to live.

Mom + Steph: Thanks for always being my support system. No matter how stressed out I am, you guys make life so much easier. You always keep me check, and remind me of where I come from. I don’t know what I would do without you guys. <3

McLean family: You’re the best second set of family a girl could ask for! Thanks for all the talks, laughs, and just simply offering your home as a hangout spot. I love you!!

Lisa: My partner-in-crime, sister from another mother, most likely godmother to my future children! What am I going to do without you making me look humble as you continuously complain about the world? JK. Thanks for keeping me sane and stopping me from the times I was about to jump somebody.

Jackson: How ironic is it that you’re the realest person I know yet you refuse to be called by your real name? Also no matter how much I threatened you, I could never dream of not being friends with you. Don’t ever doubt that you’ll do great things in life. You can already check off that you’re the world’s greatest friend.

Hunter: Secret Lovers aren’t secret if you tell everyone ;)

Jamie: It’s crazy to think that I wouldn’t have been friends with you if it weren’t for an 8 hour bus ride in Nicaragua. Thanks for the talks, the laughs, and letting me borrow your cute pink nail polish.

Ren, Yzy, JHamilton, Tiara, and BooBoo: my dear children! Keep being wacky and smart :) Thanks for the random talks and the simple hugs. I <3 you all equally!!!

Many thanks to: The Class of 2012, the Admissions Team, Tammy, Mr. Reach, Terrell for listening to my crazy and my words of wisdom. Uncle Tony, John Klein, Claire, Nailliri, Mr. Cameron, Swallaace and Lucy Idaen and their dancing on deck. Well, this is it Class of 2012. These four years have really gone by quickly. I can still remember walking onto Hillier the first day of freshman year and not realizing what was ahead of me. My biggest regrets from these years is not taking full advantage of everything that was available to me and not taking the time to get to know each and every one of you more. All of you have played a huge part in my life and I cannot thank you enough. Thanks to all my teachers who have helped me over the years especially Whiz, Mr. Speers, and Ms. Kerrane. Thanks to my family and friends for helping me through my time at St. Andrew’s. Special thanks to Liz, Andrew, Grippo, Austin, Willy, Jack, Cahill, Sam, Sangmin, the Noxontones, Lydia, Nina, Libby, Kara, Casey, Serena, Carolyn, all my guys on Voorhees, Kevin, HoChan, Ashpole, Ike, Molly, Lucy, Lisa, Jawhar, Julio, and the Polar Bear Club. I wish I could put you all on here but there just isn’t enough space. You all made these years memorable. Andrew, you were the best roommate anyone could have asked for. It has been one crazy time.

I highly doubt shortcuts are eventually dead-end; if you’re taking my path, you would have gotten a shortcut (I have to give credit where it’s due). But chances are if you’re reading my page, you would have gotten a shortcut (that’s not a shortcut).

Instead I want to say thanks to everyone who challenged me or made me laugh or was just a part of this crazy awesome St. Andrew’s experience: staff, students, faculty and especially my family. Thanks for who you are and for helping me become myself.

Thanks to everyone for all the great memories including and not limited to: the spontaneous, the inappropriate, the mildly offensive, and the unrepeatable. Below are just a few examples:

“Are you going to bed?”
“No, I plan on standing all night” - Anonymous

“That’s the thing about light bulbs” - Anonymous

“Whaaaaaaaaaaaaahhhhh?” - Anonymous

“I think I ate too much peanut butter” - Anonymous

Sam, Grippo, Jeff, Cahill, Austin, Warker, and Willy: it’s been a blast, thanks for all the great times.

Shen Laoshi: You were always there acting as a guide for me. I will never forget your generosity. You’re the best teacher I could ever have had and I’ll never forget our Chinese class.

To my family: Thanks Mom and Dad for putting up with those long stretches of time where you lose contact with me and always looking out for me.

Mr. McLean: Thank you for being there when I needed you and fighting for me through thick and thin. You went above and beyond your duty as an advisor.

Final Clarification: I did not steal the hot dog.
Willy Meehan  -Mary McCarthy

It's over. I can't say I enjoyed all of it, but there have definitely been some fun times. All I know is that I will cherish all of the friendships and memories that I have made. Good luck to all those to come and remember, four years isn't really that long.

To the Kent Schoolers: It's been a good 13 years. We've been through too much and I think we are overdue for a break, but I'll miss you all. See you later.

Thank you Shen Lao Shi for always being there. Thank you for being true to yourself and to me. Let me give you some advice of my own: Don't overwork yourself. Because you're the best teacher and mentor and friend anyone could ever ask for.

To my ladies: lace, Rachel, Katie, Anabel, Courtney, Livvie, Dori, Lucy, Emily, Nina, Molly, Thanks to Myers for being there in my times of discipline needs in the last four years.

To all my dudes who kept me sane:
Sam, Jack, Grippo, Austin, Jeff, Sky, Rob, Workman, Mcgee, Jawor, Spencer, Dayton, Andrew, Cahill, Troby, Buic, HC, John, Julian, Sanguign, Chaitanya, Flo, Graham, Tochner, Davis, Ike, Khary, Mass, Jay, Duv, Alvin, Julio, David

Special thanks to Jack, Sam, and Grippo. You all have been my best friends and I don't think I could have gotten through without you three. Thanks for always being there and thanks for all the memories. I know that we have bright futures ahead of us and I can't wait to see where we end up. Until next time, my friends.

Thanks to everyone who put up with me through these four years. Special Thanks to Bobby, Buic, Sky, Maas, Alec, Rob and Jeff, Michael, Kevin, Jack, Plautz, Marco, Bruno, Tony and James. Also to McIlvaine, Danny and all the sophomores. I will always cherish the memories on dorm, running in the fields, swimming in the pool and hours spent on the pond. Thanks for pushing me to do things I never thought I could do and helping me have a good time doing it. Extra love to the XC team, you guys are great.

I want to thank all my roommates, classmates, teammates, coaches, and teachers who have been there for me these past three years. I’m going to miss this school, but St. Andrews would have meant much less to me without such wonderful people to share this experience with. In the words of Winston Churchill, “This is not the end. This is not even the beginning of the end. It is, instead, the end of the beginning.”

Over the past four years, I’ve met a few people who have changed my life. Especially …

Rob Rasmussen, for encouraging me and being the best training partner anyone could ask for.

Sam Kang, for tolerating my complaints when SAS’ ethos became too much for me and for being a great friend.

Mr. DeSalvo, for treating me with an endless amount of patience my sophomore year.

Mr. Brown, for introducing me to rowing and for chaperoning 11 boys as they ran wild through Henley-on-Thames.

When I get sad, I stop being sad and be awesome instead. True story.

Thank you to everyone who has made this experience so wonderful and life changing. I couldn’t have asked for a better group of people to go on this journey with. I know that no matter where I find myself in the world, I will always have a friend. And thanks to the best family in the world. I don’t think I tell you how truly awesome you are enough.

Incredible St. Andreans,

Thank you, these years are Really the most wonderful time
Of my Life, full of joyful
Laughter and precious memories.

"But I don't want to go among mad people," remarked Alice. "Oh, you can't help that," said the Cat. "We're all mad here. I'm mad. You're mad. How do you know I'm mad?" said Alice. "You must be," said the Cat, "or you wouldn't have come here.

POP, SMELLEN, MOM, AND EVERYONE ELSE:
I LOVE YOU ALL,

THANKS FOR THE MADNESS
It would be impossible to say everything here, so I won't try. I'll love all of you forever, thank you for everything. It's been real.

Thank you to my family, who made these three years possible,
To my teachers, who made them fulfilling,
And to my friends, who made them worthwhile.
Thanks to all my teachers for always being so patient and teaching so enthusiastic!
+ Thanks to all my coaches for inspiring me to always give my best for my team and St. Andrew’s. You were all great mentors for me!
+ Thanks to all my teammates for always being there for me!
+ Thanks to the boys’ dorm for always making the nights great fun. Special thanks are going to the German speakers, the family circle and all my buddies who I loved to hang out with!
+ Thanks to Rob and his family for giving me another home in America!
+ Thanks to Mr Roach and Mrs Zendt for making this great experience possible for me!
+ Thanks to all students and especially the class of 2012 for making me feel so welcome! All of you have become great friends for me!

Thank you St. Andrew’s for such a wonderful time!
I wish the best for all of you and will keep you in my heart forever!

Class of 2012 - you guys have made these last few years unforgettable. Good luck with everything and stay awesome.

Mom, Dad + Lindsay - I can't even begin to thank you for all that you do. I love you to the moon and back.

Many thanks to: Bobby, Emily V, Hale-davy-fresh, Liselin, Casey, Davis, Courtney, Pri Loomeroy, Libby, LCOPP, Emily G, Rachel, Maddy, Annie, James, Carolyn, Gracie, Mary, Nina, Tolani (and Olivia), all my girls on Moss swim team (little 3!), Ms. Demers, the Schullers, the Hawleys + Senorita. Thank you, St. Andrew's!
“To laugh often and much; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to give of one’s self; to leave the world a bit better; to have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with enthusiasm; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived—this is to have succeeded.”

These past three years have been incredible. St. Andrew’s has truly changed me, and I’m so lucky to have been a part of this class and this community. Thanks to my teachers, especially Ms. Pressman (and Social Reform ’10-11), Mrs. Roach, Senorita, Ms. O’Shea (& the Grillin & the Neptune Pirates), Mr. DeSalvo, Mr. Meier (& the photo/art majors), Ms. O’Neill, Mrs. Cottone, and Ms. Maroulk. Ms. Hastings—thank you for being my teacher, my mentor, and the best college counselor a girl could ask for. Whiz—thank you for all your wisdom and for being there. Profy—thank you for understanding, and for being there. I’m really going to miss you (and your sweaters). To Sehora, and the entire RaMiller advisory—You truly were my St. Andrew’s family. To Lova Mozz ’09-10 (for the monkey bread and the sing-a-longes), L ’10-11, and SUMA (for the manicures and the Depends. Thanks especially to the seniors & Oliver—you guys are the best). To the for’stry crew, and to Ms. Ross and Whitesell for six strong seasons on the V-Squad. To Beans, for being the hand to hold in the middle of the night. To the rest of my friends, because the laughs and the support make everything else worthwhile. To my whole crazy family, especially Annie and Angela—you are the women I aspire to be, and I would not be here without you. To Bay, because you will always be my best friend. To Dad, for always supporting me. To Mom—you are my 2 a.m. and I am so incredibly lucky to have you.

Love forever and ever.

Thanks Mom, Dad, and Cait for funding and supporting my education. It was the experience of a lifetime. The only thing that kept me sane through high school was the people so here it goes, to everyone that has inspired me: Mrs. Caldwell, Emerson, Lucy, Lucy, Alec, Hank, DGK, Jarvls, Jmac, Jake, Cottone, Carroll, Robear, and everyone else— if I love you, you know it. Thanks for shaping who I am,
Klein, Henry, Alec, Jay, DGK, Jmac, Lucy I, Lucy C, The Caldwell, Carroll, Cottone, and the many, many more that there weren’t space for. Not only did you make this ride the most fun experience of my life, but you have all taught me more than I ever could have imagined. Thank you. Mom, Dad, Lee—I never could have done it without you. Your guidance, support, wisdom, and love have made this all possible.

My name is Maggie.
This is my face.
I went to this school.
My years you can trace

through the halls,
through the woods,
through the lawn
in the spring,

through Sethe,
through hammocks,
through illegal rope swings.

These words are my parting,
I'll remember you all
and I'll be thinking of you when I'm without you next fall and the fall after that.

And though I might change,

Querido Profesor, "Gracias" no es suficiente para expresar mi gratitud, pero... Muchas gracias por sus abrazos torpes, risas, tiempo, mentiras y las conversaciones. Nada de despedidas. Siempre tu estudiante y amiga, Cape.

Many more thanks belong to Mr. Porter, the extraordinary Mrs. Kerrane, Mrs. Schuller, Mrs. Fritz, Joe Ramillers (Te amo, Chvo), Mrs. A. Ross, Mr. Roach, Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Speers, Mr. McTiff, Mrs. Gottle, Ms. Treave, Hatch, my favorite librarians, and Mrs. Daprey.

"But if the while I think on thee, dear friend, all losses are restored and sorrows end" — William Shakespeare.

Gale & Maasi: I’ll never forget all those late nights and conversations. You’ve helped me grow in ways I can’t fathom, and truly made me a better person.

Julian: Thanks for always making me laugh. Not getting any work done in the French room was so worth it. You Jurianski.

Julia: Thanks for putting up with all my whims and rants. Remember to bring your music to our next MTRU reunion.

Peter: GARRR Lilu, Elephants, Bun. Thanks for everything, Meemo, (p.s. I still regret agreeing to play chess on the cold, frozen front lawn. But chasing you with a broom was, as always, fun).

Trichen: You’ve been a true mentor. Thanks for all that you’ve given me. Rob: Become a socialist. And leave America. Yes, I still hate capitalism.

Mr. Dehalvo: You’ve been the best advisor, mentor and friend I could have ever asked for. The past three years would not be the same without you.

Mrs. Hutchinson, Mr. Ramien, Mrs. Zandi, Mr. Roach: You’ve trusted me, inspired me and always been there for me. If I’ve grown, developed, transformed over the past three years it’s all because of you. Thank you.

Mr. Childers: I got the lifetime achievement award for putting up with me through 700 class periods. 180 room inspections, a dozen fires, conferences, and a million classroom, apartment and advisor-function invasions. I hope the lesson I learned about how much all of you — and you — have meant to me, will carry me over the past three years, thank you.

Amma & Pappa: I can’t even begin to thank you for all that you’ve given me. If there is one good reason to be thankful this year.

Maasi, Vedhicka, Zuni & NDuvu: Knowing that I’m always cared for and loved, no matter the distance, makes me feel like the most fortunate person out there in the world.

Pranav & Shraddha: Thanks for everything, but I’m still not even going to try to compete any of it here.

Mrs. Srivastava: Without your smile I wouldn’t have made it through the past six years, or weather through the many ups and downs. You’ve taught me the meaning of friendship and gratitude, and shown me what really matters in life.

Annie, Bobby, Cahill, David, David, Ding, Emily, Flo, Ho-Chan, Irene, Jake, Kevin, Martin, Rick, Segalman, Shy, Willy, Schmolze ‘11-12, Mr. Alleyne, Ms. Chiu, Mr. Ennewart, Mrs. Fuer, Mr. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, Prose, Mr. O’Connell, Ms. Pehan, Mr. Reddy, Ms. Scoville, Mr. Speers, and Mrs. Vines: Thank you for making the past three years my happiest.

Any and every person whom I have been fortunate enough to know. You make me smile to the morning sunrays dancing on Notontown Pond; you are the reason I utter prayers of gratitude every night; you make life the miracle it is and give it its beauty and wonder; I’m forever grateful to have met you, and can’t thank you enough for your presence in my life.

Forever in my own little world,...

To Casey, Lisa, Sydni, Parker and Don—
I don’t know what I would have done without all of you. I couldn’t have asked for better best friends. I don’t know what I’m going to do without you guys keeping me “somewhat” in line next year. We can’t ever lose touch. I love you guys to the end of the world and back.

To Mrs. Schuller—
The past two years of my life have been pretty rough. Knowing that you will always be there to listen to my rants and my problems has served as the best form of security I could have asked for. Thank you for being a perfect advisor.

To Jessie and Tapasya—
Living in such a small dorm is tough. If you guys weren’t there to keep me sane, I don’t know what I would have done this year. Thank you for being the most perfect “roommates”.

To Kavin, Robin, Ann, Emily V, Selena, Lydla, Rachel, Casca, Zack, Susannah, Yeojin, Hunter, Bowman, Christian, Martin, Dia, Bri, Nolan, Jay, Tom, Tiara, and Madeleine—You guys have been great friends throughout the years. Make sure we never lose touch.

I remember looking through senior pages at the end of my freshman year and thinking “Wow, it’s going to be forever until I have to think about senior year.” Well, forever arrived much faster than I thought it would.

Thank you St. Andrew’s for a wonderful 4 years

There are so many people to thank for making my four years at SAS memorable. So I will simply say thank you to everyone that was there for me from the Swamp Walk to my final moments on campus. I will never forget everything I experienced and learned at St. Andrews. To The Fam, I wish you the best in the years to come and thank you for helping make this experience real.

To the Class of 2012, I can honestly say there is no replacement for the relationships I have made with each and everyone of you. Thank you for every laugh and all the good times. Finally to my mom and dad, thank you for the love and support through everything.

Friendship... is not something you learn in school. But if you haven't learned the meaning of friendship, you really haven't learned anything. -Muhammad Ali
Every Adventure begins with Running Away from Home...
Mom and Dad- I love you, thank you for everything. Elizabeth and Eddie- I am so lucky to be stuck between the two of y'all. Mrs. Zendt- I am amazed that you have put up with me for three years and so thankful for all the love and guidance you have given me...I will always be your advisee. EG- You are the best at jumping with me in the good times and bringing my q-tips when I am sad. CC- I am so glad to have found such a great friend and roommate who is as bad as doing laundry as I am. RS- I will miss eating chocolate covered fruit with you. IA- Remember when I accidentally said I love you our second week dating? Well I meant it then and still mean it now. LI- You are an incredible listener and friend and I will miss our shower conversations after swimming. GS- You are so much fun and the image of you wobbling on the table in your cream hunter socks will be in my mind forever. LL- I will miss singing with you on the front lawn at night. MB- Touched ya last! Freshmen girls- You are crazy! I have loved spending the year with you! Teachers and friends- Through all the crazy, fun, sad, and awkward moments of the last four years you have supported me and I am so thankful. Saint Andrews- I love you!

Stuff St. Andreans Say...

"Are you going across?"

"Can you take us to WaWa?"

"Let's go find people."

"Is that happening?"

"FREEEEEEAAAAAAY."

Who's speaking in chapel?

"Is it classroom dress or haycock?"

"I actually have so much work."

"So I'm starting a new club...

"I didn't get ANY work done during study hall."

"I'll just take the marks."

"Can I look at your dresses?"

"Are you going to dinner?"

"Can you see my leg hair? Nevermind—I'll just wear tights."

Stuff Nobody Says...

"YAY! CHICKEN!"

"Thank God it's Friday."

"Let's go hang out in the student center."

"Can I look at your blazers?"

Every year, the challenge placed on the yearbook staff is how to capture What Happened. We collect photographs and stories. We document school events. We say goodbye to the senior class. In the end, though, this book, by itself, says nothing about what actually happened. All of our work would mean nothing without you, and the memories you recall as you flip through these pages and look at the photos. We hope that someday you can pull this book off of the shelf and it will help you remember this community, these people, this place, and the time we spent here.

To the classes of 2013, 2014, and 2015: make every day here count, because it will be over before you know it.

Thank you to the Griffin staff and the junior editors for all the laughs, cookies and bonding. A special thanks to Ms. O’Shea for putting up with us and guiding us. Good luck next year!

Love,
Your senior editors:
Haley George, Parker Williamson, Mary Wilson and Casey Schuller
